THE GREAT THEORIST

All New York Regrets His Death.

REPUBLICAN VICTORIES ASSURED

The Election Outside of New York City Remarkably Quiet and Devoted of Interests.

New York, Oct. 30.—The committee in charge of the funeral of Henry George has arranged the following order of services:

From sunrise on Sunday until sunset the same day, the body of the great leader will lie in state in the Grand Central Palace. Ushers will be present to direct the people in their passage before the platform upon which the body will rest. Every one who feels the single-heartedness of Henry George's life work is invited to be present at this ceremony. A brief service will be held Sunday afternoon. Afterward there will be a procession down Broadway to the city hall and over the bridge to the Brooklyn city hall. The remains will be escorted to the home of Mr. George at Fort Hamilton, where the body will remain till Monday afternoon, when the interment will be made in the Greenwood cemetery.

John Brisben Walker will be chief marshal.

Fifty thousand workmen, members of unions, will participate in the march of honor. The central labor union of this city, with its 60 affiliated bodies, 30,000 strong, and the Brooklyn central labor union, 20,000 strong will make up that tremendous body.

To Succeed Murphy.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—The president has appointed John H. Hall United States attorney for the district of Oregon.

No explanation has been made why the appointment of Mr. Hall as district attorney was held back. The appointment was certainly made yesterday, as the president left Washington yesterday afternoon. It is said that the failure to announce it was due to an error in the department of justice. Hall received his commission before he left today, and will take charge of the office as soon as he returns home.

The appointment of the men recommended by the delegation, notwithstanding the protests of the opposition, is explained by a close friend of McKinley, who says that the administration will not turn down a member in his district or a delegation, unless there are grave reasons for so doing.

The delegation was extremely anxious to have action taken upon their recommendations before congress met and the senate committee reported on the Corbett case, as a favorable report would give him such standing to materially interfere with the delegations recommendations and rights to be considered in such matters.

Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption.

This is the best medicine in the world for all forms of Coughs, Colds and Consumption. Every bottle is guaranteed. It will cure and not disappoint. It has no equal for Whooping Cough, Asthma, Hay Fever, Pneumonia, Bronchitis, La Grippe, Cold in the Head and Consumption. It is safe for all ages, pleasant to take, and, above all, a sure cure. It is always well to take Dr. King's New Life Pills in connection with Dr. King's New Discovery, as they regulate and tone the stomach and bowels. We guarantee perfect satisfaction or return money. Free

Cuts

For Cuts, simply apply two or three times a day, using enough of the Salve to cover the wound well. No injury can come from the direct application of the Salve to the open wound, as there is not an ounce of poison in a thousand pounds of Garland's Happy Thought Salve.

"I cut my hand on a piece of tin. Garland's Happy Thought Salve cured it up in a short time. I think it is the best Salve I ever used." F. F. SIMPSON, Mt. Vernon, Wash.

Wanted a Cigarette.

SPOKANE, Oct. 30.—Late Thursday night the attention of a night brakeman on the west-bound freight train was attracted near Sprague by piercing cries for help. Lying close to the track was the upper portion of a man, still conscious though both legs were cut clean from his body. What was left of the man had been able to yell lustily enough in spite of the fearful agony he must have been suffering, and his first words up to the brakeman were:

"For God's sake, give me a cigarette!" The relief asked for was furnished, and, with assistance, the man was taken to the hospital.

The dead body of another man was found a little farther on. It was that of a rather well-dressed person, and appearance indicated that it had been dragged along the track for some distance in an easterly direction. He was probably struck and dragged along by the freight. The name of the dead man was Thomas Kelly.

Apathetic Canvass in Virginia.

RICHMOND, Oct. 30.—The campaign in Virginia practically closed today. A governor, lieutenant-governor, attorney-general, and half of the senate and a full lower house are to be elected. The legislature will elect a successor in the senate to Daniel. The canvass has been an apathetic one on both sides, but the democrats will, with the holdover senators, have good majorities in both houses.

