Prof. Dout, Optician.

The testing of eyes is not a matter of guess work, nor by far only a matter of trying on a pair of ready made glasses. It is a science governed by principles and conditions, which none but a person who has studied the anatomy of the eye can understand. Prof. P. G. Dout un-

The regular meeting of the United Artisans will be held tomorrow evening at 7 o'clock. All members are requested to be present.

There will be a social hop given by the Woodmen and Cedar Circle this evening. Invitation is extended to their families and friends.

The United States government has succeeded in getting two fine Brazilian cruisers. Spain tried to get them but the United States spoke first.

The fair grounds and racetrack at North Yakima will soon present a lively appearance. This week several horsemen with fine strings are expected to arrive.

Archbishop W. H. Gross will arrive in the city tomorrow to officiate in the dedication of the new Catholic church, which will take place Thursday at 10 o'clock.

While preparing your gardens, remember Mrs. A. C. Stubling & Son have many roses, hardy plants and shrubs, which will add greatly to the appearance of your home. m8/dlw-wlm

At the school election held yesterday, but ninety-six votes were cast. The only candidates in the field were Dr. Duane for director, and Geo. P. Morgan for clerk, so that both were elected unanimously.

Reports from the Hay creek country state that shearing has begun in that vicinity, and it will not be long until the jingle of the freighter's bells, as he hauls the wool to The Dalles market, can be heard along the line.

Crushed rock is being put on Court street today in front of the city jail, and if no remonstrance is made to the ordinance for the repair of this street, rock will be put on the same between Main and Third streets.

Don't go to Spain nor Cuba and get blown up, but call on Butts and get a fine home and settle down. He is the leader in that line, and anyone overlooking this fact will be the loser. Information cheerfully furnished. Oly make the price; Butts does the rest.

We understand that the strong wind of last week blew down a portion of the fence around the city graveyard, and at present the cattle are tramping over the graves eating the grass and injuring the monuments. Whoever has charge of the cemetery should see that the fences are put in shape.

County Clerk Kelsay returned last night from a short business trip to the interior. He reports the farmers and sheepmen in good spirits, but says the ground is very dry for this time of the year, and consequently more rain than usual will be required this spring and summer to insure good crops.

Mr. Wm. Michell came up on the Dalles City last night, having gone down to Lyle to conduct the funeral services of Mrs. Fred Smith, who died at that place Saturday. The funeral was largely attended, and seemed doubly sad as the deceased was but 20 years old and had been married but a short time.

Graves fears are entertained by the fruit-raisers on account of the present pleasant weather, and some have come to the conclusion that there will be but little fruit raised in Eastern Oregon this year. The spring is entirely too early, and if it is not phenomenally mild during April, the fruit crop will certainly be destroyed.

Prof. A. H. Lundell will organize an afternoon class in the rudiments of vocal music and note-reading, Saturday, March 19th, at 4 o'clock p. m., in the basement of the new Lutheran church. All who are interested will please come. This is an opportunity for all who cannot take advantage of the evening class, and deserves consideration. Terms $1.50 for ten lessons, in advance—including book, $2.00. 15 3t

The woodwork is about done on Mays & Crowe's new warehouse and at present Fritz and Spivey are getting in their artistic touches in painting the same. Mr. Fritz informs us that it is almost impossible for he and Mr. Spivey to do the amount of work that they have on hand at present. As soon as they finish the work for Mays & Crowe they will begin on the Great Northern Furniture Co.'s new building, and outside of these they have a number of smaller jobs.

Yesterday the work of putting the gas lights in the new Catholic church was completed and last evening the new edifice was lit up and thrown open for visitors. The gas lights were put in by the Northwestern Light Co., of Portland, and this system is known as the Eagle Automatic Aceline Generator, which proves to be a very satisfactory system of lighting. The dedication of the new edifice will take place at 10 a. m., Thursday the 17th. A general invitation is extended to everyone in the city, special invitations having been issued only to persons living out of town.

The little 5-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Ballance, residing three miles east of Long Creek, met with a horrible accident Thursday evening that resulted in death a few hours later. At the time that the accident occurred Mrs. Ballance was in the barnyard, and one of the children came running out saying her little sister was on fire. When she reached the house she found the little one wrapped in flames. She removed its clothing as rapidly as possible and extinguished the flames, but too late, as the fire had burned its hands and body in a shocking manner. Medical aid was summoned and everything possible done to relieve the child's sufferings, but notwithstanding it died at 8 o'clock Friday morning in the most horrible agony.

The people of Cottage Grove were horror-stricken yesterday morning to learn that a murder had been committed there. Harry F. Stephens, while intoxicated, went to the Bohemia saloon at 10 o'clock Sunday night and assaulted N. J. Jones, the bartender. Jones evaded him the first time, and going on the other side of a billiard table, asked Stephens to go away and leave him alone. He asked for help from some bystanders, but they were afraid. Stephens rushed at Jones, throwing the latter down. Jones drew his knife and stabbed Stephens two or three times in the chest and once on the top of his head. Stephens was pulled off and carried home. He died at 2 a. m. Stephens had been a habitual drunkard for the last two years, and was a very dangerous man while drunk, having committed many acts of violence. He threatened to do up Jones because the latter refused him liquor time after time.

Death of Clarence Conkling.

At 7 p. m. yesterday Clarence Edward Conkling, eldest son of Sarah and H. H. Conkling, died at his parents' home, in this city. On Thursday morning he was kicked in the abdomen by a horse at the farm of J. D. Kelly, on 15 mile, and was brought to the city for treatment. He sustained very serious internal injuries, and from the time of the accident until his death his suffering was intense. The deceased was born in Iowa 23 years ago, and has lived in this city about fourteen years. He had the reputation of being an honest, upright and industrious boy, and it is sad to see one of this character taken away in his early manhood.

He leaves a father and mother, three brothers—Ernest, Bertie and Elda—and one sister, Gracie, to mourn his untimely death.

The funeral will take place from the M. E. church at 10 a. m. tomorrow. All friends of the family are invited to attend.

Smoke Cigars.

Why do we retail more Cigars than others?

Why do smokers go out of their way and pass cigars of the same grade?

Not because we have better cigars or better brands, or any greater variety; no, not that.

Why, because we have the finest cigar case in the state and keep our cigars in better condition.
