DEPEW IS PRESIDENT

New York Republican Club Meets.

THE NEW CHIEF OFFICER SPEAKS

Extension of the Field of Labor of the Club to Include Every State Advocated.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—Chauncey M. Depew was elected president of the Republican club of New York at a meeting of that organization last night. In accepting the presidency Mr. Depew said: "The conditions upon this annual meeting make my elevation to a position of president of the club one of peculiar significance and gratification. The differences in our party are more acute and intense than they have been in a quarter of a century. They found expression at the polls at the last election, and are culminating in hostile organization. The Republicans of New York are not alone in these troubles. They are found in Ohio, Maryland and other states. All these warring elements are conspicuously and ably represented in our club. That they have united and unanimously elected me president is at once a distinction and imposes a great responsibility. It is full of suggestions and prophetic promises for happier times in the future. It demonstrates that Republicans can get together, and when events are sufficiently marked they will discover a method of party unity and party harmony."

Mr. Depew spoke on the growing influence of clubs and of the increasing tendency of statesmen to come to New York to get in touch with the great life of the country, and then spoke of the future of the club, saying:

"Our Democratic friends are building a club whose avowed intention is to have New York to control the Democratic party in state and country. Our purpose in this club should be broader. We should have in the club the intelligent representative of the Republican opinion of the whole country; Republican opinion crystallizing in the judgment and discussion of Republicans from every part of the country."

"Our members should be numbered by the thousands; should be limited only by the boundaries of the republic of the United States, and our object should be to maintain a home where the senator or the congressman, the business man, the lawyer, the artisan, the labor-leader from all over the country can find hospitality and congenial minds, and our club should be known as the National Republican Club."

Accident in a Tunnel.

WILLIAMS, Ariz., Jan. 18.—An accident happened at the Fairview tunnel, nine miles west of here, in which one man was killed and one fatally injured. A number of others had an almost miraculous escape.

Sparks from the stack of a passenger engine ignited the timbers in the roof of the tunnel. A gang of men were immediately dispatched from this place under Foreman Matthews and Parker. The men fought bravely with the flames all last night.

When the flames were all but out, the men were alarmed by a loud crash. In another moment a solid mass of rock and burning timbers came falling down. Roadmaster Lyon and Foreman Matthews were caught under the mass of rock and timbers. They were soon taken out but Lyons died in a few minutes, and it it is not believed Matthews will live until morning.

No through trains will be able to pass the tunnel for several days, as it is a sheet of fire from end to end. Passengers are being transferred around the mountain through the snow.

Choynski-Ryan Mill

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 18.—Boxing is to be revived in this city during February. The board of supervisors have granted the Empire Club a permit for a boxing show some time next month. Applications from several other clubs were before the board, but all of them were rejected.

The Empire Club will bring off a 20-round go between Joe Choynski and Tut Ryan, the Australian. The preliminary bout will be between Tom Lansing and Henry Baker.

The managers of the clubs which have been left out in the cold are somewhat at a loss to understand why their applications should have been rejected and the Empire Club favored. The Occidental Club made application for a 20-round contest between Peter Maher and Peter Jackson, but they were unsuccessful.

Something to Know.

It may be worth something to know that the very best medicine for restoring the tired out nervous system to a healthy vigor is Electric Bitters. This medicine is purely vegetable, acts by giving tone to the nerve centers in the stomach, gently stimulates the Liver and Kidneys, and aids these organs in throwing off impurities in the blood. Electric Bitters improves the appetite, aids digestion, and is pronounced by those who have tried it as the very best blood purifier and nerve tonic. Try it. Sold for 50c or $1.00 per bottle at Blakeley & Houghton drug store.

Almost a Tragedy.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 18.—Dr. Charles F. Simmons, reputed millionaire, and president of the Simmons Patent Medicine Company, shot Emil Davidson, bookkeeper of the St. Louis Trust Company, today. Simmons, who is an elderly, gray-haired man, met Davidson on the street, passed by heard angry words and the next instant Simmons drew a revolver and fired five times, each shot taking effect. Davidson dropped to the sidewalk seriously injured, but will recover.

Simmons was placed under arrest. He told Captain Boyd that the man he had shot betrayed his daughter, and he had simply avenged the wrong done her.

This is Simmons' third deadly affray. Several years ago he stabbed his brother-in-law, in Mississippi. Three years ago he stabbed his bookkeeper, a man named McBrain, in a quarrel.

A Long Struggle Probable.