Bucklen's Arnica Ointment.

The best salve in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns, and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by Blakeley and Houghton, druggists.

The Issue in Kentucky.

LOUISVILLE, Oct. 30.—The political campaign in Kentucky virtually ended today. Probably never before in the history of this commonwealth has a campaign been carried on with more enthusiasm and energy than has this one. The free-silver question has been the chief topic of discussion in the state at large, while in the towns and cities the issues have been purely local, the financial question having been almost wholly relegated to the background.

An Off Year for Pennsylvania.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 30.—The campaign was practically closed tonight, with mass meetings here and at various points in the state. This is an off year for Pennsylvania. The only officers to be voted for are state treasurer and auditor-general. There has not been a particularly active canvass. The belief is general that Pennsylvania will roll up a big republican majority.

ENGLISH GOOD ENOUGH.

There is Seldom Any Reason for Employing Foreign Words.

Is there any reason for using a foreign language when the idea can be expressed with equal clearness, brevity, and force in our own Anglo-Saxon? Is there any sense in saying that a man has $1,000 per annum when we mean $1,000 a year? Why should we say that the people of the United States drink on an average every year so many gallons of distilled spirits per capita when we mean so many gallons each, or, we may say, a head—we may add that the words per capita are a solecism, meaning by heads. If we are to use Latin in the premises, we should consult correctness and say per caput.

What earthly reason for calling a popular hymn and tune book "Laudes Domini"? It sometimes happens that there are ideas conveyed by a foreign word which hardly have an equivalent in English. In these cases it is perhaps permissible to borrow the foreign word or phrase. For example, we possibly have no single word which is the equivalent of the French persiflage. That, however, has been adopted into our dictionaries and may be considered an English word of French parentage. But does mauvais honte express anything not conveyed by false shame? And is sang froid anything more than cool blood?

The use of foreign words and sentences is peculiarly inappropriate in inscriptions which are to be read by the plain people. When the friends of the departed Dr. Goldsmith appended their signatures to a round robin begging that the epitaph upon the poet might be in English, and when the car of literature, with wonted absolutism, said: "An English inscription would be a disgrace to Westminster abbey," he was wrong, as positive people are very apt to be. Of the millions who have read with delight "The Traveler," and "Deserted Village," and "The Vicar of Wakefield," how small a fraction of one per cent. are those who know aught of any language but English?

When the fathers and mothers, the sisters and sons of the men who died in the war for liberty and union read, with dimmed eyes, upon the monument erected by grateful countrymen the story of the virtues and sufferings of their heroes, it is hard that they should be confronted by a Latin sentence which reminds them of their ignorance of classic tongues. It is possibly well enough to have a Latin or Greek inscription in Memorial hall of Harvard university, for those who read it can look as if they understood it, but what reason for putting over the memorial of Col. Shaw and his black soldiers the Latin motto of the Cincinnati, which mocks his surviving comrades and sons of those who fell at Fort Wagner with their enforced illiteracy? As if to add to the infelicity of the situation, scholars tell us that the inscription is not even good Latin. "Reliquerunt omnia conservare rempublicam" should be "ut conservarent rempublicam." The neighboring monument on the common, erected by the state of Massachusetts to the heroes of the war, bears, fittingly, an inscription that is English throughout.—Philadelphia Press.

Faston in Nebraska.

LINCOLN, Oct. 30.—The campaign virtually closed tonight. Five tickets were in the field. Compact fusion has been perfected by the silver forces, comprising democrats, populists and free-silver republicans. Their ticket is headed by Judge J. J. Sullivan, for chief justice of the supreme court. Judge A. M. Post, the present chief justice, heads the republican ticket, and the chief fight is between these two, with odds so close, based on conservative estimates, that the plurality either way will not exceed 6,000.

Claims in Iowa.

