Saturday, a week ago, E. Bunyard, while at work with a team at White Horse, in Harney county, was kicked by a horse, and a loaded wagon ran over him, inflicting injuries, from which he died later.

The invitations for the ball to be given by the Cedar Circle on Friday, November 19th, have been issued. The ball will take place in the Vogt, and promises to be one of the swell events of the season.

Mr. E. S. Gordon, proprietor of the new Tygh flouring mills, is in the city, arriving this afternoon. He tells us the mill will be ready to start work in about ten days, and that it will have a capacity of fifty barrels a day.

The Commercial club rooms presented a busy appearance all day. Members of the club have suddenly taken a great interest in the new quarters, and the way new furniture is being unpacked, pictures put in place, and so forth, is a caution.

Leo F. Bruen and wife and John McAllister and wife, the two happy couples whose marriage notices appeared in yesterday's issue, came over from their respective homes in Klickitat yesterday and took dinner at the Umatilla. They were met at the door of the dining hall by some Dalles friends and showered with rice as well as good wishes for their future happiness. They leave tomorrow for Portland and the Sound cities, on their wedding trip.

One hundred and eighty-three pupils are now enrolled at the Lakeview school, which is just one less than there were at any time during the last term. It is thought that the 200 mark will be reached before the end of the present term.

Wood & Black, horsebuyers from Greencastle, Ind., are in Burns, Harney county, for the purpose of purchasing 400 head of horses and mares, and 300 head of mules. Only horses weighing 1100 pounds and upward are wanted.

The following is the bowling score for the week ending Saturday at the Umatilla house alley: Monday, Nolan 57; Tuesday, Bradshaw, 50; Wednesday, T. Kelly, 49; Thursday, Reavis, 54; Friday, Estebennet, 62; Saturday, W. Birgfeld, 63; Sunday, Birgfeld, 65.

Chas. Jones and Ed Marshall will appear before Justice Filloon today, charged with larceny from a dwelling. As this is the third or fourth time that Marshall has been tried for a like charge, it would be well if the court gave him a sentence that he would remember.

Logging camps all along the lower Columbia are just now filled with life and activity. The price of logs continues to up, and loggers are consequently happy. Vast bodies of timber land, for several years past practically of no value, are certain to prove desirable holdings in the near future.

The Daily Astorian says: "Fall fishing this season has been the poorest in years. Seiners and gillnetters make little above expenses." This may be true of the lower river, but the fishermen in this vicinity have no such complaint to make. On the contrary they say that it has been one of the best fall seasons for some years.

Anyone who has any doubts as to whether or not Eastern Oregon can raise fruit that is second to none in the land, should see some of the apples which are at The Dalles Commission Co. They are of different varieties, large, free from worms and other pests, and as delicious as anyone could desire, and were raised by Frank Garlow at 8-Mile.

Five men are in the Colfax jail on suspicion of being the murderers of Orville Hayden, a popular young man of Farmington, who was waylaid, robbed and killed by highwaymen last week. The robbers had a few minutes before held up two other young men, and after robbing and binding them hand and foot, laid them in a fence corner where they witnessed the holding up and murder of Hayden. As there were only two highwaymen, three of the prisoners under suspicion must be innocent.

The Klamath reservation Indians, of the Klamath agency division, finished threshing last Monday. The crop yielded 9943 bushels—wheat, 5024 bushels; oats, 3393; rye, 1449; barley, 77. The total yield of grain for any half dozen years put together would probably not equal this season's yield alone. The Indians are delighted with the results of their labors, and highly appreciate the encouragement given them by their farmer, George Horn. If the weather continues good they will seed quite an acreage to wheat this fall.

The Crook county Journal reports a rich strike in the Ochoco mines near Prineville, saying the McCallisters boys had run a tunnel through the ore and ninety feet beyond without knowing it, and that the ore was only discovered by its slacking and falling down. This speaks strongly for the McCallisters energy but is not a strong endorsement of their knowledge of mining. The ore is said to work nearly $80 to the ton, and the ledge to be three feet thick.

A Crook County Mine.

Crook county has a wealth-producer of her own, almost at the very door of Prineville. For more than ten years George and Lewis McCallister, two brothers, have worked faithfully and earnestly on a mining claim in the Ochoco district, putting all their spare time and all the money they earned on the outside in development work. While others thought their chance visionary, or at best uncertain, the faith of the brothers never wavered. They sunk a shaft some sixty feet deep, which they were obliged to abandon because of the flow of water, and their inability to procure necessary pumping machinery. They then ran a 400-foot tunnel into the mountain, with the design of intercepting the ledge. In doing this, as they afterwards discovered, they passed through the ledge and ran the tunnel ninety feet beyond it. The ledge was discovered by the slacking of the ore through exposure to the air, and the falling of chunks of rock into the tunnel.

A few weeks ago about 2½ tons of the ore was hauled down to Prineville, and shipped by Joe Howard and Dr. Belknap to the Tacoma smelting works. The returns arrived last week in the form of a check for $152.28. The exact amount of ore smelted was 4458 pounds. The yield was 3.92 ounces of gold per ton, worth $20 an ounce, and 25.7 ounces of silver per ton, worth 58½ an ounce, making a total yield of $79.73 per ton. The cost of smelting was $9 a ton, and the freight from Prineville to The Dalles was one cent a pound, and from The Dalles to Tacoma $24. After deducting cost of freight from Prineville to Tacoma and cost of smelting, there is a net balance on this less than two tons and a quarter of ore of more than $100.

Cole's Air Tight and Hot Blast HEATERS

ARE THE BEST
They heat a room in five minutes.
They save enough fuel the first year to pay for the stove.
4 cents a day is the average cost of heating a large room with our stoves.
They burn anything and everything combustible.
A cord of wood equals a ton of hard coal in any of our wood heaters.
It is only necessary to remove ashes once in six weeks from our wood stoves.
They are safe and have a catch to hold the cover while putting in fuel.
You have a fire every morning.
Our hot blast draft furnishes a hot air feed, not cold air, and saves fuel.
They are easily moved and set up.
Our wood stoves are made with either sheet iron or cast iron tops in all sizes, for all purposes.
They are jointless the connections being so made that the greater expansion of the lining don't affect the body.
There are no bolts exposed to the fire to burn off or draw or open up a joint.
Our coal stove will burn slack and makes a ton of soft coal equal to a ton of hard coal.

BEWARE of infringers and inferior imitations, they never equal the original and cost as much.
MAIER & BENTON.
