The bicycle wedding which recently electrified London, as the bride wore the regulation white satin and veii, has had a rival in the marriage of the young Parisian who went to the church in a carriage propelled by an electric motor. The woman who wants to make herself famous now seems to have little else left her than a balloon in which to tuck her happy lover, the minister and a couple of witnesses. Mme, Adam, the prominent Parisian journalist, was driven into the work by the unhappiness of her first experience as a wife. Her parents married her when she was a girl of 15 to a notary in a provincial town. She left her husband, and with the aid of George Sand wrote herself into fame in Paris. Her d husband was a senator and left her a fortune at his death. This enabled her to found La Nouvelle Revue and to establish the salon to which all the celebrities of the French capital crowd

In trying to make a point against vegetarianism a member of the Ethnographical seciety in Paris read a paper will enrich the blood of the anemic: before that body a short time ago in will stop the cough, heal the irritawhich he insisted that eannibals are ex- tion of the throat and lungs, and ceedingly strong and vigorous, far exceeding in strength those tribes not addicted to such food. He said that the savages who abstained from human food rarely ate meat of any kind and were a puny lot. The most curious part of his argument was that the flesh of women was much more digestible and far more nutritious than that of men; many tribes recognize the fact and cat only women, until the supply gives out.

THE WHIRRING WHEEL.

George Banker has permanently retired from the racing ranks.

The system of interchangeable parts is a distinctly American contribution to the art of cycle making.

Fifty weekly papers in this country are now published exclusively in the interest of the bicycle trade.

The South Sea Islanders are the latest people who have taken to bieveling. It it probable that they obtained their wheels through some speculative trader. who obtained a good return for his investment.

One would scarcely expect to find bievcles and a bievele club in the heart road. One club in Buluwayo, Matabelepopulation of 2,500.

An English cycling club has offered a prize for the best design of a baggage car, adapted for the safe conveyance of bieycles, with the object of stirring up the railroad companies of England, so that they will provide proper accommodation for the wheels. The chief points which competitors are asked to keep in view are adaptability to the purposes of an ordinary baggage car and economy of space.

USES OF WATER.

Ordinary headaches almost always yield to the simultaneous application of hot water to the fee; and back of the neck.

Nothing so promptly cuts short a congestion of the lungs, sore throat, or rheumatism as hot water, when applied early in the case and thoroughly.

What is Scott's Emulsion?

It is a strengthening food and tonic, remarkable in its flesh-forming properties. It contains Cod-Liver Oil emulsified or partially digested, combined with the wellknown and highly prized Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda, so that their potency is materially increased.

What Will It Do?

It will arrest loss of flesh and restore to a normal condition the infant, the child and the adult. It cure incipient consumption. We make this statement because the experience of twenty-five years has proven it in tens of thousands of
