WAYSIDE GLEANINGS.

Random Observations and Local Events of Lesser Magnitude.

Call at Chrisman Bros. market and get a nice salmon trout for dinner.

The music for the coming Circle ball will be furnished by Prof. Birgfeld.

License to wed was this morning issued to Mr. Arthur Edwards and Miss Tena Hester.

The Endravorers of the Christian church will give a "blue jay" social on Friday evening, Nov. 5th.

Ninety head of cattle were brought up on the boat last evening and are awaiting shipment to Arlington.

The committee on arrangements for the coming Circle ball intend that it shall be the "swell event" of the early winter.

The ladies of the Lutheran church will have a fine bazaar in the armory next Wednesday and Thursday, to which they invite everyone.

County Commissioner Blowers and his son, Lawrence, have started a store in Sumpter, Baker county. Sumpter is a live town, with plenty of business, and the new firm will, no doubt, do its share of business.

The Regulator and Dalles City each made a special trip yesterday, carrying down big loads of wheat and other freight. The Dalles City left at 6 o'clock in the morning and arrived back at about 10, while the Regulator left about 2 o'clock.

Lovers of the terpsichorean art will no doubt be pleased to learn that the ladies of Cedar Circle contemplate giving a ball about the middle of November, and lucky indeed will be the recipients of the invitations to be sent out within the next few days.

WANTED - First-class man to take charge of branch office at The Dalles for a Portland loan company. Only well known men, with best of references, need apply. Address Jas. A. Spencer, Portland hotel, Portland Or., stating age, experience and salary desired.

Rev. Hetzler, agent for the American Bible Society, occupied the pulpit of the M. E. church yesterday morning, and in the evening a union bible meeting was held in that church, the Methodists and Congregationalists visiting and listening to an account of the work of the Bible society by Rev. Hetzler.

The editor owes, and tenders an apology to the readers of THE CHRONICLE for the paucity of news contained therein today. He has been away for a whole month, and comes back from the mountains entirely ignorant of local events. He hopes to catch on again in a day or two, and to again furnish a complete resume of the festive personal and the gaudy local. For a whole month he has not had to keep track of Sarah Maria Everly going into Hoop Pole township, or the Hon. Fitzsnood Snitter having visited Cello on business. His pencil is out of hang, his intelligence under a cloud, so to speak, of it were, etc., but this will soon be all changed as he catches on.

The editor of the Morning Democrat of Baker City, in speaking of the fact that that enterprising city had no electric lights, spoke enthusiastically of the manner in which The Dalles was illuminated. Thanks, brother, awfully, but the illumination does not begin until the sun comes up, or the sly old moon makes a sneak and gets full.

A man named Gallagher made a rich strike in Quartz Gulch above the Bonanza mine, in Baker county, Thursday of last week. The dirt, 300 pounds of it, worked $20 a pound, or nearly $500 to the pan, and Gallagher claims to have several tons of it. A piece of conglomerate quartz, brecciated, weighing twelve pounds, was worth $250.

If the readers of THE CHRONICLE notice a dearth of local and a paucity of ideas in the paper today, they will undoubtedly form the opinion that the editor has come home again, and such is the fact. Home from the wilds of the Greenhorn mountains, ignorant of the happenings of the world for the past month, and consequently unable to furnish mental pabulum, even to a Dalles audience.

Yesterday morning as the O. R. & N. train pulled into Wallula an old gentleman named Miller, the justice of the peace for that precinct, walked in front of the engine and was killed instantly. The engineer saw him, but supposed he would stop until the train passed. Instead, however, seemingly unconscious of the train's approach, he stepped on the track not fifteen feet in front of the engine, and in a second was a corpse.

Those who attended Miss Kelleher's lecture Saturday night at the Congregational church felt that they had more than received their money's worth. She is a very interesting talker, and her beautifully-colored views of California are well selected and more distinct than any we have ever seen. The attendance was very good, and should Miss Kelleher ever choose to lecture again in this city she will have to secure a larger hall else the audience cannot be accommodated.

The bazaar given by the Lutheran ladies in the armory this week will be open from 2 to 6 p. m., and during this time no admission will be charged. It will also be open from 7 to 11 in the evening, and on Wednesday evening a fine musical program, interspersed with some good declamations, will be rendered. The program is under the direction of Prof. Wm. Birgfeld, and he will put forth his best effort. The Dalles orchestra, under the leadership of Mr. Birgfeld, will render some of their best music, which has been especially prepared for this occasion, and some of the leading singers in our city will participate in making the program complete.

