NEWS NOTES.

Today's bulletin states that there are no new developments in the Maine disaster.

If the report of the Chicago Chronicle's Key West correspondent be correct, Secretary Long is seriously alarmed for the safety of Americans in Cuba, and in preparation to meet an emergency which he considers is imminent, has ordered the warships stationed at Key West and Tortugas to prepare to leave for Havana at a moment's notice.

Comptroller of the Currency Dawes today accepted the resignation of Bank Examiner Charles Cleary for Oregon and Washington district. He has transferred Examiner Eldridge from the California district, Cleary's old district. Cleary's resignation was called for some time ago and its acceptance has been held up, pending the appointment for the California district.

Spanish officials at Havana, in despair of ever crushing the Cuban rebellion, are urging the Madrid government to demand of the United States that the Maine inquiry be concluded at once and an ultimatum rendered, apparently in the belief that defeat at the hands of the United States army and navy would be less humiliating than acknowledgment of their failure to put down the rebellion.

Margaret Dempsey, wife of the great pugilist, Jack Dempsey, died at the home of her parents on Grand avenue, Portland, last night. Mrs. Dempsey was a victim of consumption, having been ailing for several years. Last June she went to California in hopes that the change would improve her health, but returned a couple of months ago, little improved, and since that time she has failed rapidly until her death last night. She leaves a little girl, a father and mother, one brother and two two sisters to mourn her loss.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy Always Proves Effectual.

There are no better medicines on the market than Chamberlain's. We have used the Cough Remedy when all others failed, and in every instance it proved effectual. Almost daily we hear the virtues of Chamberlain's remedies extolled by those who have used them. This is not an empty puff, paid for at so much a line, but is voluntarily given in good faith, in the hope that suffering humanity may try these remedies and, like the writer, be benefited.—From the Glenville (W. Va.) Pathfinder. For sale by Blakeley & Houghton.

Frank Sherwood was down town today, the first time since he had his tussle with cholera morbus. He says he drove miles after he was taken sick, and never came so near dying in his life. After this when he goes out in the country he will take a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy with him.—Missouri Valley (Iowa) Times. For sale by Blakeley & Houghton.

THE COURT WAS THIRSTY.

So It Overruled the Supreme Court and Bought itself a Drink.

Just as Shakespeare has been accepted for years and years as the deciding umpire in most matters literary, so the Nebraska people had grown to look upon the supreme court of their state as the fountain head of wisdom, whose opinions could not be gainsaid. It is a way people have of regarding supreme courts in most states, as a matter of fact.

William Alstadt, a little German, whose readiest identification among his people was by the name of "Bismarck," was not one who cared over-much for tradition, and one summer day, after having been harangued by two lawyers until he was almost bursting with thirst, he made a decision which brought him fame. It does not make any especial difference what was the question at issue. It was something about a dog. There was a sensible side to it and a technical side. The "technical" lawyer presented bushels and tons of authorities, and finally wound up with a triumphant declaration that the supreme court had decided on a similar case before and had decided his way.

When he sat down, Bismarck, with a sigh of relief, said: "I decide for de oder fellor. Come on, boys, let's dake a drink."

"But," cried the defeated lawyer, in astonishment, "I tell you, your honor, that the supreme court has decided exactly opposite."

"My frient," said Bismarck, "in sheneral I haf some sympathies mit dot subreme court. But on a hot day, mit a fool of a lawyer dalkin' four hours, I am mofed to consult der good sense and shudgment of Bill Alstadt, J. P. Bill Alstadt is not only gronviced, but he is distry, and he decides dat if der subreme court of Nebraska wants to make a tam fool of itself in a question like dis it can do so, but dot aint binding on dis shustice shop. Der subreme court is hereby otteruled. Der plain-tiff gits ter dog, and der court will now broceed to spend der fees in dis case in a way dot his shudicial thirst suggests, mit great gordiality. Come on, boys."

Thus it was that the supreme court was overruled, and as a plain statement of fact Justice Bill Alstadt's decision has always been followed in similar cases brought in Nebraska tribunals. In the same way the half true Shakespearean revision dove theory is susceptible of revision or reversal.—Chicago Record.

FACE RAW AND BLEEDING

My little boy was afflicted with Eczema in acute form for a year, during which we tried without success every known remedy. The disorder appeared on the right cheek and was of a bilious and bloody form. His pillow, morning, would bear the bloody imprint of the side of his face, while it was impossible to prevent him from scratching his face owing to the itching. Advised to try CUTICURA, I bought a box. The first application was made at night, and it is a fact, that the appearance of the affected parts showed a noticeable improvement. The next morning, and continuing the treatment, as a result, my child has as fair and smooth skin as can be found anywhere.
