A band of fine beef cattle were brought in by Mr. Floyd, of 5-Mile, yesterday afternoon, and sold to the Columbia Packing Co.

The river is coming up gradually but as yet there is no signs of a rapid rise and the chances are there will be but a moderate stage of water this year.

Yesterday 500 sacks of wheat were hauled to the D. P. & A. N. wharf for shipment to Portland, and will be forwarded on the Dalles City this morning.

In the guessing contest as to the number of condy beans in a jar at the Kick-spo show last night, the lady's gold watch was won by Miss Webber, of Walla Walla, while the gent's watch was won by Pearlle Haslam.

The residence of William Splawn, near North Yakima, burned last Thursday morning at 7 o'clock, including most of its contents. The loss is estimated at about $2500; insurance, $1200. The fire originated in a defective flue.

A special meeting of Azalia Rebekah lodge No. 100, is called for Friday evening, April 29th, at 8 p. m., in the Odd Fellows hall, for the purpose of electing a delegate to the Rebekah Assembly of Oregon, and for the transaction of such other business as may come before the meeting.

"Dakota Slim" McDonald will be confined in the Walla Walla county jail pending his trial. "Slim" was removed from the Whitman county jail, at Colfax, to Pomeroy, on a change of venue, and as no suitable and secure quarters could be provided at Pomeroy he was taken to Walla Walla.

A large number of teams are loading at present for points in the interior, and still the freight in the warehouses seems to be increasing rather than diminishing. The number of teamsters will increase greatly when the wool season opens, and the merchandise which is stored at the place will be hauled to interior points and its place will be taken by wool.

The first copy of Sherman county's new paper, the People's Republic, which is printed at Wasco, reached us today. The well arranged and newsy weekly is edited by W. J. Peddicord, and will advocate the principles of the Peoples' Party of Sherman county. As this is the only Peoples' Party paper in that county it should do well, and we heartily wish it success.

The city of Antelope will in all probability have a new and complete system of waterworks in the near future. The large spring above the city has been purchased and the water will be run from this into a reservoir, from which the water mains will be laid. This is a wise move on the part of the people of that prosperous little city, and shows a spirit of enterprise.

Word was received yesterday that W. E. Woodcock who is in the employ of Mr. Lake, the Wamic sawmill man, accidentally shot himself through the hand Sunday. It seems he was handling a pistol, when in some manner it was discharged with the above result. Fortunately the bullet did not break any bones in going through, and the wound is not as serious as it might otherwise have been.

Last night Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Stubling and son, Arthur, arrived on the 11:40 train. We understand that Arthur has volunteered and will serve in Co. I, O. N. G., and has come home to bid his sister good bye before that company receives orders to move. Arthur is like the rest of our brave Dalles boys, anxious to serve his country, and has laid aside his studies in the Oregon university to fight for his country's flag.

The Vogt was comfortably filled last evening by a well pleased audience who witnessed the rendition of "Master and Man" by the Bittner company. Each actor did his part to the satisfaction of the entire audience, and the specialties between acts were also of an interesting and highly amusing character. After the show the members of the company, some of whom are Elks, were taken to the hall and entertained royally by their brothers.

MILITIA MOVES FRIDAY.

CO. G OF THE DALLES HAS ORDERS TO THAT EFFECT.

Excitement Runs High—Recruits Coming In—Many Enlisting—Examinations Held by Dr. Brosius Last Evening.

It would have been hard to conceive a more active scene than was presented at the armory yesterday afternoon and last night. Orders had been issued to the boys by Governor Lord to come together and make ready to leave, and in compliance with this demand at least forty of the soldier lads were on hand. Others volunteered their services, and by 6 o'clock the number had greatly increased.

At 5:20 Dr. Brosius, of Hood River, assistant regimental surgeon, arrived, and shortly afterwards began the examinations to ascertain the condition of the boys physically and otherwise. As yet his report has not been made, and we cannot in this issue give the result of this examination.

Over the door of the armory was the following inscription:

"REMEMBER THE MAINE"

Enthusiasm ran high among the members of the company, as well as among many who were anxious to enlist, but are held back by family ties or business interests. It is evident, however, that in case of an urgent call nothing will keep them back, and Oregon will come to the front bravely.

The only thing that bothered the boys was when they would be likely to get away. When the orders came that they move to Portland Friday, they were received with pleasure.

The following is the list of officers and men in Co. G at present:

Captain—J S Booth.
Second Lieutenant—G E Bartel.
First Sergeant—D C Lemison.
Quartermaster—L S Fritz.
Second Sergeant—A Ulrich.
Third Sergeant—M E Cushing.
Fourth Sergeant—M J Barton.
Fifth Sergeant—Ben Ulrich.
First Corporal—J Landman.
Second Corporal—R A Spivey.
Third Corporal—A F Martip.
Fourth Corporal—H A Staniels.