DES MOINES, Oct. 30.—The campaign of 1897 is practically closed. The chairmen of the respective committees have issued their estimates and claims: Chairman McMillan, of the republicans, estimates a majority of at least 42,000. Chairman Walsh, of the silver democrats, claims the state by 20,000. Chairman Mullin, of the gold democrats, thinks they will poll 20,000 votes, being a balance of power. The prohibitionists claim 15,000 votes, and the middle-of-the-road populists 10,000.

A Sure Thing in Massachusetts.

BOSTON, Oct. 30.—The campaign in Massachusetts, which may be said to close tonight, has been lieless and uninteresting. The republicans, who are sure of victory, have made scarcely any fight, while the contest made by Mr. Williams lacks the energy of last year's campaign.

SUMMONS.

IN THE CIRCUIT COURT of the State of Oregon for Wasco County.

The Oregon Railroad & Navigation Company, a corporation organized under the laws of the State of Oregon, Plaintiff, vs.

Thomas J. Bulger and — Bulger, his wife, whose given name is unknown to plaintiff; D. J. Cates, George Gardiner and Fannie E. Gardiner, Defendants.

To Thomas J. Bulger, — Bulger, whose given name is unknown to plaintiff, George Gardiner and Fannie E. Gardiner, defendants.

IN THE NAME OF THE STATE OF OREGON you and each of you are hereby required to appear and answer the complaint filed against you in the above entitled action on or before the first day of the term of the above entitled court following the expiration of the time prescribed in the order for the publication of this summons, to wit: on or before the 8th day of November, 1897, that being the first day of the next regular term of said court, and if you fail to so appear and answer the complaint of the plaintiff, for want thereof the plaintiff will apply to the court for the judgment prayed for in said complaint, to-wit: For the condemnation and appropriation for a right-of-way for a railroad of a strip of land one hundred feet wide over and across the following described lands: Commencing at a point 1190 feet north from the southeast corner of the southwest quarter of section six, township two north, range eight east, in Wasco county, Oregon, thence north 70 feet to a point; thence north 56 degrees 34 minutes east, 290 feet to a point in the north boundary of the right-of-way of the Oregon Railway and Navigation Company, now Oregon Railroad and Navigation Company's right-of-way; thence southwesterly along said north boundary of said right-of-way to the place of beginning, containing 22-1/2 acres. Also another tract of land situated in said section six, described as follows, to-wit: Commencing at a point in the south boundary of the right-of-way of the said Oregon Railroad and Navigation Company, which point is 1175 feet north and 290 feet east of the southeast corner of the southwest quarter of section six, township two north, range eight east; thence north 56 degrees and 34 minutes east, 515 feet to a point on the south boundary of the said right-of-way; thence on a curve to the left with and along the said boundary of said right-of-way in a westerly course to the place of beginning, containing 47-1/2 acres; said land to be used for the relocation of the railway of said plaintiff's across said premises as provided by section 3241, Hill's Annotated Laws of the State of Oregon. And plaintiff will also take judgment for its costs and disbursements in this action.

This summons is served upon the defendants above named by publication thereof in THE DALLES CHRONICLE by order of Hon. W. L. Bradshaw, Judge of the Seventh Judicial District of the State of Oregon, made at chambers in Dalles City, Oregon, this 25th day of September, 1897.

All the Family.

With the close of the Presidential Campaign THE TRIBUNE recognizes the fact that the American people are now anxious to give their attention to home and business interests. To meet this condition, politics will have far less space and prominence, until another State or National occasion demands a renewal of the fight for the principles for which THE TRIBUNE has labored from its inception to the present day, and won its greatest victories.

Every possible effort will be put forth, and money freely spent, to make THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE pre-eminently a National Family Newspaper, interesting, instructive, entertaining and indispensable to each member of the family.

We furnish "The Chronicle" and N. Y. Weekly Tribune one year for only $1.75.

Write your name and address on a postal card, send it to Geo. W. Best, Tribune Office, New York City, and a sample copy of The New York Weekly Tribune will be mailed to you.
