NEWSPAPERS IN SCHOOLS.

A New England man has just given $50,000, the interest of which is to be spent in buying newspapers for the public schools of Boston. Of course if the right papers are purchased, the money will be well expended, but in Kansas City, where newspapers have been adopted as text books in the public schools, the selection is queer, to say the least. Superintendent Greenwood of that city has written a letter to the New York Journal, saying that he has ordered a file of that paper to be kept in every school building in that city. He based this action on the claim that the Journal "teaches progress and patriotism" and that its illustrations speak volumes to the eager mind.

The Jersey City News, in commenting on this, calls attention to the character of the issue in which the Journal announced proudly that it had been made a text book for the public schools of Kansas City. One of the articles in this issue was an account of how Anna Held, an opera singer, had been "kissed to a standstill" in 150 kisses, with full page illustrations, and an interview with the "lady" telling how she felt while the kissing was in progress. Then there was a Hindoo legend with nude illustrations and an elaborate account of a barge on which the Roman orgies used to be carried on in the time of the Caesars. This was from the pen of a well known moralist, Mr. Edgar Saltus. Of course there was a double page picture showing nude men and women dancing. After this came an article suggesting that the figures on the new five dollar bills issued by the government are indecent. To emphasize the claim there was a large picture of the government designs, which no doubt will have great effect in training children to discover filth in commonplace things.

THE WHEAT TRADE.

The local market is very inactive, and the same is true of interior markets. The export value of wheat has declined a great deal during the week, and holders prefer to take chances on a rise in prices after the turn of the year, rather than market at present quotations, which to merchants and speculators represent quite a loss on their dealings with the farming community. The foreign demand for our cargoes is slow, and it is quite difficult to effect sales forward, and sellers must concede something on price to place surplus cargoes. Our shippers really have no present need of wheat, stock in store here being large, and will cover the wants of exporters for some time to come. The situation here may be summed up as follows: Buyers will only trade on the real export values, and holders won't sell except at an advance. Receipts have been large during the week. There is a pressure to sell on the part of a few holders, and during the week sales were of a moderate proportion. The actual business transacted was small, buyers and sellers being apart as to a trading basis. Foreign advices are weak; European markets with buyers holding off, and prices lower and still tending downward. Quote Walla Walla club, 73c; bluestem, 75c; Valley, 76c per bushel.—Commercial Review.

The East Oregonian, noting the fact that a case was pending in the Washington supreme court to test the constitutionality of the law preventing aliens holding real estate in that state, says that "if it is right for land to be owned, it is right for aliens to own it," and that "rights that cannot be conferred upon all men irrespective of nationality, become privileges and stand in the way of progress under any government conferring them." If this be true, Chinese should be admitted to citizenship, foreigners permitted to hold public office and manage the government, and a hundred similar things permitted. We cannot all see the land question as the East Oregonian sees it, and the great majority of people, whether through fault of education or otherwise, cannot accept the single tax theory as correct. It is, in our opinion, the correct thing to prevent foreigners owning lands in the United States, and it is the best thing that can happen to this or any other country when every one of its citizens owns a piece of the soil.

The Portland Tribune, we understand, is to blossom out with the dispatches and bloom in the early morning. Another daily paper is sadly needed in Oregon's metropolis, and we hope the Tribune will be able to fill the long-felt want. It may do so, but the public has lost confidence in all such experiments, and will not believe in its continuance until it is known that behind it is money enough to carry it and build it up.

Thousands are Trying It.

In order to prove the great merit of Ely's Cream Balm, the most effective cure for Catarrh and Cold in Head, we have prepared a generous trial size for 10 cents. Get it of your druggist or send 10 cents to ELY BROS., 56 Warren St., N. Y. City.

I suffered from catarrh of the worst kind ever since a boy, and I never hoped for cure, but Ely's Cream Balm is doing for me. Many acquaintances have used it with excellent results.—Oscar Ostrum, 45 Warren Ave., Chicago, Ill.

Ely's Cream Balm is the acknowledged cure for catarrh and contains no cocaine, mercury nor any injurious drug. Price, 50 cents. At druggists or by mail.
