ARMY OF INVASION HAS BEEN LANDED NEAR SANTIAGO

The Last Man of the Invading Forces Stepped Ashore at 1 O'clock this Morning, No Opposition Being Offered.

NEW YORK, June 23.—A special dated at Playa del Este, Cuba, today, says that at 1 o'clock this morning the last of General Shafter's army of invasion had landed at Baiquiri.

BAIQUIRI HARBOR, Cuba, June 22, via Kingston, Jamaica, June 23.—At 5 o'clock this afternoon 6000 trained American soldiers are camped in and around Baiquiri and 10,000 more rest on their arms on board the transports ready to join those who have debarked, as soon as the launches and boats are available to carry them ashore.

The navy co-operated splendidly, and as the big warships closed in on the shore to pave the way for the approach of the transports and then went back again, three cheers for the navy went up from ten thousand throats on board the transports, and cheers also arose for the army from ship to ship as the troops moved in to take their share in the hazardous game.

The Cuban insurgents bore their share of the enterprise honorably and well. Five thousand of them in the mountain fastnesses and dark thickets of the ravines, lay all night on their guns watching every mountain path leading from Santiago de Cuba to Guantamano. One thousand were within sight of Baiquiri, making the approach of Spaniards under cover of the darkness almost impossible.

As the dispatch boat of the Associated Press ran in where the New Orleans was lying, with her great Armstrong guns trained on Baiquiri, tongues of lurid flame and black smoke were seen rising in the town, the inevitable consequence of war, and a sure sign that the Spaniards had gone, leaving ruin behind. Between nightfall and dawn the Spaniards had taken alarm and fled from the place, firing the town as they left.

Three hours' waiting made the men on the transports impatient to get ashore and in action, and every move of the warships was closely watched by the soldiers. A little before 9 o'clock the bombardment of the batteries of Jaragua was begun. This was evidently a feint to cover the real point of attack, Jaragua being about half way between Baiquiri and Santiago.

The bombardment lasted about 20 minutes. The scene was quickly shifted back again to the great semi-circle of the transport fleet before Baiquiri. At 9:40 o'clock the New Orleans sent a shell rumbling and crashing against the hillside. The Detroit, Wasp, Machias and Suwanee followed suit and soon the hillside and valley seemed to be ablaze as shot followed shot in swift succession among the wild and exciting cheering of soldiers on the transports.

In five minutes the sea was alive with flotillas of small boats, headed by launches, speeding for the Baiquiri dock. Some of the boats were manned by crews of sailors, while others were rowed by the soldiers themselves. Each boat contained 16 men, every one in fighting trim and carrying three days' rations, shelter tent, gun and 200 cartridges, ready to take the field on touching shore should they be called upon to do so. The firing of the warships, however, proved to be a needless precaution, as their shots were not returned and no Spaniards were visible. Brigadier-General Lawton, who had been detailed to command the landing of the troops, led the way in a launch, accompanied by his staff, and directed the formation of the line of operations. A detachment of 80 regular infantry soldiers were the first to land, followed by General Shafter's old regiment, the First infantry. Then came the Twenty-fifth, Twenty-second, Tenth, Seventh and Twelfth infantry, the Second Massachusetts and a detachment of the Ninth cavalry. At the end of the pier the companies and regiments quickly lined up and were marched away.

General Lawton threw a strong detachment for the night about six miles west, on the road to Santiago, and another detachment was posted north of town among the hills. The rest of the troops were quartered in the town. Some of the troops were quartered in desolate houses, while others preferred the shelter of their tents in the adjoining fields. The town was empty when the troops landed, but women and children soon appeared in the surrounding thickets and returned to their homes. The landing was accomplished without the loss of life, the only casualty being the wounding of an insurgent in the hills by a shell from one of our ships. He will lose an arm.

Frolic of Oregon Lightning.

It is a very unusual occurrence to hear of lightning doing the least damage in Oregon—in fact such a thing as a lightning rod is unknown in these parts. However, Medford people were reminded recently that there is such a thing as lightning in this country, and the Mail has the following concerning a storm in that vicinity:

During the rain storm of last Friday, lightning struck the residence of G. E. Allen, in East Medford, and scattered things promiscuously. It hit on the chimney and sent several bricks in as many directions, and from there it galloped down the flue until it reached the hole where the stove-pipe intersects. Here the lightning changed its course and went into the stovepipe, blew the gable end out of the first elbow, went down to the cook stove and swept it clean of ashes and lids. At the back of the stove was a steel rod and this was struck by the lightning, which then separated, one part going through the floor and the other through a plastered partition into the sleeping apartment, where it struck the bedstead and set fire to the bedding. It split one of the bedposts and then went through the floor into the ground. One end of the steel rod was melted, as was also a lathe nail in the partition. Mrs. Allen and Mrs. Ferguson and her son were sitting quite close to the stove when all this happened, but, strange to relate, none of them were injured in the least.

Hang Out the Flag.

During the G. A. R. encampment in this city many complimentary remarks were passed upon the artistic decorations displayed, and some were really very pretty. It is especially desired that the city put on her holiday attire and hang out her flags and bunting on the occasion of our nation's birthday. Many visitors will be with us, and it is hoped that everything will be done to make the surroundings attractive to them.

No doubt the business houses will be gaily decorated and some expensively; but to those who feel that they cannot afford much of an outlay, we would say, if you can do nothing more, hang out a flag. Particularly is it urged upon those who have homes along the line of march to make the national colors prominent.

Let not a single building in the city be left without some emblem which shows the patriotism of our citizens.

