Cole's Air Tight and Hot Blast HEATERS ARE THE BEST

- They heat a room in five minutes.
- They save enough fuel the first year to pay for the stove.
- 4 cents a day is the average cost of heating a large room with our stoves.
- They burn anything and everything combustible.
- A cord of wood equals a ton of hard coal in any of our wood heaters.
- It is only necessary to remove ashes once in six weeks from our wood stoves.
- They are safe and have a catch to hold the cover while putting in fuel.
- You have a fire every morning.
- Our hot blast draft furnishes a hot air feed, not cold air, and saves fuel.
- They are easily moved and set up.
- Our wood stoves are made with either sheet iron or cast iron tops in all sizes, for all purposes.
- They are jointless the connections being so made that the greater expansion of the lining don't affect the body.
- There are no bolts exposed to the fire to burn off or draw or open up a joint.
- Our coal stove will burn slack and makes a ton of soft coal equal to a ton of hard coal.

BEWARE of infringers and inferior imitations, they never equal the original and cost as much.

THURSDAY NOVEMBER 18, 1897

WAYSIDE GLEANINGS.

Wild geese are plentiful in the markets, and are both fat and cheap.

A sidewalk is being laid on Union street in front of the Leslie Butler property.

A marriage license was issued yesterday morning to Thomas J. Twohig and Alice Colleary.

J. S. Geary, the piano tuner, will be in the city Thursday to remain a few days. Can be found either at Jacobson's or Nickelsen's store.

A. Y. Marsh and Geo. Joles will have a turkey shoot on the beach on November 24th and 25th, (Thanksgiving day). There will also be trap and pigeon shooting at the same time and place.

A letter received by Miss Bottorff this morning from Mrs. Briggs states that Neddy is much better and is out of danger, though confined to his bed and in a condition that he cannot be moved. Mrs. Briggs will come home tonight on the 5:30 train.

The 800 Angora goats recently shipped from Boise, Idaho, to Pendleton, will be wintered near Pendleton. It is said to be the intention to ship them to Klondike in the spring to make mutton for the miners. They are hardy and nimble animals, and can more easily be driven over the mountain passes than sheep.

Work on the new Mill creek trestle is being pushed energetically, a dozen teams being employed running scrapers, and the sound of the blasts in the new cut on the other side reminds one of a mining camp. Today the piledriver is being put in place and in a few days the work of building the trestle will begin.

The report of the public school for the quarter ending November 12th, shows a total attendance of 792. The highest previous record was in the same quarter in 1896, at which time there was 729 pupils. The average number belonging is now 695, against 662 a year ago, and the average daily attendance is 670 against 637 in 1896.

The Indians on the Warm Springs reservation sold to the Western Packing Company of Linnton, Or., last week, 600 head of horses at $2 a head. It required considerable persuasion on the part of the agent to induce the Indians to dispose of their wild and worthless cayuses, but they now show a disposition to even sell 2000 head more, and turn the proceeds into stock of greater value.

A man by the name of Morrell was arrested yesterday for holding up one of our citizens, or to be more exact, robbing him while pretending to be his friend. The citizen in question had been trying to get a lot of small change for a friend at Antelope, and had succeeded in getting twenty-five or thirty dollars worth of quarters. Morrell was with him and persuaded him late in the evening to go to his room. Next morning the confiding citizen discovered that he had just ten cents. Morrell's arrest followed, with an examination before Justice Filloon today.

At a meeting of the Seattle Ministerial Association Monday night, one minister made the assertion that there were 50,000 people in Seattle who never attend church, and that in the matter of church attendance Seattle is a heathen city.

The case of the State against Simmons is still on trial today, having been taking the time of the court for forty-eight hours. As there are nine cases growing out of the assault on the Indians, for which Simmons is being tried, it begins to look as though the court term would be an exceedingly long one.

The streets are quite sloppy and yesterday the street crossings were out-of-sight, but this morning most of them showed up free from mud. Whether it was the fairies, the marshal or the property owners who caused this, we know not, but however it was, they have the thanks of all the ladies in town.

The trial of Jake Prah for manslaughter, in the killing of Dan Maloney is set to follow the case now pending, and which will probably be concluded this afternoon. The securing of the jury will probably occupy considerable time, nearly everyone having taken an interest in it, and being pretty well informed concerning it.

"The worst cold I ever had in my life was cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," writes W. H. Norton, of Sutter Creek, Cal. "This cold left me with a cough and I was expectorating all the time. The remedy cured me and I want all my friends when troubled with a cough or cold to use it, for it will do them good. Sold by Blakeley & Houghton.

The Gordon massacre, which occurred in Choke Cherry canyon, Nevada, in 1852, was presented at the Baldwin last night, and was practically re-enacted. It was a massacre general in its nature, beginning with the English language and taking in everything from that down, including the Gordon family. The audience was not large, but it was large enough. There is no excuse for permitting that kind of thing to run at large; but as the company paid its license, and so had the authority of the city behind it, it could not be stopped on account of it being really a crime.

