BACK TWENTY YEARS.

Under the caption "The Silver Question From Way Back—A Review that Connects Matters of the Past with the Present Time," the Oregonian of Saturday takes The Dalles papers to task, but especially THE CHRONICLE, for gross misrepresentation.

THE CHRONICLE asserted that the Oregonian had advocated the free coinage of silver, which was the "gross misrepresentation" it undertook to correct. THE CHRONICLE re-asserts its statement. It will be noted that in the Oregonian's refutation it quotes from itself to prove, not only its power of prophecy, but its position on free coinage; but it goes back to 1877 and to 1878 to find in its files anything that will back its position. It says it could quote hundreds of articles similar. Perhaps it could, but they would probably be fully as ancient. It dodges the main point asserted, and that was that the Republican platforms of this state since 1890 have been free silver platforms, and it indorsed and worked for the success of the party and the success of the principles of those platforms in 1890, 1892 and 1894. It bolted only in 1896.

We have been told, on presumably good authority, that the editor of the Oregonian drew the financial plank in the Republican platform of 1890 or 1892, but whether he did or not we do not pretend to say. He can answer that question if he will. Whether he did or not, he worked for the success of the ticket, and therefore indorsed the principles of the platform.

What the Oregonian did twenty years ago is no proof of what it did four years ago, and no criterion by which what it is now doing or will do may be measured. The editor of this paper may, or may not, know anything of the history or principles of money. His sources of information have, it is true, been limited, for his ideas were formed largely from a close perusal of the Oregonian's editorials on the subject.

The fact is that the Oregonian is against John H. Mitchell, and cares but little for principles or politics so long as it can down him. It denounced Simon, but took him to its arms last winter to defeat Mitchell. It advocated the election of Quinn in preference to Ellis, though working for Northrup. It roasted Jonathan Bourne and his crowd, but joined with them to defeat the will of the party and down Mitchell. It indorsed the action of U'Ren and the Populist gang in holding up the legislature simply out of hatred to Mitchell.

But time is wasted in the enumeration; for further particulars read Cicero's description of Cataline.

A CHANGE OF SYSTEM.

One of the most remarkable cases of successful railroad management that has come to the front in the past few years is that of the O. R. & N. by Receiver McNeil. He took the road in 1894, just after the big flood, that did not leave much between Arlington and Troutdale but part of the right of way. In three months, from this wreck he brought forth a railroad, and for nearly three years despite the hard times prevailing all over the country, and the general business depression, he so managed it that it paid dividends and was restored to its owners in fine condition.

We have always believed, and we still believe, that Major McNeil's success was largely due to the clear judgment and wise management of Mr. W. H. Hurlburt, who managed the passenger department. Early and late, in season and out, Mr. Hurlburt worked to make the road the choice of all tourists. He adopted a liberal policy towards the public, and especially towards the country press. The happy results of Major McNeil's management was largely due to this. From one end of the road to the other passengers realized that they had someone looking after their comfort and their interests. Local fairs were fostered and special rates given, local grievances received prompt attention and speedy correction. Special rates were given to Portland on every opportunity, and Eastern Oregon and the metropolis were on friendly terms. The result was that while many complaints were made as to the way in which the Southern Pacific was managed, the O. R. & N. was held up as a model.

We regret to see that the liberal spirit has been changed, and that a system similar to that of the Southern Pacific is being adopted. The results will not be beneficial to the road. We do not know the present general manager of the road, but as the system changed with the management, we can only ascribe the sudden changes in the passenger department to him, and not to those under him.

Portland and Eastern Oregon are far enough apart now, and a little fostering of the sentiment of dislike will not help Portland's business.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address:

Stands at the Head.

Ang. J. Bogel, the leading druggist of Shreveport, La., says: "Dr. King's New Discovery is the only thing that cures my cough, and it is the best seller I have." J. F. Campbell, merchant of Safford, Ariz., writes: "Dr. King's New Discovery is all that is claimed for it; it never fails, and is a sure cure for Consumption, Coughs, and Colds. I cannot say enough for its merits." Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds is not an experiment. It has been tried for a quarter of a century, and today stands at the head. It never disappoints. Free trial bottles at Blakeley & Houghton's drug store. 1

Thousands are Trying It.

In order to prove the great merit of Ely's Cream Balm, the most effective cure for Catarrh and Cold in Head, we have prepared a generous trial size for 10 cents. Get it of your druggist or send 10 cents to ELY BROS., 58 Warren St., N. Y. City.

I suffered from catarrh of the worst kind ever since a boy, and I never hoped for cure, but Ely's Cream Balm seems to do even that. Many acquaintances have used it with excellent results.—Oscar Ostrum, 45 Warren Ave., Chicago, Ill.

Ely's Cream Balm is the acknowledged cure for catarrh and contains no cocaine, mercury nor any injurious drug. Price, 50 cents. At druggists or by mail.

Teachers' Examination.

Notice is hereby given that for the purpose of making an examination of all persons who may offer themselves as candidates for teachers of the schools of this county, the county school superintendent thereof will hold a public examination in The Dalles, Oregon, beginning Wednesday, November 10, at 1 o'clock p. m.

Wasco County School Supt.

"The worst cold I ever had in my life was cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," writes W. H. Norton, of Sutter Creek, Cal. "This cold left me with a cough and I was expectorating all the time. The remedy cured me and I want all my friends when troubled with a cough or cold to use it, for it will do them good. Sold by Blakeley & Houghton."

This is the very best Smoking Tobacco made.
