TUESDAY - - APRIL 26, 1898

GOOD MORNING.

THE CHRONICLE presents itself to the reading public under new circumstances this morning. In accordance with the announcement made last week, THE CHRONICLE is now a morning paper, publishing telegraphic reports as complete as can be obtained. Such arrangements have been made which will insure a thorough telegraphic service, and though the expense connected with this new departure will be materially increased, yet we believe that by the co-operation of the citizens of The Dalles, the venture will be a successful one.

The Dalles has never had a morning paper which published telegraphic reports. The two evening papers have done their best to cover the local field, and now it seems as though conditions were ripe for enlarging the scope and influence of this paper. It may be stated at the outset that every endeavor will be made to give to the people of this city and tributary country a newspaper which shall be, in every respect, worthy the name.

Already gratifying results have been obtained in securing additional advertising and new subscribers. We shall still seek more. THE CHRONICLE does not ask for anything except that it receive fair support in the advertising and printing departments. We will promise you a paper that will be worth far more than the subscription price.

As it has in the past striven faithfully to do, THE CHRONICLE will in the future work for the advancement, financial, social and moral, of the city and country, a part of which it is. No less than this can any honest paper do, nor is it wise to attempt more.

As an experiment the attempt to conduct a morning paper in The Dalles will be watched with interest. The prospect seems bright, and with the endeavor which shall be made to be faithful to the public, success is almost certain.

The sending by President McKinley of his message to congress will result in an official declaration of war. It is perhaps necessary from the standpoint of international law, but it is pointless as affecting the feeling of the American people. In their hearts war was declared long ago—when the gallant Maine sunk in the harbor mud and the brave sailor boys met eternity without a moment's warning. Revenge may not be a Christian virtue, but we are human enough to want it now and then. We shall get it now, and though the destruction of Spanish ships will not yield back the sailors of the Maine, it will say to the world that the murderers of that night in Havana harbor were tried, condemned and punished.

Already the markets are feeling the effect of the Spanish war. Flour and wheat are going above the highest prices of the season. The tendency is towards speculative conditions, and when the exact status of things is determined, there will be a sudden reaction.

This capturing of diminutive fishing boats and small sized freight steamers by our war ships is but the play part of war. It counts for much in showing the enthusiasm of the men, but does not mean that this pleasant cruising on the still waters of the Southern sea will long continue. Besides, we may hear at any time of the Spaniards turning the tables upon us at the other side of the Atlantic.

"Read the news at the breakfast table" is what the citizens of The Dalles may do from now on. Everything complete, fresh and as nearly reliable as can be made is the aim of THE CHRONICLE.

"A word to the wise is sufficient" and a word from the wise should be sufficient, but you ask, who are the wise? Those who know. The oft repeated experience of trustworthy persons may be taken for knowledge. Mr. W. M. Terry says Chamberlain's Cough Remedy gives better satisfaction than any other in the market. He has been in the drug business at Elkton, Ky., for twelve years; has sold hundreds of bottles of this remedy and nearly all other cough medicines manufactured, which shows conclusively that Chamberlain's is the most satisfactory to the people, and is the best. The Spring Chicken.

There is no need of special remedies for the young and healthy person. The spring chicken has been noted for its unwieldiness. If you would have health and keep it, you must be wise and prudent. When you have a symptom, go after it. Prevent its developing. When you are well, keep well. The only way you may be by having the best drugs at hand at all times.
