Cole's Air Tight and Hot Blast HEATERS ARE THE BEST

B They heat a room in five minutes.
E They save enough fuel the first year to pay for the stove.
C 4 cents a day is the average cost of heating a large room with our stoves.
A They burn anything and everything combustible.
U A cord of wood equals a ton of hard coal in any of our wood heaters.
S It is only necessary to remove ashes once in six weeks from our wood stoves.
E They are safe and have a catch to hold the cover while putting in fuel.
 You have a fire every morning.
 Our hot blast draft furnishes a hot air feed, not cold air, and saves fuel.
 They are easily moved and set up.
 Our wood stoves are made with either sheet iron or cast iron tops in all sizes, for all purposes.
 They are jointless the connections being so made that the greater expansion of the lining don't affect the body.
 There are no bolts exposed to the fire to burn off or draw or open up a joint.
 Our coal stove will burn slack and makes a ton of soft coal equal to a ton of hard coal.

BEWARE of infringers and inferior imitations, they never equal the original and cost as much.

Adolph Kober was today admitted to citizenship by Judge Bradshaw.

The brewery being built at Burns, in Harney county, is nearly finished.

James C. Leatherman and Annie Reed were married by Justice Filloon, at his office yesterday.

If you want a nice fat turkey, goose, duck or chicken for Thanksgiving, ring up The Dalles Commission Co. 2t

After this date the club will be open to ladies on Wednesday and Friday forenoons, instead of Monday and Saturday.

Tomorrow being Thanksgiving day, the club house will be thrown open to both members and their ladies after six o'clock p. m.

New stock of olives, pickles, nuts, raisins, citron, pineapples, oranges and bananas, just arrived at The Dalles Commission Co. 22-2t

The Supreme court, Monday, in the matter of the motion to dismiss the appeal in the case of the Oregon Lumber Co. against Levi Jones et al, overruled the motion.

The O. R. & N. announces a reduction in fares between Portland and Chicago, and all points affected by the Chicago rates. This indicates that the rate war threatened is assuming shape.

Miss Flynn, teacher of the second grade in the Academy Park school, was absent yesterday and today, on account of the death of her brother. Her place was filled by Miss Grace Smith.

A local in the Telegram last night, announces that Edward Shields, with fine stereoptican views and a lecture on Alaska, will start East in a few days, accompanied by Mr. Charles H. Whiting.

A. Y. Marsh and Geo. Joles will have a turkey shoot on the beach on November 24th and 25th. (Thanksgiving day). There will also be trap and pigeon shooting at the same time and place. 8-24

We note the laudable attempt of our business men to keep the crosswalks free from sloop, and feel they must certainly be happy, for every woman in the city as she goes dry shod across the street calleth down on them blessings.

All the members of the First Christian Church of this city are urgently requested to meet at the church, Thursday evening, Nov. 25th, to voice their sentiment on the recommendations of the church board for pastor of the church.

Judge Bradshaw having excused the jury until Friday, has today been attending to equity matters. The matter of the appeal from the order of county court in the estate of McD. Lewis, ordering a certain per cent to be paid on the debts, was argued this morning and taken under advisement. A motion to strike out part of the amended answer in the case of Bartell vs Thompson was also argued and submitted.

There will be union Thanksgiving services in the Congregational church Thursday morning at 11 o'clock. Sermon by Rev. W. C. Curtis. Topic, Christianity and Socialism. All not attending service elsewhere are cordially invited. The contribution will go to the poor in our midst.

The family of ex-Governor Z. F. Moody will have a reunion at Salem, tomorrow. There will be present, besides the governor and his wife, Zenas A. and his family, of Ashland; R. E. and family, of Portland; W. H. and family, and Malcolm A., of this city; and Miss Edna, residing with her parents in Salem.

One of the finest pieces of window decoration ever done in The Dalles, is that in the window of A. M. Williams & Co. today. The big window is arranged as an old-fashioned dining room, with tiled fireplace, pictures on the wall and the table neatly set. It was the creation of Ernest Jensen, and must be seen to be appreciated.

Tomorrow being Thanksgiving day, at the special request of President McKinley, THE CHRONICLE force will abstain from its usual labors and give thanks, if for nothing else, because it can. THE CHRONICLE hopes, and believes that each and every one of its readers may enjoy the day, as good consciences and good deeds deserve.

The Medford Mail is responsible for the statement that the cost of running Clackamas county for six months, ending October 1, 1897, was $28,436.83, while the cost of running Jackson county for the same period was $16,064.24. At the same time, it says the taxable property of Jackson in 1896, was a quarter of a million greater than that of Clackamas.

T. J. Sprowl, of Pendleton, who a couple of weeks ago, disappeared from Sprague, Wash., where he was threshing grain, has gone to Mexico. His wife, who lives in Pendleton, received a letter from him notifying her of his whereabouts. Mrs. Sprowl is feeling very downhearted over what is considered her husband's perfidy. He does not expect to return to Pendleton.

