In Trance, it seems, there is a strong uperatition that the operas of Ambrose Phomas bring some sort of ill luck. The Paris Opera Comique and the Theitre des Arts at Rouen were burned on the night of the performance of 'Mignon," in which, it may be recolceted, a fire scene actually occurs. The Grand Opera, Paris, was burned on the light of a performance of "Hamlet." Ambrose Thomas himself was well oware of the superstition, and used laughingly to declare that he was lucky n other ways.

THE GREAT BUSTARD.

It Has Been Extinct in England for More Than Fifty Years.

The great bustard formerly haunted all the level counties of England, III. repeated measures were passed in order to protect it; and it is expressincluded under the head of game in the statute of the first year of the reign of William IV., which codified and reformed the laws relating to game. The close season for bustard shooting was and is from the first of March to the first of September. But the native hustard is now extinct in England. The last was killed at Swaffham in Norfolk, in 1838. Any that have been shot since have been merely casual visitors, probably oming from the plains of Saxony. The causes of the disappearance of the bustard are, firstly, the sport they afforded, for they were hunted with greyhounds as well as shot; secondly, the increase in the amount of cultivated land. ITS SILENCE MADDENING. One Feature of Alaska Which Distresses the White Man.

Father Parnum, who is in charge of the Catholic missions in Alaska, returned several months ago for a visit to a civilized community. Next to the cold he found the extreme silence to cause the greatest suffering to white men. There were the white plains stretching off to the horizon, and no bird nor beast is seen; where a footfall is hushed in the snow the stillness becomes almost intolerable at times. The natives are good natured and welcome instruction. While teaching them what he could, the father endeavored in turn to learn something of their language, but in this experienced some difficulty. In one instance he desired to learn their designation of an orphan, and while talking to one of their old women, said: "Now, I want you to tell me something," and proceeded to question her. She did not understand, however, and he tried it on another tack. He said. "I have lost my mother, and my father is dead. Now what-" but he was interrupted by a loud wail from the old erone, who wept bitterly, bemoaning the loss of his parents, attempting to condole with him. The father did not learn from her what she called an orphan .- Washington Star.

The sleeves were drooping and full, and on the shoulders were double capes of the chiffon, each cape edged with white taffeta ribbon. The waist has a voke outlined with taffeta. The ribbon came to points in the front. At the lowest point a little bolero jacket opened into a lapel and was finished with a border of the taffeta. To make the waist very slender a point of taffeta was brought down a little below the waist line. A widow's costume, being all of black and white, will stand a deal of fussiness that would not be becoming to other materials .-St. Louis Republic.

RULER OF THE NAVY.

Herbert Has Powers Which Cannot Be Gainsaid. "There is one man in the United States who has more power than the president and all the federal courts man. His power over officers of the navy is autocratic. He can without the aid of a court fine an officer all the way from four hundred to four thousand a year, according to his rank, and simply to it the whim of the secretary. Unlike officers of the army, officers in the navy are not paid a uniform and fixed compensation. In the army the salary of an officer is fixed by law. and no one, not even the president. can deduct a cent from that pay without a court-martial. In the navy there are three regular grades of pay. In the case of a rear admiral, which is the highest rank in the navy, the pay at sea is six thousand dollars. On shore duty this is reduced to five thousand dollars, while if the officer is on leave of absence or 'waiting orders'

this is reduced to four thousand dollars.

"Now suppose a rear admiral is ordered to the command of the fleet in the North Atlantic. The secretary of the navy proposes to visit the fleet. He is received on board the flagship with all the honors due his station, and the admiral does his best in the way of entertainment. Suppose again, when the secretary sits down to dine at the admiral's table he finds that a cheap brand of American wine is served instend of his accustomed Chateau Yquem. The secretary determines to resent this indignity. He goes ashore and decides to relieve an admiral who Southern Pacific Comn'y knows nothing of the first principles o hospitality. He issues an order de taching the admiral and placing hin on waiting orders. Then on the fol lowing day he determines to punish him still further. He calls in the chie of the bureau of navigation and directs that Admiral Bowline be given an iu definite furlough. That means that instead of drawing six thousand dol lars a year as he was vesterday, the late admiral of the North Atlantic finds his income suddenly reduced to two thousand dollars, and all because he has offended the ruler of the navy in some slight matter.

"Cannot the admiral appeal? Cer can cry out. The president has no power to review the decisions of the ecretary of the navy in matters of this | 8 30 p. m. kind. This is an extreme case, of course, but it would not be difficult to point out where lieutenants have had their pay cut from two thousand six hundred dollars to nine hundred dollars by a secretary who had a grudge."

SHE WAS ECONOMICAL But After Testing the Result Her Husband Was Unappreciative.

With one of those good intentions with which the infernal regions are said to be paved, an economic uptown housewife recently dyed her hubby's shabby hat. The operation was performed, says the Philadelphia Record, with a toothbrush and a package of patent dye, unknown to the owner of the headgear, who put his hat on before it was dry and sallied forth to his Chestnut street office. On drying the Derby turned a beautiful bronze, attracting no little attention as its ignorant and blissful wearer passed through the principal streets. Before he reached the office he was caught in a shower, and when he afterward saw himself in a mirror his countenance was decorated like that of an Indian chieftain in war paint. The dye wasn't fast black-indeed, it wasn't even black, and to the prejudiced eye of the unhappy husband it seemed to have been composed of green, pink, blue, purple and yellow. The lecture he delivered on "false economy" when he reached home would have done credit to Mrs. Caudle.
