We learn from Mrs. John O'Leary, who came up from Portland Wednesday night to attend the graduating exercises of St. Mary's Academy, that her husband, who was shot several weeks ago by young Walker at Grass Valley, is getting along as nicely as could be expected. For a time it was feared that he would lose his leg, but the doctors have concluded they can save it. Her son, Albert, who was recently graduated from Ann Arbor medical college, is in Portland with his father.

The ice cream social given by the Lutheran ladies last evening was a grand success. At 9:30 the ice cream gave out, but a new supply was immediately secured which was ample to supply all demands. The program was varied and interesting throughout. Irwin Parkins and Professor Ryan rendered two guitar and mandolin solos. Miss Clara Nickelson gave a piano solo, while Misses Clara and Julia Nickelson rendered two beautiful instrumental duets. Professor Lundell also sang, and his selection received the usual applause and encore. Miss Georgia Sampson played several selections on the piano. As yet we have not learned what the proceeds of the festival were but are sure the ladies realized a handsome sum.

THE PORTLAND EXPOSITION.

Dates on Which It Will Be Held—Prospects for the Display.

The exposition to be held in Portland this year, opening September 22 and closing October 22, promises to be the largest, best and most successful ever held. In 1895 and 1896 it was given under the auspices of well-known business men of Portland, as it will be this year.

It is conducted, not for profit on the part of the committee, but to display to the people of the Pacific Northwest and to many Eastern visitors who may be sojourning in our midst, the wonderful resources of this favored section of our country.

There will be given prizes consisting of cups, medals and diplomas for all the best and most meritorious exhibits of grasses, grain, fruits (fresh and preserved), vegetables, etc.

Exhibits from Eastern Oregon will certainly take some prizes. Space is free. Exhibits will be transported without cost and there will be no expense to the exhibitor.

Anyone wishing to make exhibits or any inquiry concerning the exposition will receive a prompt reply when addressed to W. B. Struble, the secretary of the Oregon Industrial Exposition, Portland, Or.

HYMENIAL.

Mr. J. L. Miller and Miss Emma Mack United in Marriage.

On Wednesday evening, June 15th, Mr. J. M. Miller and Miss Emma Mack were united in matrimony. The ceremony was solemnized at the residence of the bride's mother, Mrs. Andrew Kellar, of this city, Rev. L. Grey, of the Lutheran church, officiating, and was attended by only a few intimate friends and members of the family.

The dining room was beautifully decorated with flowers and evergreens, and a splendid wedding supper was served. The bride is favorably known in this city, and is a great favorite with those who recognize her worth and know her sweet, generous disposition. The groom is an enterprising young business man of San Joaquin, Calif.

The young couple left on the early morning train yesterday for their California home.

The Final Examinations.

Wednesday the result of the final examination of the pupils of St. Mary's Academy was made known to the young ladies of the various departments. Those who reached the required maximums were honorably promoted to the higher grades. Premiums for excellence in the music department were awarded to Genevieve Fish, Alice Nolan, K. Skibbe, R. Donovan and Delia Brogan. The honors of the day, however, were reserved for four young ladies, Misses Edna Smith, Lizzie Brogan, Rosemary Baldwin and Annie McNeil, upon whom were conferred diplomas of graduation for having successfully completed the grammar course of study required by the institution. The teachers and young ladies of the academy express themselves highly pleased with the results of the year's work.

GRADUATING EXERCISES.

Held at St. Mary's Academy Yesterday—Virginia Hilgen Graduates With High Honors—A Splendid Program Throughout.

The commencement exercises of St. Mary's academy took place in the large hall of the convent yesterday afternoon, and was well attended.

The stage was beautifully decorated with flowers, potted plants, and the class colors, lavender and white, while in large letters above the stage was the motto of the class of '98, "To Higher Levels Rise." The young ladies were all attired in white dresses and the effect throughout was very pretty.

The program began promptly at 2 p. m., the opening number being a selection on the pianos, a Sonata by Mozart, by eight young ladies. Each and every one of them executed their parts faultlessly.

The entire school then joined in the beautiful chorus, "With Music Glad, Our Welcome Blends." Their singing was faultless, being sweet and harmonious.

A dialogue "The Troubles of the Little Folks," was well rendered, and the applause was certainly sufficient to prove that it was highly appreciated.

The number following was an essay by Miss Mary Virginia Hilgen, of Dalles, the graduate of this year. Her subject, "The Harp," was handled in a most thorough and charming manner. She traced its origin and history down from ancient times to later years when it was emblematic of the Emerald Isle. Her illustrations were well made and betrayed the marks of application and learning. Although Miss Hilgen is the only member of this year's class, still her Alma Mater may well feel proud of the class of '98.

The piano selection, "Vase Brillante," by eight young ladies, was played in a manner that would do credit to artists, and certainly reflected great credit alike on the pupils and their teachers.

An aesthetic drill by fourteen girls, in costume, was remarkably graceful, and all, from the little tots of six summers to the older girls, did their parts admirably.

The beautiful drama, "Virtue Rewarded," passed off without a perceptible error.

The orchestra, consisting of about thirty pieces, appeared, and by their beautiful and harmonious playing of difficult selections from the old masters, astonished everyone and drew hearty applause from the large audience.

The musical program was concluded by the vocal trio, "Sunshine, Song and Flowers," after which the entire school marched on the stage, where the graduating honors were awarded to Miss Virginia Hilgen, a gold medal and diploma being presented to her by the institution.

The gold medal, donated by Rev. Brongseest, was given for proficiency in vocal music to Miss May Johnston.

The gold medal, given by the institution for Christian doctrine, was awarded to Miss Virginia Hilgen. The gold medal for highest class average in the senior department, which was donated by Dr. and Mrs. Hollister, was awarded to Miss Edna Smith.

The medal for highest class average in the preparatory class was donated by the institution to Miss Mary Howe.

A medal donated by Miss Jane Connors, of the Portland Business College, was awarded to Mary A. Connelly for proficiency in plain sewing, while the gold medal donated by Miss Catharine Brogan, of The Dalles, was given to Mary Goerner. A gold medal donated by James Dugan, of Ashland, was given
