AN INTERESTING SITUATION.

The Oregonian has been wonderfully silent over the proposal of the Mitchell Republicans to come to an agreement with the Simon wing of the Republican party in Multnomah county. Since the proffer of peace was made some time ago, no comment has appeared in the great daily, and the silence leads to the inference that the subject is one which the Oregonian fears to handle.

Be this as it may, to a disinterested spectator it looks as if the Mitchell Republicans have decidedly the upper hand in the contest. It is unfortunate, perhaps, that they are designated by the name of any one individual, as if they had no purpose in view than to serve the personal ends of one person. But for this the Mitchell Republicans are not to blame, nor is it true that they have but one aim or aspiration.

The absolute domination of Joe Simon over the politics of Multnomah county—and because Portland contains nearly one-fourth of the population of Oregon, his control there gave him a powerful influence in the politics of the state—made a revolt necessary, and in this remonstrance hundreds of good men joined. The event was unfortunate for the Republican party in a measure, but in the end it will be productive of good.

After a bitter contest, in which it is generally conceded they were victorious, the Mitchell Republicans make overtures of peace. It is not an offer of surrender, nor entreaty for forgiveness, but rather a magnanimous proposal.

That the overture is unpleasant to the Oregonian, is evident from that paper's refusal to comment upon the circumstance, and from this it may be argued that Simon is not pleased. Should the Simon crowd refuse the compromise, then they may with reason be charged with party disruption. Should they accept, it is an acknowledgment that the Mitchell Republicans have claims to recognition not previously allowed.

Altogether the situation is decidedly interesting, with the Mitchell Republicans having the best of it.

One of the most satisfactory results of the general betterment which the country has undergone is the rise in the value of farm lands. During the past three months much farming property has changed hands at figures greatly higher than those which owners expected to receive. Loans upon this kind of security are obtained with ease, and capitalists are willing that long time should be given. When farm lands and products are depreciated everything else suffers a like depression, and the reverse of this is just as true.

It is probable that the attempt to grow cotton in Eastern Oregon will not prove a success, but every experiment which tends to diversifying the agricultural products of the country is tending in the right direction. There are many kinds of cereals which will grow productively on Eastern Oregon lands and yield profitable returns, if we only hunt around and find them. While wheat is king, and always will be, still there is room for a large number of princes.

Politics may be said to be fairly "on" in Oregon. In another month will be seen the building of political fences which an April wind will waste little time in demolishing.

In Wasco and Sherman counties many acres will feel the plow for the first time this year, and the increase in average means more homes and increased demand for articles of trade. We can well rejoice with the farmers, for their prosperity is ours.

The hopes of ex-Senator C. H. Chen find with the waning year. The senate will never send him, and the greatest fight in Oregon politics will come to an end.

CHINESE WOMAN DOCTOR.

We King King is the Flower of Her Sex as a Study Medication.

As far as her name conveys to the average American, the King King might just as well be a man, but she isn't. She King is a remarkably pretty little maid from the Celestial empire, and more than that, she is the first woman of that heathen land to whom the degree of doctor of medicine has been granted.

Dr. King was born in Foo Chow, and in her childhood she had every oriental luxury which a Celestial lady could possibly enjoy. Her grandfather was a manufacturer of power and wealth, who late in his life became converted to Christianity and brought his grandchild up in that faith.

When she was old enough little King was sent away to a boarding school, but she never seemed to take any interest in studying grammar, going to matriculation and other courses which schoolgirls take. Instead, she prowled around in the dispensary connected with the institution, learning all she could about medicines and drugs. So marked was her thirst for medical lore that her father decided to make a physician of her.

After bitter opposition on the part of all her relatives, who said they would rather see her dead than a doctor, or whatever the title is in Chinese, King came across the sea to this country. She matriculated at the Ohio Wesleyan university, and after four years of hard persevering work, was graduated with the degree of master of arts.

From Ohio she went to Philadelphia, where she took a three-year course in the Woman's Medical college and a post-graduate course in the Philadelphia polytechnic, from both of which institutions she received degrees. Then followed several months of practical work in the Woman's hospital in Boston, and Dr. King, fully equipped for her life work, returned to Foo Chow and assumed charge of the Shung-Ho hospital.

Her success has been remarkable. One instance is related of a child wheeling his blind old mother 1,000 miles in a wheelbarrow to consult the woman doctor. A double cataract operation and the blind was made to see. The only son of a wealthy mandarin was dumb from his birth, and so of no account—disqualified to worship before the names of his ancestors. The deaf tongue once relieved, and the dumb was made to talk.

Dr. King King is one of the delegates to the woman's congress to be held in London next year.—N. Y. Press.
