FOUR GREAT PAPERS

Doit the Nation's Guest.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—Arrangements are making for the entertainment of President Dole, of Hawaii, on a scale befitting his rank as chief magistrate of a friendly nation. It has been decided he shall be regarded as the nation's guest, and that the government shall bear the expense of his entertainment in Washington.

A New Dish to Him.

Corn-calls to mind the duke of Marlborough's first experience with green corn on the cob. The incident was related by a gentleman who happened to travel in the same train with the duke the day he arrived in New York. It was the Newport train. Presently the duke went into the dining car to get a bit of luncheon. It happened to be in the green corn season, and he noticed that nearly everybody in the car was eating the corn from the cob. He had never seen anything like it before. He asked the waiter what it was, ordered a portion, and, receiving it, bit into it as he would bite into an apple. He had attempted to bite into the cob and had evidently received a shock—too great a shock to try the experiment again; for, upon being told that he must spread butter, salt and pepper on the corn and bite gently, he perversely took his fork and patiently picked the kernels, one by one, from the cob.

Tribly cannot be used as a trade mark in England, the name being employed too generally. So the court of chancery has just decided.

All the club members should be present at the special meeting held tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock, at the club rooms. R. C. Judson, industrial agent for the O. R. & N. Co., will be present and matters of importance will be considered.

A class in the rudiments of music will be organized by Prof. A. W. Lundell at 7:30 next Saturday evening in the basement of the Lutheran church. Terms, $1.50 for ten lessons. Anyone who desires to learn to read music should take advantage of this excellent opportunity. 18-22

W. H. Moore, the general manufacturing carpenter and undertaker of Dufur, was in the city and made us a pleasant call today. Undertaking is a new line of business in that vicinity, and as there is a large section of country around Dufur, there is no reason why Mr. Moore should not do well in it.

We make a splendid offer to persons subscribing and paying in advance for the WEEKLY CHRONICLE. We will give to all subscribers paying up and in advance, a copy of the World's Almanac for 1898. This morning Venz Bauer was united in marriage to Miss Julia A. Neabeck. The ceremony took place at the Farmers' Hotel in this city and was performed by Justice Filloon. The young couple are both from the Nansen neighborhood, in this county, and are well and favorably known. Mr. Bauer being an enterprising young farmer in comfortable circumstances. THE CHRONICLE gives them its benediction and wishes them long lives and an abundance of happiness.

E. E. Lytle and D. C. O'Riley, president and general manager, respectively, of the Columbia Southern railroad, say that twenty miles more of their road will be completed this summer. They have no idea of going to Alaska, as the country their road runs through is richer than Klondike, and the gold can be turned up with a gang plow. They have also some idea of starting a stock farm, on the plan suggested by their old friend J. D. Woodworth, of the O. R. & N., whose ideas they imagine they can successfully carry out.

Considerable excitement was caused in Colfax at an early hour Friday morning by the report that two of William Codd's sons had been kidnaped. Mrs. Codd entered the bedroom of her two sons and found the bed empty and the boys gone. She gave the alarm and a searching party was organized, and, after diligent search, the boys were found near the home of their grandmother, coasting. The boys had awakened, and, thinking that daylight had arrived, arose, dressed and set out to coast. It was 2 o'clock in the morning when their absence was discovered.

The A. O. U. W. and Degree of Honor are making great preparations for the coming of their distinguished guest, Past Supreme Master Tate, who will deliver an address here on Saturday evening at the Vogt opera house. A good musical program, by some of our leading local talent, will be rendered and will be published later in the week. The Elks have kindly consented to leave the most of their decorations in the hall, and this will add materially to the acoustic properties. A general invitation is extended to the public. Free for everyone.

Funeral of Mrs. Mary Laughlin.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Mary Laughlin took place from her residence this afternoon at 2 o'clock, and it was attended by relatives and a number of friends of the deceased, who took advantage of this last means of showing respect to their departed friend and neighbor.

Rev. J. H. Wood, of the Methodist church, offered prayer and the choir sang two beautiful and appropriate selections, "Asleep in Jesus" and "How Sweet the Hour of Closing Day." The address by Rev. Curtis of the Congregational church, was brief, but contained many words of consolation to the bereaved ones.

The bearers of the pall were selected from old friends of the deceased, and were: Robert Mays, Sr., S. L. Brooks, John Marden, Ben Snipes, John Cates and George Ruch.

Choice Shoalwater Bay oysters served in every style at the Columbia Candy Factory. Give us a trial and we will endeavor to please you.

The Woodmen Install.

The seats in Fraternity hall were inadequate to accommodate the large number of members and guests that attended the public installation of the officers of the Woodmen of the World and Pacific Circle last night. The evening's program was begun by the singing of the opening ode, in which all present joined, after which installing Officer Mann presented the badge of office to the following:

C. C., James Snipes; A. L., James Taylor; B., C. L. Phillips; C., M. D. Harper; M., C. H. Brown; P., Dr. Eshelman; E., M. A. Gosser; M., J. Filloon; S., J. B. Goit.

Another ode was sung, after which Mrs. Inez Filloon, grand manager of the Pacific Circle, Women of Woodcraft, installed the following officers:

Past guardian neighbor, Ella Cushing; guardian neighbor, Katie Williams; adviser, Olive Stephens; clerk, Louise Rintoul; banker, Ella Dawson; magician, Eva Reynolds; attendant, Viola Rorden; inner sentinel, Belle Berger; outer sentinel, Jas. Taylor; captain of guards, Minnie Gosser; physician, Belle Rinehart; manager, Anna Blakeney; musician, Maie Cushing.

After the installation the tables were spread with an abundance of good things, and when all had feasted royally, dancing was indulged in, and at the time of going home all were unanimous in the thought that the evening had been extremely pleasant and interesting throughout.

NEWS NOTES.

Ex-Detective Welch of Portland has arrived from Klondike with lots of dust.

Judge Cleland, who has been elected to the judgeship to succeed Judge Stearns, will take his seat today.

A wreck occurred on the Southern Pacific near Colfax, California, last night in which the engineer and fireman was killed. It is supposed that the wreck occurred by the breaking of an axle.

About dusk last evening a daring attempt was made to hold up and rob a Portland young lady. Their attempt was a failure, however.

Heavy snow storms have occurred this week on the Chilkoot pass, and travel has been practically impossible for days at a time. Inspector Stuckland, of the Northwest mounted police, stationed at Tagish, was delayed five days near the summit by snow and wind.

A detachment, consisting of thirty men of the Northwest mounted police, have arrived at Skaguay. They were to have been stationed at different posts in the interior, but owing to the shortage of provisions, and the cost of transporting supplies, the detachment will remain at Skaguay for the present.

Special Meeting of D. C. & A. Club.

There will be a special meeting of the Dalles Commercial and Athletic Club tomorrow evening, at which Mr. R. C. Judson, industrial agent of the O. R. & N. Co., will be present. All members are urgently requested to attend, as matters of interest will be discussed. Meeting will be called to order at 8 o'clock sharp.

In Olden Times.

People overlooked the importance of permanently beneficial effects, and were satisfied with transient action; but now that it is generally known that Syrup of Figs will permanently overcome habitual constipations, well informed people will not buy other laxatives, which act for a time, but finally injure the system. Buy the genuine made by the California Fig Syrup Co.
