IT WILL CAUSE WAR

Waiting for the Removal of Americans from Cuba.

ANOTHER DELAY OF FIVE DAYS

The President Announces That No Further Action Can Be Taken Until Monday—Report to Go In.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—It can be stated authoritatively that after a conference with the foreign affairs committee of both houses, the president has decided not to send in his message till Monday.

The cause of this decision was a dispatch from Consul-General Lee, received at the state department this morning, saying that it would be impossible to get all the Americans safely out of Cuba.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—At the request of the president a number of congressmen visited the White House this afternoon and looked over Lee's message.

The cable said that General Lee was loading 2,000 Americans, and that it would be impossible to get them out of the island before Sunday. He said the condition of affairs was inflamed, and the transmittal of the message might cause trouble.

The president frankly explained the situation. He said the message would have gone to congress today had it not been for the cablegram of General Lee. The safety of our citizens in Havana, and especially General Lee's personal safety made the delay imperative. The Democrats all expressed themselves as being satisfied.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—It is now very doubtful whether the message of the president will go to congress today, and if it goes in at all it will be late in the day. There is no reason to be learned as for this change of purpose, but there has developed an extreme hostility in congress among Republicans to what some of them have understood and believe to be the president's purpose. They oppose intervention at the discretion of the president, and also insist on the recognition of the independence of the Cubans.

The president sent for Senators Lodge, Frye and Davis, and also Representatives Cannon, Dingley and Adams. After they came out of the White House they refused to say a word regarding the conference, but on the arrival of Senator Davis at the capital he saw his colleagues on the foreign relations committee and informed one of them that no message would be sent to congress today.

In the senate, after the galleries had been cleared, Senator Davis explained the reason for the delay in sending the message. He said it was due to the fact that there had been some delay in getting Americans out of Havana, and that more time was absolutely necessary for this purpose. Hence the president did not consider it wise or humane to send in the message, which might precipitate serious trouble, and endanger the lives of those people.

The latest statement is that there will be no message until Monday, in order to let Lee and other Americans get out of Cuba safely.

Many alarming rumors were afloat this morning regarding the safety of Consul-General Lee and the other consular officers stationed in Cuba, some even going to the extent of declaring that some of them had been attacked by mobs. The officials of the state department attach no importance whatever to these rumors.

Assistant Secretary Day said in reply to an inquiry regarding the safety of General Lee, that it was more than probable that he would leave Havana during the afternoon, and that every precaution would be taken for the safety of the consular officers and citizen of the United States who are now residing in Cuba.

Attorney-General Griggs stated at 11:30 today, that he understood that General Lee would leave Havana at once. That all the Americans would be got out of Cuba at this time he was not sure, but Day is credited with saying that all of them would leave today.

Day was asked if either the recall of either Woodford, at Madrid, or Lee, at Havana, had been formally ordered by the government.

"No," was the reply.

First, because the colors are ground thoroughly in pure linseed oil by fine machinery; second, because it is made of high grade color, with the proper amount of dryers added to give it binding and lasting qualities, which prevent it from washing or rubbing off; third, it is much more economical, because it is always ready for use. "A word to the wise is sufficient" and a word from the wise should be sufficient, but you ask, who are the wise? Those who know. The oft repeated experience of trustworthy persons may be taken for knowledge. Mr. W. M. Terry says Chamberlain's Cough Remedy gives better satisfaction than any other in the market. He has been in the drug business at Elkton, Ky., for twelve years; has sold hundreds of bottles of this remedy and nearly all other cough medicines manufactured, which shows conclusively that Chamberlain's is the most satisfactory to the people, and is the best. For sale by Blakeley & Houghton.
