NEWS NOTES.

The George W. Elder leaves tonight on another trip to Alaska. She will be leaded to the guards, having 300 passengers and a large amount of freight.

A special report received this morning states that Hanna's opponents are going to contest his rights to a seat in The senate on account of the charge of bribery. Their success is to be seen.

Latest reports from Havana state that all is quiet at that place, and that the rioting is over. Further trouble is expected at any time, and our government is in readiness to send a gunboat there at a moment's notice on the slightest intimation of trouble.

The tornado that descended upon Fort Smith Tuesday night crossed the Arkansas river one-half mile south of Van Buren, and tore a path 200 yards wide through Crawford county, and dealt death and devastation to everything in its path. A score or more of houses were blown down and many persons were hurt.

COLLEGE HIPPODROMING.

The Show Business Carried to an Extreme by University Students.

There is a sentiment rapidly spreading and taking root in the minds of the alumni of the different universities of this country antagonistic to the excessive amount of show business in which the students of American institutions of learning are permitted to indulge. The feeling, says the Buffalo Commercial, is growing that the only legitimate field for the exercise and exhibition of the physical, intellectual and musical accomplishments of these young men is to be found in the university athletic grounds, the university theaters and society halls. In other words, the alumni and a large body of thoughtful people not directly connected with the various seats of learning are coming to an agreement that the college youth is altogether too much in evidence outside of the college yards, either for his own good or the legitimate prestige of his particular alma mater.

Of course, the conditions under which the rowing matches are held make the selection on a somewhat retired and neutral course like that at New London fit and proper; but the football, like the baseball matches, should be confined to college grounds, with the avowed intention of reducing the number and improving the character of the spectators, reducing the expenses and minimizing the publicity and spectacular features of the competitions. Another desirable result of this policy would be the elimination of most of the gambling and very demoralizing "sporting" elements that inevitable gather around events like the great football matches that fill the columns of the newspapers for several weeks every autumn. Certainly the students themselves would undergo less excitement and suffer less distraction from their legitimate college work if the scale on which their athletic rivalries are tested were effectively reduced. When these rivalries become matters of national concern they naturally tend to become dangerously intense and injurious to

We think this policy of restraint Notice of Final Account. health and morals. should also be applied to the practice that has now become universal among the colleges of sending out troupes of $1.50 young men organized as glee, banjo and mandolin clubs to give public performances for money in the leading cities during the holiday recess. These lads travel about the country in special cars, give ten or fifteen concerts in publie halls and undergo a succession of "social attentions" calculated to impair the constitutions of seasoned men, to say nothing of immature youths who are supposed to be resting and recupersting from the strain of three months of hard work at their lessons and lectures. Essentially their performances are not to be distinguished from the professional shows, and when they become an annual affair they are as tiresome as they are surely a tax on the good nature of the local alumni, besides being an unwholesome experience this to those who take part in them.

We have heard that the authorities at Harvard have served notice to the glee and banjo clubs of that university that their present tour is to be the last one. It is to be hoped that the report is well founded, and that the example will be followed elsewhere, as it deserves to be. Let the college youth attend their colleges and be required to attend more exclusively to their regular college business.

COUNTING OF THE VOTES. In Recent Elections There Has Been Little Fraud in New York.

The counting of votes has been in the past more fruitful of trickery and faisification than any other part of he election process. In 1893 the carrassers in certain districts reduced the natter to its lowest terms by simply eporting a unanimous vote on the side, and then going out to fling up their hats for the rest of the night. In the lin the County Court of the State of Oregon for subsequent election competent and incorruptible men supervised the ennymeso strictly that the percentage of fraud was so small, if any existed, as never to be heard of. This watching, says a writer in Century, at the count not only prevented intentional lying, but save accidental mistakes. In one case the board of inspectors confessed they did not know how to count the votes, and ubmitted entirely to the guidance of well-informed watcher.

The counting is done in public, and is often an interesting sight. Every orgunization and each candidate may send a representative to observe ! though nobody but the inspectors of permitted to touch the ballots. The straight tickets are first counted in tens by four men in succession, and a talls is kept by at least two assistants. Each name is credited with as many votes as there are tickets for his side. Then one inspector reads off of those tickets which are "split," or have pasters atcrased or new names written, and each candidate is credited with a vote every time his name nonears. When this is finished the most prominent office is taken up, and the sum of the votes for