BIDDEFORD, Me., Jan. 18.—The strike situation here is unchanged from yesterday. There is every indication of a long struggle.

LEWISTON, Me., Jan. 18.—Everything was quiet at the Lewiston cotton mills today.

FITCHBURG, Mass., Jan. 18.—The weavers of the Hockage cotton mills, who struck yesterday, returned to work today.

Mr. Elisha Berry, of this place says he never had anything do him so much good and give such quick relief from rheumatism as Chamberlain's Pain Balm. He was bothered greatly with shooting pains from hip to knee until he used this liniment, which affords prompt relief. B. F. Baker, druggist, St. Paris, Ohio. For sale by Blakeley & Houghton.

NEW USE FOR HAT PINS.

Women Find Them Very Useful in Suppressing "Crowders."

"That hat pin," said a young woman on the elevated, as she arranged her headgear, reports the Chicago Times-Herald, "has been steeped in gore!" "How awful!" whispered her friend. "Was it employed on a burglar?" "No; on a crowder."

"A what?"

"A crowder is a creature who is peculiarly a Chicago product. I certainly never met him in any other city. He is the man who gets into a car where every seat is occupied and crowds himself into the merest scrap of room between two persons; generally two women, who dare not resent his impertinence. Then he coolly reads a newspaper."

"I've met the specimen often, but what can you do?" inquired the friend. "Well," said the athletic young woman, "if I had been a man I would have 'bounced' him from the car. But in that case he would not have crowded. I dare say I looked as meek as Moses, but I had a scheme to get even and I worked it. I took out my hat pin and gave Mr. Crowder a jab."

"Did he jump?"

"Not at first, so I jabbed again. The car gave a lurch and he yelled 'Murder!' in the first degree and rushed out and off without asking the conductor to stop. I'm glad I saved the hat pin, as I may need it again," she concluded, sweetly, as she impaled her head with the vicious thing.

DIED WITH HIS CHUM.

A Noble Conception of a Soldier's Duty to His Friend.

In the reminiscences of Gen. Sir Evelyn Wood, himself a brave English soldier, a touching instance of courage and self-sacrifice is given, says an exchange. One June day in 1855 a detachment of English marines was crossing the Woronzow road under fire from the Russian batteries. All of the men reached shelter in the trenches except a seaman, John Blewitt. As he was running a terrific roar was heard. His mates knew the voice of a huge cannon, the terror of the army, and yelled:

"Look out! It is Whistling Dick!"

But at the moment Blewitt was struck by the enormous mass of iron on the knees and thrown to the ground. He called to his special chum:

"Oh, Welch, save me!"

The fuse was hissing, but Stephen Welch ran out of the trenches and, seizing the great shell, tried to roll it off of his comrade.

It exploded with such terrific force that not an atom of the bodies of Blewitt or Welch was found. Even in that time, when each hour had its excitement, this deed of heroism stirred the whole English army. One of the officers searched out Welch's old mother in her poor home and undertook her support while she lived, and the story of his death helped his comrades to nobler conceptions of a soldier's duty.

FOUR-LEGGED TRADERS.

Mice That Replace with Other Articles All the Things They Steal.

There is a mouse in Florida locally known as the trading mouse. It is commonly a wood mouse, but it quickly adapts itself to human habitation. A colony of such mice carried two bushels of shelled beans 30 feet during six nights recently and replaced the beans with seed pods of a weed. Jewelry, too, has been taken by these little traders, says the New York Sun. One woman on the east coast of Florida at an Indian river winter resort found a number of seed instead of a pair of earrings that she had left on the bureau. A search in the place where the seeds had been taken disclosed the earrings.

A man who had a box of poker chips in his room in an open-topped box was surprised to find in their stead a string of prayer beads, a small crucifix, and a number of shells. He started an investigation immediately. A priest who had roomed near by was equally puzzled by finding the colored poker chips in his room.

It is generally believed that the trading mouse learns its curious ways by robbing squirrels or blue jays of nuts laid by for future use.

Household Gods.

The Ancient Greeks believed that the Penates were the gods who attended to the welfare and prosperity of the family. They were worshipped as household gods in every home. The household god of today is Dr. King's New Discovery. For consumption, coughs, colds and for all affections of Throat, Chest and Lungs it is invaluable. It has been tried for a quarter of a century and is guaranteed to cure, or money returned. No household should be without this good angel. It is pleasant to take and a safe and sure remedy for old and young. Free bottles at Blakeley & Houghton's drug store. 2
