WAYSIDE GLEANINGS.

Random Observations and Local Events of Lesser Magnitude.

Visit tropical California tonight. A trip to California for 25 cents this evening.

Union service at the Methodist church tomorrow evening under the auspices of the American Bible Society.

The Endeavorers of the Christian church will give a "blue jay" social on Friday evening, Nov. 5th.

Ninety head of cattle were brought up on the boat last evening and are awaiting shipment to Arlington.

This (Saturday) evening another delightful dance will be given at the Baldwin. Admission for gentlemen 50 cents, ladies free. 28-3t

Two carloads of hogs were brought down from Grants last night and at present are in the stock yards. They are consigned to the Union Meat Co. at Troutdale.

Otto Anderson, a boy at the state reform school, fell on a revolving wood-saw Tuesday. His right elbow and the right hand between the fore and middle fingers were badly cut. His forefinger had to be cut off.

This morning J. A. Mortman, who is employed on a wood saw, got his hand too close to the rapidly revolving disk and had it quite severely lacerated. Dr. Hollister attended to it, and he is getting along very nicely.

Today Harry Clough put a new lock on the door of the vault in the recorder's office, which is a commendable idea for it is not well to have the books and valuable papers that are contained therein where they can be approached by every one.

Yesterday evening the little daughter of Mr. Slade, the hotel keeper at Grants, fell down a flight of stairs into the cellar and injured herself internally. Dr. Hollister was summoned, and when he left her this morning she was on a fair way towards recovery.

A number of the members of the Odd Fellows lodge of this city and their wives went out to Dufur this afternoon in Ward & Robertson's wagonette, and will this evening visit the lodge at that place. The president of the Rebekahs, Mrs. Ida Foster, was one of the number.

The little child of Mr. and Mrs. Farrington, of Eugene, was quite seriously burned at the family residence, Monday. The child was standing in front of the stove, when in some manner its clothing caught fire. Its clothing and hair were burned and its fingers badly blistered.

The president yesterday appointed Zoeth Houser United States marshal for the district of Oregon and Owen Summers of Portland appraiser of merchandise in the district of Willamette. Henry S. Pritchett of Missouri was also appointed superintendent of the coast and geodetic survey.

The Epworth League entertainment at the Baldwin last night was a success in every sense of the word. The program from beginning to end was well arranged and entertaining. Especially beautiful and appropriate were the tableaux, while the ladies' quartet was undoubtedly one of the finest that we have ever heard in The Dalles.

Miss Helen Kelleher, the accomplished and talented lecturer, will be at the Congregational church this evening. She will speak of California and give a series of interesting views of our sister state. No one, whether young or old, should fail to take advantage of this opportunity of learning so much in such a delightful manner and at so little cost.

A surprise party was given last night by some of the school children to little Myrtle and Addie Lewis at the residence of Mrs. Parkins, where they are at present staying. About twenty-five of the little ones gathered, and a delightful evening was spent in playing games and partaking of refreshments. The two little girls left this morning for Fairview, where they will visit their father.

The Lutheran bazaar at the Vogt opera house next Wednesday and Thursday will be an attraction of beauty, and the articles for sale will not only be of the greatest variety, but also of fine quality. The Lutheran ladies propose to sell these articles at the real market value, and those who patronize them will not only help a good cause by aiding the Lutheran ladies in the effort to furnish their church, but will also get their full money's worth in the articles they buy.

An exchange tells the following: A lady died, and while the pall-bearers were conveying her to her last resting place, by some mishap they stumbled and dropped the corpse. The concussion brought the deceased back to life and she lived six or seven years and died again. On the way to the grave they passed over the same ground, and when the pall bearers reached the identical spot where the stumble had been made the previous service, the grief-stricken husband stopped in front of those bearing the remains of his lamented wife and said, "Steady boys, steady."

The Antelope Herald of yesterday contains the valedictory of its editor, E. M. Shutt. This new and well-conducted paper has changed hands, and in future will be run by the present city recorder, M. E. Miller, who, being a bright young man, will undoubtedly endeavor to conduct this sheet in future in the excellent style in which Mr. Shutt conducted it heretofore. Mr. Shutt intends going to Heppner, where he will establish a new paper known as the Heppner Times. While we wish Mr. Miller all success in his position as editor of the Herald, at the same time we wish Brother Shutt an equal amount of success in his new field.