Privates—Joe Kohler, A A Bonner, C M Bonner, W E Bonner, B Hanson, W W Brown, W M Brown, G Dufur, E Davenport, S R Gilliam, S F Fouts, F Friedly, W G Harding, M Harrington, Z Harvey, Arthur Kennedy, Fred Kennedy, E R Lemison, W E Lukinburg, Frank Marcus, Billy Nichols, G A Phirman, J E Stilwell, Guy Southwell, Thos. Smiley, G E Smiley, C A Stringer, E Kerns, S C Turnbow, John Cooper, W Reavis, F W Clark, Will Norman, Fred Hillstrom, G A Cratty, Walter Dickey. Captain Booth came up from Portland last night, and the boys will be in readiness to move at a moment's notice.

In all probability they will depart on the early morning train Friday for Portland, where the state forces have orders to rendezvous.

BURGLARS AT WORK AGAIN.

Three Residences Entered and Burglarized Monday Night.

Three daring burglaries took place in our city some time Monday night or Tuesday morning.

William Mitchell's residence, on Fourth street, was entered by the side door and a suit of clothes which he had been wearing taken, in the pockets of which were a bunch of keys and some small change. Nothing else was taken. Upon looking around the premises this morning he found the pair of pants which were stolen some weeks ago, in the vacant lot adjoining his residence.

Truman Buttler's residence, on the same street, was entered during the night and his pantaloons rifled, in the pocket of which they found his purse and also his wife's, containing $5. However they were kind enough to leave the garment on the porch, as well as the purses, taking the money.

The next place where they attempted to make a haul was the residence of George Miller, near the Christian church. Here they made a better find than at either of the other places, having secured about $15 in cash.

At Mr. Buttler's they seemed to effect their entrance by means of a nipper, with which they caught the end of the key and turned it.

There undoubtedly are some smooth burglars in this city, who are perpetrating these robberies, and people should be very careful about locking their doors and should not keep any great amount of money on hand for fear they may be relieved of it.

BEATEN TO DEATH.

A Baker County Wagoner Killed in a Row.

James Reed, a wood-hauler of Beaver creek, seven miles south of Baker City, was standing on a hill talking to W. T. Russell, a rancher, Thursday, between 6 and 7 P. M.; when Oliver and William Marshall came along in a wood wagon.

The Marshalls stopped and got out of their wagon, William taking out the wagon post and dropping it on the ground. Oliver went up to Reed and asked: "Is that true that you have been saying?" Reed said: "You are looking for trouble. Leave me alone. I don't want to have anything to do with you, Oliver." Oliver again asked Reed whether he had used a certain expression regarding his wife, and, without waiting for a reply, struck at him twice with a slingshot. Reed dodged and grabbed Oliver by the shoulder and pushed him to the ground. While Reed was standing over Oliver, holding him down William Marshall picked up the wagon post, came up behind Reed and struck him three times on the back of the head. Reed staggered against the wagon, holding up his hands, and William struck him again. At this juncture, Russell, who is a one-legged man, interfered and stopped further blows. William Waldo, a 13-year-old boy, who was an eye witness, with the aid of Russell, put Reed in a wagon and took him home. He died Saturday at 8 p. m. At the inquest, Sunday, the coroner's jury returned a verdict of unjustifiable killing against the Marshalls, who were arrested Friday night. They are now in jail, charged with murder, awaiting preliminary examination.

A Choice.

It rests with you what instrument you buy. Some persons prefer stringed instruments, others wind instruments. It's all a matter of preference. Coming to The Dalles.

The following poetical effusion in answer to the circular invitation of Capt. Lewis, chairman of the executive committee, to join the ceremonies connected with the Grand Army encampment, to be held here on the 17th, 18th and 19th of May, It breathes the proper spirit and voices the sentiments of the large crowd of old soldiers, who will be here on that occasion:

We are coming to The Dalles, and we hope to be on time.
We will meet you at the great Columbia's brink;
And, as in Billie Sherman's time, we will march with you in line.
After which we'll join you in a social—think.
If the boat will hold her dock until half past 9 o'clock,
The valley train will bring us fifty strong.
On the sixteenth day of May, about the dawn of day,
We will purchase round trip tickets for a song.
We will lay aside our cares, homework and home affairs,
We're coming to The Dalles to have a time.
We'll try with all our might to show you we're all right,
And thank you for your courtesy sublime.
