FRIDAY NOVEMBER 19, 1897

WAYSIDE GLEANINGS.

Hear W. H. Hill's lecture tonight at the M. E. church.

Weather - Tomorrow and Sunday, rain; temperature turning decidedly cooler.

Don't forget the Circle ball this evening. It promises to be the event of the season.

Hosea Brown - a veteran of the war of 1812, died at Grants Pass Tuesday, aged 105 years and 4 months.

A. Y. Marsh and Geo. Joles will have a turkey shoot on the beach on November 24th and 25th, (Thanksgiving day). There will also be trap and pigeon shooting at the same time and place. 8-24

Work is being pushed as rapidly as possible on the new O. R. & N. bridge across Mill creek. Everything is in readiness to begin the pile driving, and in a short time this badly-needed improvement will be finished.

The Catholic fair begins next Tuesday and lasts the balance of the week. The fair will be held in the Vogt opera house, and will, no doubt, cause the assembling of one of the largest crowds ever gathered in the building.

Last night the Salvation Army held a meeting in the basement of the Methodist church, when Major Marshall spoke on "Full Salvation." Tonight they will have an old-time meeting at their barracks on First street, led by Major Marshall, assisted by Miss Parks.

Tuesday night at Albany Tom Culbertson, a boy 14 years old, boarded a freight train. He was ordered off just as the train was starting. As he climbed down he slipped and fell, almost under the wheels. One of his feet was badly injured. It is thought the foot may be saved.

The rain, which has been falling almost constantly since yesterday, makes everyone think that this side the mountains is becoming somewhat of a web-foot. The farmers are the only ones who appreciate it, and expect to commence plowing immediately if the ground does not freeze up so as to prevent.

As near as we can learn, the excursion of the Portland merchants will arrive in The Dalles on their return trip Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock. This is a little more like it, as it seems very strange that the merchants should pass through a town of The Dalles magnitude and business standing without staying over for at least a few hours.

J. W. Nesmith Woman's Relief Corps will hold a memorial service in Schanno's hall next Saturday evening at 8:30 o'clock. This meeting is called in pursuance of general orders received from national and department officers, in memory of Mrs. E. Florence Barker, past national president, who died at her home in Malden, Mass., on September 11, 1897, and Mrs. Julia Abraham, past department president, who died at the family home in Roseburg, Or., on October 6, 1897, and our own members who have "passed over" during the present year. All friends of the order are invited to be present.

Interest in bowling is increasing every day at the club alleys, which are in fine condition. Last night Mr. John Loan broke the record of these alleys with a score of 89, the former record being held by Mr. Chas. Lord at 73. Mr. Loan made spares on the first and sixth frames, the rest being strikes, with three strikes on the final frame.

A number of new crosswalks are being put in, and this is certainly a very commendable step, as many of them are so low that they are covered with mud continually and have holes broken through them which makes it dangerous for persons traveling over them, and should an accident occur, there is no doubt that the city would have a damage suit on its hands.

Byron, the 14-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Norton, of Blodgett, in Benton county, was found dead in a ditch a few yards from the family home Thursday of last week. The lad, who was subject to epileptic fits, went after the cows and it was supposed that he was attacked by a fit while crossing on a scotch log, and fell into the ditch, which is only two feet deep and a few feet wide.

The case of the State of Oregon vs. Jake Prah is being tried today. The following jurors have been selected: Geo. Cooper, M. V. Rand, Frank Abernathy, M. Dichtamuller, J. L. Cooper, G. W. Miller, W. B. Rodman, H. C. Butcham, Grant Ashby, Hans Lage, W. Obriet, W. H. Rodenheiser. This promises to be a long case, as well as an expensive one for the county.

A few evenings ago Mr. J. Roberts, living out on the John Day, was taken into Wasco to be patched up by Dr. Sutcliffe. He had got mixed up with a barb-wire fence and a horse, and came out with a dislocated shoulder and not many clothes. He was trying to lead a fractious horse over the wire, and the animal reared and catching in the wire tangled him up so he was unable to free himself.

