Beats the Klondike

Mr. A. C. Thomas, of Marysville, Tex., has found a more valuable discovery than has yet been made in the Klondike. For years he suffered untold agony from consumption, accompanied by hemorrhages; and was absolutely cured by Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds.

"Uncle Jimmy" Walters, 87 years of age, was killed by a bull two days ago, near Waterville, Wash., but the fact was not known until yesterday. It was discovered that the bull had broken through a fence and overtaken Mr. Walters and crushed him to death, breaking several ribs on each side of his body.

"A word to the wise is sufficient" and a word from the wise should be sufficient, but you ask, who are the wise? Those who know. The oft repeated experience of trustworthy persons may be taken for knowledge. Mr. W. M. Terry says Chamberlain's Cough Remedy gives better satisfaction than any other in the market.

The English Are Opposed to the Teaching of Servants.

An American visitor to England who spends some little time in the country, says J. N. Larnow, in the Atlantic, can hardly fail to become conscious of three serious facts: (1) That there is a strong class-feeling against much education for those who are looked on as underlings and servants—a feeling more prevalent and more pronounced than the shamed sentiment of like meanness that is whispered in some snobbish American circles.

Honesty in the Empire City.

The proprietor of one of Manhattan's most fashionable hostels ordered $5,000 worth of table silverware the other day. When the goods were delivered he refused to take them at any price, as the name of the hotel had been stamped upon them.

At the East End Feed Yard.

Harper Bros., of the East End feed yard have a thoroughbred Jersey bull, which they will stand for the season at the feed yards. For terms apply to the above.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury.

As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them.

A torpid liver robs you of ambition and ruins your health. DeWitt's Little Early Risers cleanse the liver, cure constipation and all stomach and liver trouble.

What is Scott's Emulsion?

It is a strengthening food and tonic, remarkable in its flesh-forming properties. It contains Cod-Liver Oil emulsified or partially digested, combined with the well-known and highly prized Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda, so that their potency is materially increased.

What Will It Do?

It will arrest loss of flesh and restore to a normal condition the infant, the child and the adult. It will enrich the blood of the anemic; will stop the cough, heal the irritation of the throat and lungs, and cure incipient consumption.

A FEW HINTS.

The Eye is the Window of the Soul—Beware How You Use It.

When should spectacles first be used, and those in use abandoned? First—When you are obliged to move small objects to a considerable distance from the eye in order to see them distinctly.

Second—If you find it necessary to get more light than formerly—as for instance, to place the light between the eyes and the object.

Third—If, on looking at and attentively considering a near object, it becomes confused and appears to have a kind of mist before it.

Fourth—When the letters of a book or paper run together and appear to have doubled or trebled.

Fifth—If the eyes are fatigued by a little exercise so that you are obliged to shut them from time to time, or relieve them by looking at other objects.

Sixth—If black spots or flakes appear before the eyes or seem floating around the eyes.

Seventh—If the eyes become inflamed or heated or any other exercise.

If you observe any of the above signs or signals of distress, it should claim your immediate attention. The eye, like the rest of the body, slowly but surely reaches the acme—the meridian of its strength and perfection—then passes into a condition of weakness and decay.

That is what it was made for. DeWitt's Little Early Risers, The Liver Pills.
