

SYRUP OF FIGS

ONE ENJOYS
Both the method and results when Syrup of Figs is taken; it is pleasant and refreshing to the taste, and acts gently yet promptly on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels, cleanses the system effectually, dispels colds, headaches and fevers and cures habitual constipation. Syrup of Figs is the only remedy of its kind ever produced, pleasing to the taste and acceptable to the stomach, prompt in its action and truly beneficial in its effects, prepared only from the most healthy and agreeable substances, its many excellent qualities commend it to all and have made it the most popular remedy known.
Syrup of Figs is for sale in 50 cent bottles by all leading druggists. Any reliable druggist who may not have it on hand will procure it promptly for any one who wishes to try it. Do not accept any substitute.

"A word to the wise is sufficient" and a word from the wise should be sufficient, but you ask, who are the wise? Those who know. The oft repeated experience of trustworthy persons may be taken for knowledge. Mr. W. M. Terry says Chamberlain's Cough Remedy gives better satisfaction than any other in the market. He has been in the drug business at Elkton, Ky., for twelve years; has sold hundreds of bottles of this remedy and nearly all other cough medicines manufactured, which shows conclusively that Chamberlain's is the most satisfactory to the people, and is the best. For sale by Blakeley & Bloughton.

Mrs. A. C. Stuhling & Son have hybrid and tea roses, three and four years old at 25 cents; young roses in bud at 15 cents or two for 25 cents; carnations at 15 cents, two for 25 cents; white and yellow marguerites; heliotropes, geraniums and fuchsias at 5 cents and up. Fancy 25 cents per dozen. 4-windlw

ENGLISHMAN OF ROMANCE.

Sir Edwin Arnold's Life in the Flowery Kingdom.
Sir Edwin Arnold, who legalized his union with a fascinating Japanese widow by an English marriage service in London recently, was always cosmopolitan in his ideas. Surely no Englishman born and bred has ever succeeded in merging his own individuality into that of other people's as the author of "The Light of Asia" and "The Light of the World" has done. When he was in India in his young days his work showed his intense sympathy with the Buddhists, and in the preface to "The Light of Asia" he wrote: "This book was written by one who loved India and the Indian people."
For two score of years he was English to the core of his heart in the editorials he wrote for the London Telegraph, and in 1890 he came to America, seemed quite able to understand us (as few of his countrymen could do), and then he went on to Japan and immediately began to live a Japanese.
He lived in a native house, left his shoes at his door, slept on a thick quilt and, they say, ate in true Japanese style. In his bedroom he had a cheap European washstand, two Japanese chests of drawers of white wood and black iron work, and the usual sliding cupboard, into which his bed was put when it was rolled up in the daytime.
The walls of the room were of tissue paper panels powdered with silver maple leaves, and a clear glass belt ran around the room "at a height inconducive to propriety," as one correspondent of the day remarked.
The drawing-room was glass paneled from door to ceiling, and the only thing in the whole house that hinted at other civilizations was an American stove, which stood in one of the corners.
With such surroundings it is not much wonder that the impressionable poet found himself going through the ceremony of tea drinking with his charming companion of the hour, and that he was content to accept the ceremony as a bona fide marriage is tribute to his kinship with genius that since the world began has ever flaunted a little the said laws and regulations that ordinary folks find necessary to comfortable existence.
It was in Japan, by the way, that Sir Edwin began "The Light of the World," and, indeed, completed it, too, during his stay of several years.—Philadelphia Record.

Smoke Cigars.
Why do we retail more Cigars than others?
Why do smokers go out of their way and pass cigars of the same grade?
Not because we have better cigars or better brands, or any greater variety; no, not that.
Why, because we have the finest cigar case in the state and keep our cigars in better condition.
