The grand jury this morning returned a true bill against John Prah, charging him with manslaughter in the killing of Dan Maloney. The sound of the blasts used in making the new cut through the bluff on the other side of Mill creek would almost make one believe The Dalles was a big mining city. A letter was received by Miss Bottorff from Mrs. Briggs this morning saying that Neddie's condition had not improved, and the chances for his recovery were slight. New sweet cider, raisins, sweet, sour and dill pickles, pigs feet, pickle pork, mackerel, salmon bellies, codfish, sauer kraut, cranberries, figs, dates, nuts, etc. at Dalles Commission Co.'s store. 9-4t. Work on the club rooms is about completed, and tomorrow night a grand reception will be given. Many invitations have been sent out and it is safe to say that all who receive them will be present. Captain Henry Coe, in this week's Hood River Glacier, gives an interesting bit of the history of the war with the Indians along the Columbia. It is excellently written and deserves to be preserved among the historical records of the pioneer society. The city recorder had one prisoner before him this morning, the charge being drunk and disorderly. Said prisoner was an Indian; a fine looking fellow togged out in a new blanket and good clothes. He looked sorry, and the recorder let him off with three days in the jail. Fremont Wade of Clem met with a terrible accident Tuesday, in which he almost lost his life. He was on his way to Arlington with a load of wheat when he either fell or was thrown from his wagon rendering him unconscious. His team came on, and it was some time before George Welshbons came along and found the poor fellow, still unconscious, and brought him to town; also his team. It is not yet known how badly he is hurt. Yesterday evening two boys, Connie Arvold and Frank Henderson, arrived here, being sent by the Boys' and Girls' Aid Society to Judge Blakeley. Connie has a home with Mr. and Mrs. Thorburn of Wapinitia, and Frank with

Mr. and Mrs. Freeman on 8-Mile. The boys are bright, intelligent looking little fellows and seemed pleased with the idea of getting permanent homes. Mrs. Thorburn is in the city today and will take the Arvold boy home with her today.

The ever admirable comedian, Jule Walters, will again sustain the character of Horatio in his comedy, the new "Side Tracked," on its appearance here. The play has been toned in every part until it is scarcely recognizable. The scenic effects which have been added with unstinted liberality and detailed care are said to be the least noteworthy of the changes which have been affected. The specialties are all new and were secured from the leading vaudeville theaters in America. At the Vogt Monday night.

The last boat to arrive in Dawson City, August 17th last, had only hardware and liquors on board, having been unable to get over the flats of the Yukon with her entire cargo. It is easy to understand why the liquors should have been given quick dispatch, instead of flour or bacon; but why hardware? The lot of the frozen miner is hard enough anyway. No soft drinks could be made from the kind of liquor he got, and to add hardware to his lot, except for fuel, seems, at this distance, insult piled upon injury.—Oregonian.

Commencing Monday, the 15th, The Dalles, Portland & Astoria Navigation Co. will put another boat on the run between this point and Portland, having made arrangements to run the Maria in addition to their regular boats. The Maria will leave Portland Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays at 5:30 a. m., and The Dalles Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays at 8 a. m. Mr. G. D. Snowden has accepted the position of purser, which is the best selection the company could have made. Captain J. Mitchell Martineau will have charge of the wheel.

The steamer Homer arrived at Seattle yesterday afternoon from Juneau. Among her passengers were C. C. Burns, who left Dawson City September 23d. Burns poled up the Yukon and came out over the Chilcoot trail. He stated that when he left Dawson no one had started down the Yukon for provisions. The people were daily expecting boats from St. Michaels. They thought that the boats were delayed by accident, and knew nothing of their inability to ascend the river. Burns said there would be no starvation at Dawson this winter, though rations would be limited.

Electric Bitters. Electric Bitters is a medicine suited for any season, but perhaps more generally needed when the languid, exhausted feeling prevails, when the liver is torpid and sluggish and the need of a tonic and alterative is felt. A prompt use of this medicine has often averted long and perhaps fatal bilious fevers. No medicine will act more surely counteracting and freeing the system from the malarial poison. Headache, Indigestion, Constipation, Dizziness yield to Electric Bitters. 50c and $1.00 per bottle at Blakeley & Houghton's drug store.

HE WAS LOCKED UP.

A Grand Juror from Hood River Gets In Jail.

Last evening Mr. Frank Button, who is a member of the grand jury, went into the county jail for the purpose of seeing a friend of his from Hood River, whom he had assisted in indicting for assault and battery. Of course when he entered the jail corridor the door was locked behind him, and Deputy Sheriff Kelley being busy, soon forgot all about him.

Supper time coming on, Kelley walked off, taking the keys with him, and when Button wanted out there were none to lead his cries. Frank waited as patiently as possible, but discovered that an hour in jail when he wanted to get out was quite a different thing from the hour he had passed in conversation when he knew, or thought that he knew, he could get out when he desired. Jailer Fitzgerald came around in an hour, but Kelley had the keys, so he could do nothing for him. Then the inmates of the jail caught on to the fact that they had a sucker, and proceeded to organize a kangaroo court and try Button as a criminal kangaroo. He was fined what tobacco he had, and undoubtedly would have been compelled to disgorge a dollar or two, but as the boys knew he was from Hood River, they didn't suspect him of having it. He was let out during the night, and this morning insisted on the grand jury visiting the jail in a body to see how uncomfortable it was.

The Dalles Wagon Road Wins the Suits.

Judge Bellinger made a final order Nov. 6th in favor of the defendants in the case of the United States against The Dalles Military Wagon Road Company and fifty-five others, involving 150,000 acres of land. The suit was decided for the defendants upon demurrer September 7th, and at that time the United States district attorney was allowed sixty days' time to further move or plead.

The case was called up Saturday morning by Attorney F. P. Mays and Chester V. Dolpt, when United States Assistant Attorney Schnabel stated that the government declined to further move or plead. The court thereupon made an order dismissing the bill.

Recently a law was passed requiring these suits brought by the United States, which means that the government pays the costs of settling the controversy. As Mr. Murphy is about to retire from the office of United States district attorney, he will leave any further action in the proceeding to be taken by his successor, John Hall. The attorney-general at Washington directs the cases.

This order virtually closes the case and quiets the title to the land in controversy. It will no doubt be a source of great relief to all those interested.

Cole's Air Tight and Hot Blast HEATERS ARE THE BEST

They heat a room in five minutes. They save enough fuel the first year to pay for the stove. 4 cents a day is the average cost of heating a large room with our stoves. They burn anything and everything combustible. A cord of wood equals a ton of hard coal in any of our wood heaters. It is only necessary to remove ashes once in six weeks from our wood stoves. They are safe and have a catch to hold the cover while putting in fuel. You have a fire every morning. Our hot blast draft furnishes a hot air feed, not cold air, and saves fuel. They are easily moved and set up. Our wood stoves are made with either sheet iron or cast iron tops in all sizes, for all purposes. They are jointless the connections being so made that the greater expansion of the lining don't affect the body. There are no bolts exposed to the fire to burn off or draw or open up a joint. Our coal stove will burn slack and makes a ton of soft coal equal to a ton of hard coal. BEWARE of infringers and inferior imitations, they never equal the original and cost as much.
