DIFFERENT KINDS OF REPUBLICANS.

Fusion in Oregon is an assured fact; all the worshippers of free silver will unite and make one grand rush for the offices. To the Republican party do the people look to save the state from Populism and its consequent evils. To accomplish this result every Republican vote is needed; and does the Oregonian think it is making converts when it is trying to drive out of the party every man who at some time may have been misled in his financial views? If so, it can no longer claim to speak for the party, but must be classed simply as the organ of a faction, bound unreservedly to do what its master directs, and in this instance the master is Joe Simon.

As a matter of fact, John H. Mitchell is a far better Republican today than Harvey Scott. Mitchell was willing during the last attempted meeting of the legislature that any good Republican should be chosen to the senate. Mitchell was never a party wrecker, and while he may have trimmed his political sails too closely, yet he never delighted in bringing destruction upon the entire organization as does Scott or Simon, if thereby some petty end may be gained or some troublesome rival brought low.

The "gold standard" is simply a cover for Simon to play his game of politics. If he thought it profitable he would make a deal with the Populists tomorrow, as he did a year ago at Salem. THE CHRONICLE has no quarrel to pick with anyone, but it dislikes to see the Oregonian class everybody as believers in free silver who happen to oppose Joe Simon's politics, when the truth is the better class of men all over the state are opposed to his political methods. Every Republican vote will be needed next June, and if the Oregonian wishes the party to triumph, it should hold out the olive branch of peace instead of brandishing the bludgeon of war.

The country has several times had reason to congratulate itself that so safe and able a man as President McKinley is at the head of affairs. In the emergency which is now threatening the nation through the possibility of war the president is acquitting himself most admirably. He is cautious, self-controlled, but vigilant, while his prompt refusal to entertain Spain's request for General Lee's recall has brought quick response from the people. President McKinley is a far greater statesman than many admitted him to be when nominated for the presidency, and in his administration the people of America may rely, confident that wisdom and patriotism will guide him in every crisis. It is fortunate we have such a man in the place of power just at this time.

All the patriotism in the country is not confined to the "yellow journals" by any means. Should war come, there will be such an outpouring of volunteers that the answer to President Lincoln's call will be fairly eclipsed. War is a dreadful thing, but if it needs must come, the people of America are ready. No North, no South divide the country now; an ex-Confederate brigadier-general represents the nation at Havana, and a Union soldier sits in the presidential chair at Washington. The country is more united today than it ever was, and should war come, all traces of sectionalism will be completely swept away.

Oregon is to have a taste of the sorrows that other communities experience. "Cyclone" Davis, the famous middle-of-the-road Populist, is to campaign the state for free silver. Only "Cyclone" has changed his views and no longer walks in the middle of the street, but is howling for fusion. It is not known just what office he is after.

Sheep marking paint; ready for use. Two colors, black and red. Why you should use our sheep paint. First, because the colors are ground thoroughly in pure linseed oil by fine machinery; second, because it is made of high grade color, with the proper amount of dryers added to give it binding and lasting qualities, which prevent it from washing or rubbing off; third, it is much more economical, because it is always ready for use. We guarantee our sheep marking paints to give satisfaction. Try it and be convinced. Clarke & Falk, agents, The Dalles, Or.

I have been afflicted with rheumatism for fourteen years and nothing seemed to give any relief. I was able to be around all the time, but constantly suffering. I had tried everything I could hear of and at last was told to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which I did, and was immediately relieved and in a short time cured. I am happy to say that it has not since returned.—Josh Edgar, Germantown, Cal. For sale by Blakeley & Houghton.

Don't annoy others by your coughing, and risk your life by neglecting a cold. One Minute Cough Cure cures coughs, colds, croup, grippe and all throat and lung troubles.