Admission 25 cents for adults, and 10 cents for children under 12 years. No one can afford to miss the program, especially at this low price.

The social hop given at the Baldwin last Saturday evening was a successful, and consequently an enjoyable event. About thirty couples were present, and made merry until the stroke of twelve warned them that the dance was over, for none cared to break the Sabbath by dancing, and they repaired to their respective homes. These dances are becoming quite popular, and a more pleasant place to spend a few hours after a week's work could not well be found.

It is rumored that the O. R. & N. is to put on two boats to run between this city and Portland, and that the service will begin Monday. Rumor has it that the boats selected for the run are the Potter and the Harvest Queen. This sounds a little fishy for the business would not justify either boat going on the route. The service given by the D. P. & A. N. Co. has always proven satisfactory, and there is no reason why more boats should be put on than are at present employed.

Teachers' Examination.

Notice is hereby given that for the purpose of making an examination of all persons who may offer themselves as candidates for teachers of the schools of this county, the county school superintendent thereof will hold a public examination in The Dalles, Oregon, beginning Wednesday, November 10, at 1 o'clock p. m.

C. L. GILBERT, Wasco County School Supt.

Cole's Air Tight and Hot Blast

HEATERS

ARE THE BEST

They heat a room in five minutes. They save enough fuel the first year to pay for the stove.

4 cents a day is the average cost of heating a large room with our stoves.

They burn anything and everything combustible.

A cord of wood equals a ton of hard coal in any of our wood heaters.

It is only necessary to remove ashes once in six weeks from our wood stoves.

They are safe and have a catch to hold the cover while putting in fuel.

You have a fire every morning.

Our hot blast draft furnishes a hot air feed, not cold air, and saves fuel.

They are easily moved and set up. Our wood stoves are made with either sheet iron or cast iron tops in all sizes, for all purposes.

They are jointless the connections being so made that the greater expansion of the lining don't affect the body.

There are no bolts exposed to the fire to burn off or draw or open up a joint.

Our coal stove will burn slack and makes a ton of soft coal equal to a ton of hard coal.

Beware of infringers and inferior imitations, they never equal the original and cost as much.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Dr. Geisendorfer, of Arlington, is in the city.

The editor of the Times-Mountaineer is in Portland today.

D. B. Gaunt was in from his farm in Klickitat county, yesterday.

H. A. York, the Hood River druggist, was in the city last evening.

Sheridan Frank left for Portland on the delayed train yesterday.

Mr. Mielke, of the Oregon Telephone Company, was in the city last night.

Miss Nell Michell came down from Columbus this morning, and will leave for Portland tomorrow.

Judge Bradshaw, District Attorney Jayne and Douglas Dufur, court reporter, arrived home from Prineville yesterday.

J. W. Armsworthy, editor of the Wasco News, who has been in the city on business, left for his home at Wasco last night.

Hon. A. S. Bennett returned from Prineville yesterday, and left for Portland today to attend to business in the supreme court.

Mr. Henry Blackman passed down on the delayed train yesterday on his way from Pendleton to Portland. Mrs. Blackman was to have met him at the Heppner junction, but as Henry said, Mrs. Blackman knew more than he did, and did not wait for the late train, but took the first one that came along.

DIED.

In this city, Saturday, Oct. 30th, S. H. Thompson, aged 56 years.

The funeral will take place tomorrow, and the services will be in accordance with the ritual of the Woodmen of the World, of which society he was a member.

MARRIED.

In this city, Nov. 1st, at the Red Front hotel on Second street, by W. C. Curtis, pastor of the Congregational church, Arthur Edwards of Salem, Or., and Tina Hester of The Dalles.

The three-year-old boy of J. A. Johnson, of Lynn Center, Ill., is subject to attacks of croup. Mr. Johnson says he is sure that the timely use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, during a severe attack, saved his boy's life. He is in the drug business, a member of the firm of Johnson Bros., of that place, and they handle a great many patent medicines for throat and lung diseases. He had all these to select from, and skilled physicians to answer to his call, but selected this remedy for use in his own home at a time when his boy's life was in danger, because he knew it to be superior to any other, and famous the country over for its cures of the croup. Mr. Johnson says this is the best selling cough medicine they handle, and that it gives splendid satisfaction in all cases. Sold by Blakeley & Houghton.

"The worst cold I ever had in my life was cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," writes W. H. Norton, of Sutter Creek, Cal. "This cold left me with a cough and I was expectorating all the time. The remedy cured me and I want all my friends when troubled with a cough or cold to use it, for it will do them good." Sold by Blakeley & Houghton.
