NEW MILITARY DEPARTMENTS.

In the reorganization or readjustment of the military departments the important changes are in the East, South, and lake districts. There are now three major generals on the active list, General Miles, Merritt and Brooke. General Merritt remains in command of the department of the East, with headquarters in New York; General Brooke in the new department of the lakes, with headquarters at Chicago, and Brigadier-General William M. Graham has been assigned to the new department of the gulf, with headquarters at Atlanta. General Graham has been in command of the department of Texas, with headquarters at San Antonio. The department of California, with General William R. Schafer in command, is left as it was. Brigadier-General James F. Wade has been in command of the department of Dakota; Brigadier-General H. C. Merriam in command of the department of the Columbia, with headquarters at Vancouver barracks; Brigadier-General Elmer S. Otis in command of the department of the Platte, with headquarters at Omaha.

The old departments, says the Inter Ocean, were arranged more with the wild tribes of the Indians in mind than with any menace to our seaboard, but the new departments are arranged with the defense of the seaboard in mind. All of the department officers are soldiers of experience and training. General Graham, the commander of the new department of the gulf, served with the army of the Potomac in the war for the Union, and distinguished himself in the peninsular campaign at the battle of Antietam and at the battle of Gettysburg. General Merritt, who, it is said, will be in command of the army in Cuba, if any force is sent to the island, was one of the most brilliant cavalry officers of the war for the union, and since that time has had experience that admirably fits him for active command in the field.

It is a fortunate circumstance that the commanding general of the army was one of the ablest officers of the old volunteer troops. He is not a graduate of West Point, though in theoretical and practical knowledge of the science and art of war he has no superior among American commanders. His thorough acquaintance with the temper and peculiarities of the United States volunteers will prove to be invaluable in the event of war upon a large scale, for in such a war the volunteer inevitably will be the central figure.

SIMPLICITY ITSELF.

A SIMPLE, HARMLESS REMEDY.

Yet it cures the Worst Cases of Dyspepsia and Indigestion.

Dr. Jennison, who has made a life study of stomach trouble, says: All forms of indigestion really amount to the same thing, that is, failure to completely digest the food eaten; no matter whether the trouble is acid dyspepsia or sour stomach, belching of wind, nervous dyspepsia or loss of flesh and appetite; a person will not have any of them if the stomach can be induced by any natural, harmless way to thoroughly digest what is eaten, and this can be done by a simple remedy which I have tested in hundreds of aggravated cases with complete success. The remedy is a combination of fruit and vegetable essences, pure aseptic pepsin and golden seal put up in the form of pleasant tasting tablets and sold by druggists under the name of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. One or two of these tablets should be taken after meals and allowed to dissolve in the mouth and mingling with the food in the stomach, digests it completely before it has time to ferment, decay and sour.

On actual experiment one grain of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest three thousand grains of meat, eggs and similar wholesome foods.

It is safe to say if this wholesome remedy was better known by people generally, it would be a national blessing, as we are a nation of dyspeptics and nine-tenths of all diseases owe their origin to imperfect digestion and nutrition.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are not a secret patent medicine, but a fifty cent package will do more real good for a weak stomach than fifty dollars worth of patent medicines and a person has the satisfaction of knowing just what he is putting into his stomach, which he does not know, when widely advertised patent medicines are used.

All druggists sell Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, full sized packages, 50cts. A little book on cause and cure of stomach troubles mailed free by addressing The Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich.