There was a fight at the freight house Tuesday night between a freight conductor and his brakeman. Those who saw it said that the conductor swung his colored lantern, giving the brakeman a danger signal, and as this was not heeded, he used the lantern to beat the brakeman into a state of submission. The blood was scrubbed off the platform next morning, but the lantern was demolished. No cake, no cards, no rests, and no names.

Tuesday evening about 8 o'clock Mrs. Forb, the wife of an engineer on the Sumpter Valley Ry., who resides in Baker City, was terribly burned by the explosion of a kerosene oil lamp, says the Baker City Democrat. In some unaccountable manner the burning lamp exploded and the blazing oil inflicted painful injuries on the lady's head and breast. Dr. Snow was hastily summoned and greatly relieved the suffering of Mrs. Ford. It is not thought that her injuries will endanger her life.

Rev. Chris Nickelsen tells of the biggest spuds so far heard from. Eight or nine years ago, while helping to dig potatoes on the ranch now owned by F. H. Botton, he found two potatoes in one hill, one of which weighed 9 1/2 pounds and the other 8 1/2 pounds. Two hills of potatoes filled a bushel basket. Another potato, dug in the same patch the same day, weighed 8 1/2 pounds. The spuds were weighed by George T. Praibon on his scales. Joe Purser, the champion potato digger, was present and can verify this story.—Glacier.

Big Gale at Astoria.

A dispatch from Astoria on the 16th said: "A furious gale has been raging since 3 o'clock this morning, and is now increasing. The wind is blowing sixty miles an hour at the cape. No ships have arrived or departed. The mouth of the river is obscured by a heavy fog and rain. The steamer State of California, due this morning, is presumed to be lying outside of the lightship. In Astoria, fences were blown down, awnings swept away, and the old Anglo-American cannery was tumbled over onto the railroad track in East Astoria, compelling the work train to stop and the hands to clear away the wreck before the train could proceed. A runaway skiff was blown across the bay at a high rate of speed, and passengers on river scammers were seasick.

"A man just in from Elsie, in the Upper Nehalem valley, reports that the storm is very severe all through the Nehalem country. The Big Fishhawk is so swollen it is difficult to cross it. A large tree was blown across the Clatskanie bridge, knocking out four spans. It is feared there will be much damage."

He Was a Big Man.

He was big of chest and limbs, and as he came in he said: "I'm going to give you all the trouble I can till I get what fits me." Less than five minutes later the salesman said, "Try this one." It was a first rate fit, one of those clay wares, size 48. The vest perfect; the trousers 48 around the waist, 30 in length—perfect, without an alteration of button or anything the most trifling. He wore it away on his back, a more than pleased man. Couldn't have been fitted better had it been made to his measure, and it cost fully one-half less. Everybody, big man or not, can be fitted at A. M. Williams & Co.'s. Your money back if you want it.

See the Chrysanthemums.

The public is invited to come and see the chrysanthemums. They are now in full bloom, and this is the best time to get your plants. The lily, hyacinth, tulip, early and late narcissus and jonquil bulbs are now ready to plant for spring and winter blooming. Now is the time to get your plants for early spring blooming.

19-2w Mrs. A. C. STERLING & Son.

Cole's Air Tight and Hot Blast

HEATERS

ARE THE BEST

- B They heat a room in five minutes.
- E They save enough fuel the first year to pay for the stove.
- C 4 cents a day is the average cost of heating a large room with our stoves.
- A They burn anything and everything combustible.
- A A cord of wood equals a ton of hard coal in any of our wood heaters.
- A It is only necessary to remove ashes once in six weeks from our wood stoves.
- A They are safe and have a catch to hold the cover while putting in fuel.
- A You have a fire every morning.
- U Our hot blast draft furnishes a hot air feed, not cold air, and saves fuel.
- S They are easily moved and set up.
- E Our wood stoves are made with either sheet iron or cast iron tops in all sizes, for all purposes.
- E They are jointless the connections being so made that the greater expansion of the lining don't affect the body.
- E There are no bolts exposed to the fire to burn off or draw or open up a joint.
- E Our coal stove will burn slack and makes a ton of soft coal equal to a ton of hard coal.

BEWARE of infringers and inferior imitations, they never equal the original and cost as much.
