SHOULD NOT BE RE-NOMINATED.

It is generally understood that the Simon crowd in Portland is determined to push Governor Lord before the Republican state convention as a candidate for re-nomination. We do not believe in any event Governor Lord can be re-nominated, and trust his candidacy will not be seriously urged before the convention. By his refusal to call an extra session of the legislature the present governor shows that with him the interests of the state are subservient to those of faction.

The constitution of the United States intends that each state shall have two senators in the national senate. Oregon has but one. There is no more hope of Mr. Corbett being seated than there is of "building a railroad to Mars"—a saying the Oregonian is fond of repeating—and it is the height of folly for Mr. Corbett, or any of his strikers, to await the vote in the senate with the expectancy of a favorable outcome. The committee on privileges and elections has already made an adverse report upon the Corbett case, and practically this ends it.

Governor Lord's refusal, then, to call an extra session of the legislature can have nothing to do with the Corbett case, and the only explanation which suggest itself is that the governor is afraid that should the legislature meet, Mr. Mitchell would be chosen senator. Such a consideration is unworthy of a state's chief executive, yet every indication points to this as being the real reason.

While Mr. Mitchell is the undoubted choice of the majority of the people of Oregon, yet it is not true, as the Oregonian would have us believe, that the friends of Mr. Mitchell are clamoring that Mitchell or nobody shall be chosen senator. That is the cry of the Simon Scott combine, and they have decided that nobody shall be elected.

Oregon has a right to another senator, and Governor Lord, who is in a large measure to blame for the present situation, should see that an opportunity be given to elect one. When the legislature is convened then his responsibility ends, and if that body refused to make a choice, the governor is none to blame.

The people of Oregon want to be represented by two senators, and they care not who the second one is, provided he be a clean, able man, devoted to the principles of good government—and the Republican party.

Reports received by the committee who have in charge the arrangements for the coming Wool-Growers' Convention, confirm the predictions made that a large number of visitors will be in attendance. Industrial Agent Judson is traveling in Eastern Oregon interviewing people and explaining the benefits to be derived from the convention, and he has written to the committee that fully five hundred visitors may be expected. From the interior country adjacent to The Dalles there will be many sheepmen present, while quite a number of Portland people have signified their intention of taking this opportunity to visit The Dalles.

All in all, we may expect to see our city thronged with visitors from abroad. Every endeavor is being made for their suitable entertainment, though we have been informed that no provision has been made for lighting the streets with electricity during the convention. By all means this should be done; not because as a city we wish to sail under false colors, but because of the greater convenience and comfort the better lights would afford the visitors. We trust this matter can be suitably arranged before the convention day arrives.

Frank Sherwood was down town today, the first time since he had his tussle with cholera morbus. He says he drove miles after he was taken sick, and never came so near dying in his life. After this when he goes out in the country he will take a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy with him.—Missouri Valley (Iowa) Times. For sale by Blakeley & Houghton.
