WEDNESDAY - NOVEMBER 10 1897

ONE ROUND OF POLITICS.

There was a time when political campaigns were incidents, when, like Christmas and Thanksgiving, they had their times and seasons. This is all changed, and one political comedy is not off the boards until another is on. The smoke of the battle of '96 had not cleared away before the armies were being drafted for the battle of '97. That has passed, but already the lines are being arranged for the fight of '98, in which Oregon will fire the first gun.

And so it goes, and so it seems it is to continue to go, getting worse and thicker year by year. It is not because we are turning our attention to politics as a nation, but because elections that thirty or forty years ago were considered of not much importance, have come to be considered of national import. The election of Greater New York brought out as many votes, or about as many, as were cast in the whole thirteen original states. The city elections in New York, Chicago, Philadelphia and other large states are of as large proportions as the state elections of a few years ago.

In the course of fifty years or less, if the country continues to grow, life will become one joyous round of politics, and business will have to be abandoned.

The telegrams announce that Durrant will be, or was, taken this morning before Judge Bahrs at San Francisco to have the date of his execution set. It was the impression that there would be no further delay, and that Friday, Nov. 12th, would see the sentence enforced. The Durrant case presents some remarkable features, and the conclusion reached by the jury that Durrant was guilty has met with almost universal public approval. If he is guilty as charged, he is certainly one of the most cold-blooded and depraved creatures that ever appeared in human form; and the more speedily he is removed from earth the better. We have always believed that Durrant could tell a story that would implicate others, but whether he can, or will, remains to be seen. He is stolid, unmoved and remorseless, and will probably keep his lips sealed, and pose as an innocent man to the fall of the curtain.

The whaling fleet having been caught in the ice in Behrings sea, steps are being taken towards sending the men on the imprisoned vessels relief. It is stated that the ships are all short of supplies. It can be understood how men in the wild rush for gold into the inhospitable regions of Alaska, where transportation of supplies is almost an impossibility, can be short of provisions; but how or why men with a sailing vessel to carry hundreds of tons, should get in this condition is inconceivable. The poor devils of sailors are, of course, not to blame, but if the owners of the vessels, who, moved by greed alone, fail to provide their ships, they should be indicted and hanged if death is caused by their acts. This would stop the practice of sending illly equipped vessels into the Arctic.

A postal card received from the Ladies Home Journal announces that that paper has "secured what promises to be the great magazine feature of 1898." It is entitled "The Inner Experiences of a Cabinet Minister's Wife." That ought to be a prolific subject, especially when it goes to describing her wrappings with cholera morbus, colic or an overdose of champagne. These modern journals are getting to deal with some queer subject; some of them, as in this case, really sensational.

McClure's for November contains a chapter or two from Mark Twain's new book, which shows that his pen has not lost its trickery or his mind its store of plausible fiction. In fact he says that one of the misfortunes of his literary career was that he could never tell a lie that anyone would doubt, or a truth that anyone would believe, and right on top of this he tells the story of a cold spell on the Atlantic when the mate's shadow froze fast to the deck and anchored him.

The supreme court of this state Monday rendered a decision that marriages contracted by divorced persons within six months after the decree is made, will be invalid in Oregon, no matter where the second marriage may be solemnized. Heretofore it has been a common practice for divorced persons to go out of the state to have the second marriage ceremony performed. All such marriages would be held invalid in this state under this decision.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all the diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from ten drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address, F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c.

Thousands are Trying It.
In order to prove the great merit of Ely's Cream Balm, the most effective cure for Catarrh and Cold in Head, we have prepared a generous trial size for 10 cents. Get it of your druggist or send 10 cents to ELY BROS., 56 Warren St., N. Y. City.

I suffered from catarrh of the worst kind ever since a boy, and I never hoped for cure, but Ely's Cream Balm seems to do even that. Many acquaintances have used it with excellent results.—Oscar Ostrum, 45 Warren Ave., Chicago, Ill.

Ely's Cream Balm is the acknowledged cure for catarrh and contains no cocaine, mercury nor any injurious drug. Price, 50 cents. At druggists or by mail.

Cash in Your Checks.

All county warrants registered prior to July 7, 1893, will be paid at my office. Interest ceases after Oct. 27th, 1897.
