News was brought to the city yesterday of the death of Marguerite, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Glary, of Dufur. She was their only child and an exceptionally bright little girl for one of only two years. Her death is a sad blow to her bereaved parents and they have the sympathy of the entire community in which they live. The funeral will take place from the home of the parents, on Tygh Ridge, today.

Captain J. H. Dukes, of Hood River, lately received from his old home in Illinois, the sword which he carried through the civil war. It was stolen from him some eighteen years ago, and since the present war began and he expects to command a company if more troops are called for, he caused the lost sword to be advertised. A few days ago it came to him by express. It has engraved on the scabbard his name and the battles he passed through, and of course he values it very highly.

A new mining district is being developed at the head of Pierson creek, 25 miles south of Pendleton. It has been known for several years that gold ledges existed in that section of the country and a little mining has been done, but nothing very rich has ever been discovered. Wednesday nine locations were recorded at the county recorder's office, of claims newly found. The main ledge is thought to be discovered, and the prospects are encouraging. Several assays are reported to be from $30 to $40 a ton.

Last evening Nightwatchman Wiley was kept busy with a number of Indians who had secured liquor from some source. Two arrests were made of Indians who were intoxicated and boisterous and all that prevented others from going to the skookum house was that they betook themselves to their camps near the river and behaved like gentlemen. A Klickitat Indian and his better half drove down Second street at a rapid rate and were pursued by the nightwatchman. In spite of the fleetness of the Indian's horses he was overtaken at Nolan's corner and an explanation demanded. He stated he was not drunk but feeling good and was allowed to proceed on his way after being admonished not to make so much noise in the future. Mr. Wiley at present holds an enviable record as a sprinter.

A Serious Runaway.

Yesterday morning about 10 o'clock Mrs. William Crawford and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. N. W. Crawford, and a little girl were coming to The Dalles in a hack. In driving down a hill about one-half mile from the river something went wrong and the team became frightened and started to run. All three were thrown out in a pile of rocks and the ladies sustained severe injuries. They were brought to The Dalles and taken to Dr. Doane's office, where Drs. Sutherland, Logan and Doane attended them. It was found that the elder Mrs. Crawford's arm was broken just above the wrist and she was considerably bruised about the head and body. The young ladies sustained a dislocation of the shoulder and was otherwise painfully bruised. The little girl was not injured in the least. They will remain in their room in the Chapman block for a few days before they are removed home.

Weather Bureau Report.

The temperature is normal or above over the entire Columbia river basin. With these temperature conditions the upper rivers will cease to rise. These facts show that the snow is melted from the mountains except on the higher elevations and that a further rise will not occur.

The river above the Cascades will remain nearly stationary or fall slightly for the next twenty-four hours, when the fall will be quite steady. West of the Cascades the fall will begin on Monday and Tuesday. The Willamette at Portland will rise probably .3 of a foot more when the fall will begin. For the next seven days the fall will be slight, after which it will probably be more rapid.