The O. R. & N. has also made up a winter schedule for its water lines on the Columbia between Portland and Astoria which, like the one for rail lines, will go into effect Monday. The steamers to operate this winter are the R. R. Thompson, Bailey Gatzert and Lurline. The Thompson and the Lurline will leave Portland at 8:00 p. m., and the Bailey Gatzert at 7:00 a. m. Leaving Astoria the Thompson and Lurline are scheduled for 6:45 a. m., and the Bailey Gatzert for 7:00 p. m. No Sunday night boat will be run from Portland and no Saturday night boat from Astoria. The tickets will be interchangeable, though running independent. There will be no boat leaving the dock at the foot of Alder street, and no night boat will leave the O. R. & N. dock at Astoria.

The Oregonian's Oration of Miss Kelleher's Lecture.

The lecture and its wealth of illustrations proved not only novel, but unusually interesting, and the charm and grace with which Miss Kelleher delivered it made it doubly attractive and appreciable. In the capacity of a well-informed guide she accompanied her interested audience from Portland to the extreme southern portion of California over the Southern Pacific lines, with side trips to the Yosemite valley, Lake Tahoe and other well-known resorts. There were glimpses of rugged mountain scenery found in the Siskiyou and Cascade ranges, and in striking contrast were the series of beautiful views of the famous citrus belt and the almost tropical landscapes of Santa Barbara, Del Monte and Los Angeles. The enjoyable trip was made in less than two hours, and when Yuma was reached and the delighted audience bidden good night, everyone present went home well pleased with the entertainment.

The views presented along the route have been chosen with excellent taste, bringing out prominent features of the scenic route. The huge trestlework on the summit of the Siskiyou mountains, the view of Shasta and the trip made to her summit was exceptionally fine. The headwaters of the Sacramento river were shown, and the clear, crystal-like waters dashing over the rocky bed, surging through narrow canyons, widening as it grew in length, would hardly be recognized as the same muddy, crawling stream of water one sees from Red Bluff southward to the ocean.

The most striking scenes given, and of the character of which Miss Kelleher was fully informed, were the various resorts of California. That of Santa Catalina, an island in the Pacific, was particularly fine, but hardly less so than India, a palm desert, now a great resort for consumptives. The views of San Francisco, some of its new buildings, Golden Gate park and the Cliff house were also worth seeing.

On Monday night Miss Kelleher delivered the same lecture at Taylor-street church for the benefit of the Camera Club in this city, when a number of Oregon slides were used to give those present a chance to view some of the scenery in their own state.

Cole's Air Tight and Hot Blast HEATERS ARE THE BEST

They heat a room in five minutes. They save enough fuel the first year to pay for the stove. 4 cents a day is the average cost of heating a large room with our stoves. They burn anything and everything combustible. A cord of wood equals a ton of hard coal in any of our wood heaters. It is only necessary to remove ashes once in six weeks from our wood stoves. They are safe and have a catch to hold the cover while putting in fuel. You have a fire every morning. Our hot blast draft furnishes a hot air feed, not cold air, and saves fuel. They are easily moved and set up. Our wood stoves are made with either sheet iron or cast iron tops in all sizes, for all purposes. They are jointless the connections being so made that the greater expansion of the lining don't affect the body. There are no bolts exposed to the fire to burn off or draw or open up a joint. Our coal stove will burn slack and makes a ton of soft coal equal to a ton of hard coal.

BEWARE of infringers and inferior imitations, they never equal the original and cost as much.

Trifles at Home.

Moths do not love the light. A well-lighted storeroom is valuable. The one thing for which lace paper may be used, and may be considered good form on a table, is for cheese. Carafes may stand on the table and the water be served from them. The waitress in serving the guests should use a pitcher. Fiber matting is one of the pretty floor coverings of the season which are serviceable. It is very pretty, inexpensive and durable. Rolls served in the napkin at luncheon or dinner should be plainly visible or there is danger of a shower of rolls, which would be embarrassing to both guests and hostess when the napkin is opened.—Chicago Record.
