POOR MANUAL TRAINING.

No Systematic Instruction in Reformatory Institutions.

During September I visited several of the reformatory institutions to see what was being done for the younger boys in regard to manual training, says a writer in the Altruist Interchange. I found very little systematic instruction. The principal occupations were caning chairs, knitting stockings by machinery and other purely mechanical work. In none of the schools was there systematic instruction in manual training as it is now carried on in educational institutions. In fact, there were so many young boys who could not be kept busy at machine work that a large part of the time which might have been usefully employed was spent in idleness. During these hours the boys found occupations on their own account for their hands to do to a limited extent.

In one institution the boys had taken from their hat bands the broad steel wire which kept them in shape, broken it into pieces from three to six inches in length, ground these upon the door-steps or walls of the building and used them as knives to whittle such bits of wood as they could pick up about the yard or secure from the janitors when they made the fires. They made a handle by winding on the ravelings of stockings or binding two bits of wood on either side. Little boats, paper knives, household furniture, were rudely shaped by these crude instruments. Some of the boys were put there for wrecking trains, for burglary, etc., and their tendencies were sometimes expressed in the things they tried to make. For instance, pistols, small knives and weapons such as boys might use in Indian raids, etc.

DANGER IN NEWSPAPERS.

One Causes a Loss of Eighty Quarts of Milk.

For several weeks the streets in the extreme southern section of the city have been littered with papers, hand-bills and other rubbish of all sorts and sizes, says the Philadelphia Record. The evil was due in a measure to the habit of certain merchants of the neighborhood who, to advertise their wares, have flooded the district with printed "doggers" both large and small. This condition of affairs led to an accident recently which might have proved serious. A milk wagon drawn by a meek-looking brown horse was jogging peacefully along the street, when suddenly a double sheet of newspaper borne along by the wind swooped down upon the horse's head. The paper stuck there, and twisting itself about the frightened brute's head transformed the formerly peaceful animal into a perfect demon. With a wild of Cod-Liver Oil is all of this, and you still have a tonic in the hypophosphites of lime and soda to act with the food. For thin and delicate children there is no remedy superior to it in the world. flourish of its hind legs which shattered the dashboard of the wagon the horse, blindfolded as it was with the paper, tore furiously down the street. The wagon struck a pile of stones, and, although it was not overturned, the milk cans were, and their contents poured into a mortar bed which lay along the south side of the street, where a row of new houses was being erected. At the same time the trees broke and the horse, floundering into a bed of sand, fell in a heap. Then another gust of wind came along, whisked the newspaper off the horse's head and carried it over an adjoining housetop. The horse was captured and found to be uninjured, but the milkman bemoaned the loss of 80 quarts of milk.

See the Chrysanthemums.

The public is invited to come and see the chrysanthemums. They are now in full bloom, and this is the best time to get your plants. The Lily, hyacinthe, tulip, early and late narcissus and jod-quil bulbs are now ready to plant for spring and winter blooming. Now is the time to get pansy plants for early spring blooming.

A Champion Lightweight.

Remarkable in many ways, the "tulgnat" of the far west is most curious for its almost total lack of weight. The little insect has a nearly microscopic body but a relatively huge spread of wings, which gives it the apparent size of a mosquito. In some parts of California "tulgnats" swarm so densely about burning lamps that several times during an evening the dead must be cleared away to give the light a chance. In brightly illumined stores the gnats are veritable pests, and it was in a Lake county (Cal.) drug store that a curious experiment was recently made. As many gnats were collected as could be heaped upon a pan of the apothecary's scales; the smallest weight in use to measure the most delicate drugs was then put upon the opposite pan and was found to overbalance the mountain of gnats.—N. O Times-Democrat.

How to Prevent Pneumonia.

At this time of the year a cold is very easily contracted, and if left to run its course without the aid of some reliable cough medicine is liable to result in that dread disease, pneumonia. We know of no better remedy to cure a cough or cold than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. We have used it quite extensively and it has always given entire satisfaction—Olajah, Ind. Ter. Chief.

This is the only remedy that is known to be a certain preventive of pneumonia. Among the many thousands who have used it for colds and la grippe, we have not yet learned of a single case having resulted in pneumonia. Persons who have weak lungs or have reason to fear an attack of pneumonia, should keep the remedy at hand. The 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by Blakeley & Houghton.

The strength which comes to us from eating nourishing food is better than stimulation, because it is new strength. The health which belongs to a strong body, well nourished by proper food (properly digested), is the only health that is lasting.

The difference between Shaker Digestive Cordial and other medicines is simply that it helps nature to make strength. It does not profess to cure sickness, except as that sickness is a result of weakness caused by food not properly digested. Shaker Digestive Cordial will relieve the pangs of indigestion, and make thin, sick, weak people as well as if their stomachs had never been out of order. It is a gentle aid to the digestion of nature's strength-maker, food. At druggists. Trial bottle 10 cents. Try Schilling's Best tea and baking powder
