During a thunder storm Friday, E. F. Larice, assayer and metallurgist at the Old Dominion mine, near Colville, had a narrow escape from death by a stroke of lightning. The thunder bolt struck so close to his head that his hat was knocked off and the hair was nearly all singed off of his head.

Saturday Fred Walker, who shot and severely wounded J. C. O'Leary last Sunday, will have his preliminary hearing before Justice Bourhill at Grass Valley. At present he is out on bail.

Once more we wish to remind our readers that the MORNING CHRONICLE furnishes the news 12 hours ahead of the Oregonian and 18 hours ahead of the Telegram. If you wish to be up with the times subscribe for the CHRONICLE.

Yesterday 16 applicants for county certificates were being examined by Superintendent Gilbert. Along with those two are making application for state certificates. At present we cannot announce the result of the examination.

Saturday night burglars made an entrance into O'Brien's grocery store, in Cheney, and pried open the money-drawer, but secured nothing of value. At Geogor's saloon they secured $5 in small change and some cigars and bottled goods.

Mrs. G. O. Calhoun, wife of Dr. Calhoun, who was one of Washington's world's fair commissioners, died Monday morning at her home in Seattle, of cerebral hemorrhage. She was 61 years of age, and came to the Sound in 1861. She left a husband and a large family of sons and daughters.

The arch for the Grand Army reunion was raised into position yesterday and presents a very pretty appearance, reflecting much credit upon the workmen who constructed it. On it is the inscription "Welcome, G. A. R.," and by the reception they will receive in our city, the fact that they are welcome will be vividly demonstrated.

Yesterday morning at about the time the Chronicle was going to press the force noticed a blaze in the west end and at once turned in an alarm. On investigation, however, it was found unnecessary, for the conflagration was caused by nothing more than the burning of an Indian camp in the west end. The department learned the cause of the disturbance and did not turn out.

Charles H. Proseke, a Grant county sheep herder, met with a painful accident near Fossil last week. He had shot at and missed a coyote, and was working the lever of his Winchester rifle preparatory to taking another shot, when a cartridge exploded in his face. The powder burned his face frightfully, and a piece of the brass shell lodged in his cheek, making an ugly hole.

Constable Burchill, of Hunter creek precinct, arrived in Colville Sunday night, having in charge J. F. Rumsey, who is charged with shooting William J. Elkins, at Hunter, Saturday afternoon. A complaint was lodged in Justice Pettengill's court, charging Rumsey with assault with a deadly weapon with the intent to kill. Rumsey plead not guilty, waived examination and was held in the sum of $500 bail to answer at the coming term of the superior court. It is said that Elkins is not seriously hurt. The prosecuting attorney will await more definite information before making any filing in the superior court. The affray is said to be the outcome of a dispute over money matters.

Yesterday afternoon the ladies' society of the Lutheran church chartered the wagonette and were driven to the home of Mrs. H. Klindt, about three miles below town, where they spent the afternoon in a most pleasant manner. It is not necessary to say they were royally entertained when the name of the hostess appears, nor to mention what tempting refreshments were placed before them. Suffice to say the business matters of the society were allowed to remain in the background on this occasion.

Forest fires are raging at this early date in Whatcom county. Tuesday a large force of men was struggling with fires only four miles from Whatcom's limits. Their efforts were directed to the saving of about 400 cords of shingle-bolts, worth about $1000. Never before, say old-timers, has the country been as dry at this time of the year as it is now. The starting of forest fires this early presages anything but a pleasant summer season.

Two workmen from a steel gang on the O. R. & N. below Wallula were taken to St. Mary's hospital, in Walla Walla, Sunday night, making a total of 10 who have been disabled since the work was started. The toes of most of the men were crushed by rails slipping and falling on them. The ankle joint of one man named Johnson was torn open, and for several days his condition was so serious that it was feared amputation would be necessary.

A dispatch was received yesterday stating that Donald McDonald, a prominent sheepman, had been killed at North Yakima, by being dragged by a horse. No other particulars could be learned at present. He has a brother, Ronald, in the sheep business near Antelope, and word was immediately sent to him. Mr. McDonald was a very pleasant gentleman to meet and one that was universally liked. We are very sorry to note his early and untimely death.

A. J. Gillis, United States court commissioner, residing at Woolley, was arrested a few days ago on a warrant issued by Judge Hanford upon the application of District Attorney W. R. Gay, in which he is charged with having accepted fees from settlers in the vicinity of Woolley for the transmission of final proofs to the land office in Seattle. It is charged that Gillis failed to transmit the proofs placed in his possession as an officer of the law, and also withheld the fees, which should have been forwarded to Seattle.

NOTICE.

Dog license must be renewed on or before May 12th. All dogs found running at large after May 12th without new tags, will be placed in the city pound.
CHAS. F. LAUER, Marshal.

Discharged From Custody.

Ray Tibbets, who was arrested some time since on suspicion of being implicated in the robbery of the postoffice at Arlington, has had the charge against him wiped off the slate. When arrested he gave bail for his appearance, and went to Eugene, where he has friends. When war was declared against Spain, he enlisted in the National Guard and was one of the company sent to Portland from Eugene. He passed muster, and was booked for the Philippines. Wednesday he appeared before the United States grand jury in his uniform, having obtained a pass allowing him to leave camp for a short time. He explained the situation to the jury, and as there was only slight evidence of his having been in any way connected with the postoffice robbery, and his patriotism striking the jury favorably, he was given the benefit of the doubt in his case, and "not a true bill" was rendered in his case. He went away with his comrades Wednesday night en route for the Philippines.

The Funeral of Mrs. Johns.

The funeral of Mrs. Thos. Johns, which took place from the Calvary Baptist church yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock, was very largely attended by relatives and friends of the deceased. Elders Wilburn and Baker officiated, the latter delivering a very appropriate address. The choir, composed of Mrs. W. G. Woodworth, Miss G. McIntosh, Mrs. Sechler, W. C. Allaway and Robt. McIntosh, sang "Asleep in Jesus" and "Nearer My God to Thee," and Mrs. Woodworth sang a beautiful solo. At the grave the choir again sang an appropriate hymn. The pall bearers were Robt. Lowe, W. C. Allaway, Geo. Krause, W. Hughes, C. C. Hobart, W. Campbell. The interment was made in Sunset cemetery, and the floral decorations were so numerous that when the friends left the resting place of the departed the grave was literally covered with flowers.

Three Pendleton business places were entered by burglars between Sunday afternoon and Monday morning. A slot machine, three bottles of champagne and three of whiskey and eight boxes of cigars were taken from William Reech's saloon. J. W. Miller, who runs a butcher shop, lost more than $6. Nothing was taken from Schwartz & Greulich's butcher shop.

News reached Tacoma Tuesday night of a serious accident to a freight train conductor named William McGuire, at Scappoose Monday night. McGuire fell between two cars and his shoulders were crushed into a jelly. He was taken to Portland, where his right arm was removed at the shoulder. The trainmen report that McGuire has little chance of recovery.