Circuit Judge Lowell rendered a decision in Pendleton Saturday involving the right of the secretary of the interior to cancel a lease of government reservation lands. Judge Lowell said: "When an allottee has entered into a lease in accordance with the prescribed requirements and the secretary has given the contract his approval, rights become vested which no power except a court can disturb, and if for any reason it is believed by the secretary that any lease so made and approved should be canceled, the government should direct its law officer to proceed in the proper tribunal in behalf of said allottee against the lessee, that the questions involved may be judicially determined."

Killed His Sister.

Last Monday the 9-year-old son of Thos. Gray, who resides near Merlin, in Southern Oregon, while playing with his father's rifle, accidentally discharged it, the ball entering the 3-year-old sister's head, killing her instantly. The only person near, an old gentleman, a friend of the family, was in an adjoining room. Hearing the shot, he went to ascertain the cause, and, seeing what had happened, started for a neighbor's house to inform the children's parents. During the old gentleman's absence the little fellow, realizing what he had done, ran away from home without a hat, coat or shoes. Arriving at Merlin after dark, he hid the section men, with whom he stayed over night, that his father had whipped him and that he ran away. After a night's rest, the section men supposed he would go home, but instead he took to the hills, and although a strict search had been made, at last accounts he had not been found.

Robbed at Huntington.

The Baker City Democrat prints the following dispatch from Huntington, dated November 16th:

D. McCrawley, who shipped some sheep east from here a short time ago, was robbed of $135 here early yesterday morning by a gang of hoboes. McCrawley had been drinking heavily all night with the hoboes and had displayed considerable money with the result that when he reached a stage of intoxication bordering upon helplessness, he was robbed. It is understood the party was from The Dalles and was returning there.

William Thorn, said to be well connected in Eastern Oregon, was arrested in Weiser last night for the robbery, and $101 of the stolen money recovered. He had bought a ticket for Pocatello, but owing to the vigilance of the officers he had no chance to use it. He will be bound over to the grand jury, and stands a good chance of getting a long term in the penitentiary.

Will Hunt Gold on Copper River.

A party of New England men, most of whom hail from Boston, are in Seattle outfitting for a most hazardous trip over the glacial fields and snow-covered mountain ranges of Alaska. They are captained by F. Herbert Haines, a newspaper man from Salem, Mass.

The party is bound for a second Eldorado lying in the upper Copper river country in Alaska. In preparation for a possible encounter with the hostile tribe of Indians living in the region, they will go well armed.

The Copper-river Indians have for years brought down gold to the trading stores at the mouth of the river. They will not tell where they got it, and oppose anything like exploration of the country. They carry this policy to the point of armed hostility.

NOTICE.

I have a stray horse, a roan, 9 years old, branded with a figure 2 on the right hip, at my place on three mile. The owner can have the same by paying the cost of this advertisement and proving property. SEYM MORGAN. The Dalles.

A RED-HOT TAMALE MAN.

Gives a Hobo the Very Best He Had on Board.

Last night about 11 o'clock as Marvin Rand, the tamale man, was coming down from the East End with his sixty-pound outfit of tamales, coffee, etc., he was held up by a burly fellow, who stepped out of a doorway just this side of Mrs. Julian's restaurant. The man caught him by the sleeve and demanded that he give him four bits. "But," said Marvin, "it takes me all night to earn four bits, and I have not that much." "Give me what you have," was the reply.

Marvin placed his itinerant lunch counter on the ground, and before the fellow knew what had happened to him, Marvin let go his right, catching the bold robber in the neck. The man went down like a log, and Marvin, instead of fastening on to the fellow and capturing him, as he could easily have done, picked up his outfit and came down the street calling "Red hot! All hot! Hot Tamales!" while the fellow picked himself up and remarked that red hot tamales were not an unknown luxury to him; but the fellow who run the business in The Dalles was the red-hottest tamale he had tacked in a long time.

Donation Wanted for the Children.

The Boys' and Girls' Aid Society is at this time in great need of funds, and in fact, of everything that would be of use to children. Last summer, as stated in THE CHRONICLE, the superintendent of this society planned a visit to The Dalles to canvass for subscriptions, but was prevented by a severe attack of typhoid fever, which kept him in bed for almost the entire summer. However, having now recovered, he will wait on the business men of this city in a few days, and any and all donations will be thankfully received, such as money, children's clothing, both new and second hand, or provisions. Blakeley & Houghton, druggists, will receive them or notify Mr. Gardner on his arrival. Nearly every person is familiar with the work of this society, viz: Rescuing homeless, neglected and abused children, and finding them suitable homes. It is hoped that all who are able will respond with what they can afford.
