NO RESTRICTION OF COMMERCE

Views of the United States on the Eastern Question in Accord with Those of England.

BERLIN, Jan. 24.—The following semi-official announcement was issued today:

"Statements regarding Germany's intention to open the port of Kiao Chou to the commerce of the world are practically correct. Germany desires that her policy should be of a liberal character, not interfering with the commerce of other nations."

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—There is reason to believe that the moral influence of the United States will support Great Britain in her efforts to keep China open to the commerce of the world, says the Washington correspondent of the Herald. The only active steps which the government will probably take in the matter will be to enter the negotiations with Germany respecting the treatment of American ships entering Kiao Chou and such other ports in China as may be seized in the future by the Russian or Japanese governments.

"If China has leased Kiao Chou on the condition that it shall be opened by Germany as a Chinese port, then it will not be necessary for the president to take steps in the matter," said an official of the administration. "It will mean that the commerce of all nations will be allowed unrestricted entry thereto. If, as we believe, however, Kiao Chou should be leased to Germany without conditions, then Germany will have the right, and will undoubtedly exercise it, to put in operation port and customs regulations such as are now in force in German home ports."

"The United States cannot make objections to the extension of such regulations in Kiao Chou in such an event, for it will be as much German soil to all intents and purposes as in Hamburg. However, the administration will expect from Germany any privileges that may be granted to any other nation, and will, therefore, reap the benefit of which Great Britain's attitude against the shutting of the Chinese door to the commerce of the world will give."

"This is required in accordance with the articles of the treaty between the United States and Russia in 1878, which provides: 'If each party shall hereafter grant to any nation any particular favor of navigation or commerce, it shall immediately become common to the other party, freely, where it is freely granted to such nation, or yield to the same compensation when the grant is conditional.'"

"Attaches of the Chinese legation are naturally very much pleased at the attitude assumed by Great Britain, as they appreciate that she will have the moral influence of the United States and other nations trading with China which have no territorial designs on the Celestial empire. The policy which Great Britain has inaugurated means, they feel confident, the continued integrity of the Chinese government."

Spanish Press Agitated:

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—A special to the Herald from Madrid says:

The attacks in the house at Washington have produced a feeling here which perhaps is scarcely justified, pointing towards the fixed purpose of a certain section of American politicians to insist upon war with Spain. The government is disturbed and the press is full of the subject. The Imparcial says:

"It would be difficult to believe that the United States purposes to undertake in the face of the whole civilized world the enormous responsibility of revoking a war, for which no reason exists today. It is a cold-blooded mockery and affront to the general conscience."

The Correspondencia says: "We cannot imagine why the majority of the people in the United States wish for war with Spain, seeing the great disturbance such a war would cause. We cannot think that the jingoes will prevail in their evil work. We believe the government of the United States will not commit this unjustified and thoughtless imprudence."

Golden Jubilee Launched.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 24.—With the rising of the sun this morning the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the discovery of gold in California, known as the golden jubilee, was heralded by the booming guns at the various forts which line the shores of the bay at the entrance to the Golden Gate.

At 10:30 o'clock one of the most interesting parades ever seen in this state marched through the streets, which were gaily decorated with flags and bunting and thronged with people from every part of the state.

At least 50,000 strangers poured into the city last night and this morning, and half as many more from the towns across the bay swelled the crowds from this city along the line of march. Market street from the ferry to Van Ness avenue was packed on either side. Every window along the line of march and many roofs of buildings were pressed into service by the sightseers. It is estimated that 16,000 men were in line.

The splendor of the celebration of the golden jubilee which began this morning is not likely to be surpassed for many a year to come. The entire state has gladly responded to the appeals of the miners, pioneers and native sons and daughters, and from now until the close of the carnival week San Francisco will be the Mecca toward which all travel west of the Sierras will be directed.

Household Gods.

The Ancient Greeks believed that the Penates were the gods who attended to the welfare and prosperity of the family. They were worshipped as household gods in every home. The household god of today is Dr. King's New Discovery. For consumption, coughs, colds and for all affections of Throat, Chest and Lungs it is invaluable. It has been tried for a quarter of a century and is guaranteed to cure, or money returned. No household should be without this good angel. It is pleasant to take and a safe and sure remedy for old and young. Free bottles at Blakeley & Houghton's drug store. 2

SUN AS A HAIR DYE.

Sailors Have Light Locks and Luxuriant Ones.

The latest use to which the sun has been put is to make it dye human hair, and on the head of the pretty bathing girl at that, says the New York Journal.

This fashion began last summer. A fashionable physician recommended bright sunshine and sea ozone as the best means of making the hair light-colored, healthy and strong. The young person for whom this prescription was given found it very efficacious.

The end of the resort season has by no means caused a subsidence of the fad. Never before were there in New York so many young women whose golden hair hangs down their backs once every day—that is, every sunny day. A queer fact, too, is that the idea, simple as it is, seems to have the result of producing the desired effect. It is certainly a much more harmless way of bleaching the hair than that which requires the use of chemicals.

"It seems to be a very intelligent idea," said a physician, when questioned regarding it. "All sailors will tell you how rapidly the hair grows when on board ship in the tropics. I have had some opportunity to observe the color, or rather the average color, of sailors' hair. I have found that their dark-haired shipmates by two or three to one. I suppose the sun has something of a bleaching power, as well as forcing the growth of the hair, by causing an increased circulation of its 'sap.' In this respect it stands to reason that each individual hair must be somewhat like a plant in its nature."

QUEER MUNICH HOTEL.

Ran by Duke Theodore of Bavaria on a Plan Peculiarly His Own.

A thousand years ago Benedictine monks discovered a small sulphur spring on a mountain near Munich. They built a hospital there that was used by their order until 90 years ago, when it was bought by King Maximilian, of Bavaria, who filled it with poor sick folk, says the London Mail.

When the king died his grandson, Duke Theodore, found that he had not money enough to keep up his charity. After long and anxious consultation with his brothers the honest, kindly prince erected new buildings and opened the house every year for three months as a hotel. It was patronized by many of the royal and noble families of Europe, though it is free to every comer who will conduct himself respectfully and pay for his accommodations.

Duke Theodore provides the food from his own farm, which he oversees, while his brother, Prince Ludwig, acts as host of the hotel. All guests are requested to leave on the last day of August. The house is then filled with scores of poor teachers, artists and authors, invalid soldiers and poorly paid clergymen, whom the royal brothers have formally invited to honor them with a visit. The money made during the summer is devoted to their entertainment. The duke and prince remain in the house, lavishing kindness and courtesy upon their guests.

An After-Dinner Discovery.

It was just after dinner, and they found the little girl crying piteously to herself. It had been a good dinner, and she had eaten heartily, and they could see no reason for her distress. "What is the matter, dear?" her mother asked sympathetically. The tears were running, and she could hardly speak. She managed to sob out faintly: "Oh, my dinner aches so hard that I wish that I did not have it."

An Arizona prison has an extensive apiary which is under the charge of the inmates. A single hive is said to have produced 200 pounds of honey last year, and it is expected that the industry will prove exceedingly profitable.
