People Disposed to Change Old [Issues for New Bonds.

New York, July 20 .- The Times

While the government bond [market was quiet today, there was a lively inquiry for the new government 3s when issued, and a disposition was evident to change old issues for the new bonds. The quotations that rule were about 1023 bid, 103 asked. These, however, were regarded as tentative, and made to induce holders of the popular denominations of $500 and under to surrender their allotments, the impression beingthat when the new bonds are in existence the prices will range between 104 and 106.

There will be two Moodys in the next house of representatives--Moody of Massachusetts, and Moody of Oregon, says the Oregonian. The Massachusetts Moody is one of the level-headed and brainy men of the present house. He is an able lawyer, and won distinction first in the Lizzie Borden trial. When he came to the house he took a ranking position, even as a new member, succeding H.A. STURDEVANT, an old and highly respected member, General Cogswell. He said to the Oregonian correspondent, after it was known that Maicolm A. Moody was to represent the second district of Oregon, that he supposed the Oregon Moody was a relative of his, although he had not traced the connection. He thinks that a family of Moodys came over two centuries ago, and that they are scattered second street, in different parts of the United States. Just what relationship he has to his brother representative he does not

Tuesday was field day at the Chautauqua, Gladstone Park. An estimate places the attendance at about 2000. The events were 100-yard dash, 220yard dash, 220-yard hurdle, running high jump and pole vault. A good many contestants entered in each event, and the prizes were hotly fought for, Besides the Y. M. Robbed the Grave.

A startling incident of which Mr. John Oliver of Philadelphia, was the subject is narrated by him as follows: I was in a most dreadful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue uo appetite-gradually growing time with her sister, Mrs. Wood, in this weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately, a friend advised trying 'Electric Bitters,' and to my great joy and surprise, the first bottle made a decided improvement I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they saved turned last night from a visit to friends my lite and robbed the grave of another at Newburg. They report having had a victim." No one should fail to try them.
