The Meeting Last Night.

Evangelist Miller was at his best in singing last night. Many new faces were in the audience, and it was plainly to be seen that they were captivated by the singing. The meeting was very informal and all seemed to feel at home. Said the preacher "I will not preach tonight, except in song.

After reading the parable of the rich man who pulled down his barns and built greater saying, "Soul, take thine ease; eat, sleep and be merry." But God said, "Thou foolish man; this night thy soul shall be required of thee; then whose shall these things be." The thought conveyed in the parable is that the man was profoundly selfish and totally dead and indifferent to God, his creator and benefactor, which is the dominating sin of today. The talk was brief, but telling.

Taking his seat at the organ he began: I sat alone with life's memories, In sight of the crystal sun; And I saw the thrones of the star-crowned ones, But never a crown for me.

When the song finished, profound silence reigned, and silent prayer followed. When the invitation was given, the front seat and altar was filled with anxious Christians and seeking sinners. The leader said: "I feel like singing 'What would you like?' 'The "Trundle Bed" was called for. This he sang with great pathos, and then blended song after song in together, until they all seemed to catch the spirit of joy, and the meeting closed with an old-fashioned shout in the camp.

Sunday evening will be Mr. Miller's last service. No one should fail to hear him sing.

The Shakers of Mount Lebanon, a community of simple, honest, God-fearing men and women, have prepared the Shaker Digestive Cordial for many years, and it is always the same, simple, honest, curative medicine that has helped to make the Shakers the healthy, long-lived people that they are. The Shakers never have indigestion. This is partly owing to their simple mode of life, partly to the wonderful properties of Shaker Digestive Cordial. Indigestion is caused by the stomach glands not supplying enough digestive juice. Shaker Digestive Cordial supplies what's wanting. Shaker Digestive Cordial invigorates the stomach and all its glands so that after awhile they don't need help. As evidence of the honesty of Shaker Digestive Cordial, the formula is printed on every bottle. Sold by druggists, price 10 cents to $1.00 a bottle.

Thin Blood

Where the blood loses its intense red—grows thin and watery, as in anemia, there is a constant feeling of exhaustion, a lack of energy—vitality and the spirits depressed.

Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil with Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda is peculiarly adapted to correct this condition. The cod-liver oil, emulsified to an exquisite fineness, enters the blood direct and feeds its every corpuscle, restoring the natural color and giving vitality to the whole system. The hypophosphites reach the brain and nerve centres and add their strengthening and beneficial effect. If the roses have left your cheeks, if you are growing thin and exhausted from over-work, or if age is beginning to tell, use SCOTT'S Emulsion.

Be sure you get SCOTT'S Emulsion. All druggists; 50c. and $1.00. SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, New York.

A London Doctor's Peculiar Experience with a Patient.

The Treatment is More Geographical Than Medical, Showing the Trouble to lie of a Mental Nature.

Dr. William O'Neill, late physician to several Lincoln institutions, sends the following account of a strange experience to the Lancet. It describes a case of that very old and commonplace complaint, jealousy, or "spirit of jealousy," as it is named in the Scriptures, where it is fully described and treated.

Some years ago, he states, I was requested to visit a lady who, it was represented to me, was very ill and required immediate attention. On entering the house I was shown into the so-called sick room, in which there were three persons, all of whom seemed to me to be in good health. There were present an old lady (owner of the house) and her daughter, who had arrived a few days previously from a neighboring county to spend two or three weeks with her mother, and the daughter's husband, whose visit was only to be for a day or two.

The man was about 35 years of age, small in stature, swarthy in complexion and plain looking. The wife was a striking contrast to her husband. She was rather tall, remarkably fair and handsome and was a few years younger than her good man. I asked which of them was the patient, but no answer having been given to my inquiry, I asked again. Then the younger lady, with some hesitation, said: "I am the patient, and my complaint is jealousy. I am jealous of my husband, and if you do not give me something to relieve me I shall go out of my mind."

This accusation against the little man seemed to me to be most ridiculous; indeed, I could not help thinking that if the accuser had been the accused it would have been more in the nature of things. I assured the lady I was extremely sorry for her, the more so that I was quite incompetent to treat such a case. The husband protested his innocence and declared there was no cause whatever for her accusations. The wife persisted in reiterating them, and so the wrangle went on till suddenly she fell from her chair on the floor in a fit of spasmodic movements of which were strange and varied.

At one moment the patient was extended at full length with her body arched forward in a state of opisthotonos. The next minute she was in a sitting position with the legs drawn up, making, while her hands clutched her throat, a guttural noise. Then she would throw herself on her back and thrust her arms and legs about, to the no small danger of those around her. Then becoming comparatively quiet and supine, she would quiver all over, while her eyelids trembled with great rapidity. This state perhaps would be followed by general convulsive movements, in which she would put herself in the most grotesque postures and make the most unlovely grimaces.

At last the fit ended, and exhausted and in tears, she was put to bed. The patient was a lithe, muscular woman, and to restrain her movements during the attack with the assistance at hand was a matter of impossibility; so all that could be done was to prevent her injuring herself and to sprinkle her freely with cold water.

The after treatment was more geographical than medical. The husband ceased doing business in a certain town where the object of his wife's suspicions lived. He was enabled to do so by the kindness of a friend, who exchanged part of his district with him. The fit was not the disease, but it was the symptom or manifestation of a mind diseased or deranged, the state of the mind being the result of a woman's broodings over her real or imaginary wrongs.—London Mail.