How to Look Good.

Good looks are really more than skin deep, depending entirely on a healthy condition of all the vital organs. If the liver be inactive, you have a bilious look; if your kidneys be affected, you have a pinched look. Secure good health and you will surely have good looks. "Electric Bitters" is a good Alternative and Tonic. Acts directly on the stomach liver and kidneys. Purifies the blood, cures pimples, blotches and boils, and gives a good complexion. Every bottle guaranteed. Sold at Blakeley & Houghton's drug store. 50 cents per bottle. 5

I was seriously afflicted with a cough for several years, and last fall had a more severe cough than ever before. I have used many remedies without receiving much relief, and being recommended to try a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, by a friend, who, knowing me to be a poor widow, gave it to me I tried it, and with the most gratifying results. The first bottle relieved me very much and the second bottle has absolutely cured me. I have not had as good health for twenty years. Respectfully, Mrs. Mary A. Beard, Claremore, Ark. Sold by Blakeley & Houghton.

Whooping Cough.

I had a little boy who was nearly dead from an attack of whooping cough. My neighbors recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I did not think that any medicine would help him, but after giving him a few doses of the remedy I noticed an improvement, and one bottle cured him entirely. It is the best cough medicine I ever had in the house.—P. E. Moore, South Bergettsstown, Pa. For sale by Blakeley & Houghton.

Thirty-five years make a generation. That is how long Adolph Fisher, of Zanesville, O., suffered from piles. He was cured by using three boxes of De Witt's Witch Hazel Salve. Suipe-Kinersly Drug Co.

AGUINALDO IS WAITING FOR OUR TROOPS

When the American Troops are Ready to Co-operate With the Insurgents, Inner Manila Will be Attacked.

LONDON, June 23.—The Manila Railway Company, having offices in this city, has received a cable message, saying that though the Philippine insurgents have captured all but the inner city of Manila, they are respecting property and are refraining from looting.

A London agent of the insurgents claims to have information that General Aguinaldo has made a compact with Rear-Admiral Dewey not to attack the walled city until the American troops arrive, when the Americans and insurgents will co-operate.

CONFINED IN AN INSANE ASYLUM

Sad Termination of the Career of Lady Yarde-Buller.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 23.—News has been received from Paris that Lady Yarde-Buller is now an inmate of an insane asylum, and that it will be impossible to secure her release for at least two years.

She is the eldest daughter of the late General R. W. Kirkham. A few months ago she was found wandering about West Oakland, and after an examination as to her condition was discharged. Then she made a deed of trust of her estate, valued at about $250,000, to her cousin and attorney, Ernest Wakeman, who has since managed her affairs. Recently Mr. Wakeman took her to England to secure an alleged marriage settlement of $80,000, but it was found that the lady was actually in debt there. She was taken to Paris by Mr. and Mrs. Wakeman, but made her escape one day and was placed in an asylum by the authorities.

Lady Yarde-Buller was born in a frontier military camp, and for years was a reigning beauty. Her father was worth a million dollars. She married A. N. Blair, and after his death became the wife of Yarde-Buller, second son of an English noble house, who a few years ago secured a divorce from her.

CERVERA'S SHIPS IN BATTLE ARRAY

Positions Changed to Make the Guns Command the Harbor Entrance.

AUREN DERRAIS, Cuba, June 22, via Kingston, Jamaica, June 23.—A Cuban who left the city of Santiago Monday night arrived in General Garcia's camp Tuesday morning, with accurate maps of the harbor and of the earthworks surrounding it. The ships of Admiral Cervera have moved from the positions they were in three days ago, and now lie in almost a circle surrounding a small island and lighthouse about half way up the harbor. The cruiser Cristobal Colon lies to the west, commanding with her port batteries the narrow neck of the harbor, while the Vizcaya lies to the east, her starboard battery looking in the same direction. Both of the torpedo-boat destroyers are totally disabled. The ships have only half their supply of coal.

The shell that sunk the Reina Mercedes during the recent bombardment was fired by the Massachusetts. Beyond this loss and quite a large loss of life incident to it, there was little or no damage done. Seven new guns are being put up facing the sea, a new line of trenches has been dug about a mile and a half from the city.

The spirit of discontent is widespread among the Spanish troops, and an uprising in Santiago de Cuba is feared.

CORNELL WINS THE BOAT RACE

Yale Crosses the Line Four Lengths Behind and Harvard Comes in Third.

NEW LONDON, June 23.—Cornell won the university race today, the four miles being rowed in 23:48. A good start was made, a little advantage being with Yale. She was the first to settle down to 34 strokes. Yale held the lead for a quarter of a mile, then the Cornell stroke began to assert itself. At the half, Cornell led Yale by a few feet. At two miles Cornell had made further gains. The three-mile flag showed Cornell three lengths ahead. In the last mile the Cornell men rowed like demons, gaining another length. The booming of the gun in the judge's boat announced Cornell the winner by 3½ lengths over Yale, and nearly 11 lengths separated her and Harvard.

TO REPAIR NAVAL SHIPS.

Complete Shipbuilding Plant Sent to Join Sampson's Fleet.

BOSTON, June 23.—The United States ship Vulcan, formerly the passenger steamer Chatham, carrying the floating ship-building and repair plant, has sailed from Charleston navy yard. The vessel, which goes to join Sampson's fleet, contains tools to build every part of a naval ship, and its electrical equipment, and to manufacture small rapid-fire guns. Its outfit is valued at more than $300,000, and is officered and manned by some of the best men in the country.