J. Swank, of Lebanon, while hunting in the mountains Sunday, thirty-five miles from that place, was mistaken for a deer by his father-in-law, Hugh Perry, and was shot, the bullet entering one of his legs, inflicting an ugly wound. A messenger came in Sunday night for doctors. One physician from Lebanon and one from Albany have left for Lower Soda Springs, where Mr. Swank was taken.

From the way the commission houses were supplied with turkeys, chickens and other things always deemed necessary to a Thanksgiving dinner, there will be no hungry folks within the city limits tomorrow. Hard times may come, and of course, they may go without any objections, but in Oregon there is plenty always, and for all. So, if you cannot think of anything else to give thanks for, you just be grateful for living in the best, if not the richest state in the union, where all may eat of the fatness of the land and sleep like a boat-railway appropriation in congress.

Two custom inspectors Friday night made a raid on a Chinese vegetable garden cabin, near Port Townsend, and captured a man who is believed to have no right in this country. He has a Portland certificate, giving the name Ah Sin, but he is a stranger, and the certificate, which has been forwarded to Portland for inspection, is believed to be fraudulent. The Chinaman is held in jail pending a report from Portland.

Residents of Clark county, Washington, in the vicinity of the Lewis river, report that that stream has been on a regular rampage for a week past. The North and East fork of the river are said to be higher than for many years, both being out of their banks, and the bottom lands along each covered with several feet of water. Fences and small bridges, and in some instances small buildings have been swept away, and considerable other damage done.

After Oregon Birds in Portland.

David F. Macey, of San Francisco, representative of the California fish commission is in Portland. His Oregon trip is to secure 200 or more pair of Mongolian pheasants for shipment to California for propagation.

"The fame of the Mongolian pheasant has reached all parts of California," said Mr. Macey yesterday. "We want a chance to enjoy the same sport as is found in Oregon hunting these birds, and we want them bad. My mission to Oregon is as the agent of our fish commission to buy 200 pair of these pheasants and take them to California, where they will be distributed in different portions of the state, for propagation. Our sportsmen are particularly anxious to have the pheasants introduced into California. When they became plentiful in Oregon, it was expected that some of the birds would find their way over the line into California, but they seem so well satisfied here that in order to get them we will have to buy a lot for a starter.

See the Chrysanthemums.

The public is invited to come and see the chrysanthemums. They are now in full bloom, and this is the best time to get your plants. The lily, hyacinth, tulip, early and late narcissus and jonquil bulbs are now ready to plant for spring and winter blooming. Now is the time to get pansy plants for early spring blooming.

THE FAIR BEGINS.

Beautiful Booths and Hundreds of Very Pretty Things in Them.

The fair given by the ladies of the Catholic church began last night at 8 o'clock in the Vogt opera house. At 9 o'clock in the afternoon when the CHRONICLE reporter visited the hall chaos reigned supreme. The booths were in place, the decorations about finished, but all the remnants and wreckage were still on the floor. At 8 o'clock, when the doors were thrown open and the big hall was brilliant with electric lights, the scene was different, for then everything tended to delight the eye. The gaily-colored booths, the immense display of fancy wares, bright colors and pleasing forms all served to give it a fairy-like appearance.

Entering the hall, the first booth to the right, the largest, by the way, occupying nearly half the side of the hall, was tastefully arranged, with arches and counters draped in yellow and white, relieved with bunches of Oregon grape, producing a very pretty effect. It was presided over by Mrs. J. S. Fish and Mrs. T. J. Senfert. Their assortment was varied among them being stoves, washing machines, oil painting, dishes, clocks, silver sets and innumerable fancy articles for raffle. In this booth Mrs. W. L. Bradshaw had charge of the fancy articles, Mrs. J. C. Hertz superintending the dolls' department. Her part of the booth was prettily decorated with little dolls, dressed in various colored crepe paper. In this booth also was a fishery, in charge of Miss Annie Haslam, and the picatorial melange that was caught from that same pond would have made old Isaac Walton die of envy. The pond was fished dry, but the Regulator tonight will bring up a new supply from the Washington state hatchery at Little White Salmon.

The second booth occupied the balance of the right side of the hall. It was trimmed in red and white, also flecked out with Oregon grape, and was in charge of Mrs. M. T. Nolan and Mrs. H. Herbring. Their stock in trade consisted of house furnishing goods of all descriptions, and also the German lottery that had everything in it that the imagination of man could conceive. Among the things we noticed particularly was some pretty dolls, and a cute little bed with twin dolls fast asleep in it. We were invited to take a chance in these, but modestly refused, as they seemed too expensive. Besides, we never could win anything at a raffle and was afraid the luck might change.

At the head of the hall were flower tables, presided over by Miss Bertha Glenn. The tables were decorated in orange and blue, but only the keen eyes of a newspaper fiend would have discovered this, as the whole was covered with masses of chrysanthemums of every kind, color and size.

Next to these and near the left side of the room was situated the crepe paper booth, in pink bunting and Oregon grape, and decorated with paper
