Large crowds of excursionists are taking advantage of the low Sunday excursions via the O. R. & N. to Hood River, Cascade Locks and Bonneville. The fare being only 50 cents for the round trip to these points, this arrangement affords the cheapest and most enjoyable outing within reach of Dallesites, who are not slow to take advantage of it.

We note that Portland is advertising California melons for the last week. This is nothing worthy of mention, since the people of The Dalles have had an abundance of watermelons during the last week which were raised not in California, but right here in Wasco county. In fact they are so plentiful and common at present that the largest in the market retail for 25 cents each.

There will be an excursion train leave The Dalles about 7 a. m., August 3rd, for Portland, returning train will leave Portland about 7 p. m. same day. Special tickets will be sold at The Dalles for $2.00 for the round trip to Portland, good going and returning on this excursion train only. Passengers will not be carried on any other train on these tickets. This will give the passengers about nine hours in Portland. aug 3

The home office of the Caledonian Insurance Company, at Edinburgh, Scotland, have requested us to ascertain, if possible, the whereabouts of one Robert Edwards, who was born in Staffordshire, England, in April, 1856, and who has a brother, Albert Edwards, now living in London. Mr. Edwards was last heard of in this country in April, 1895, since which time no trace of him can be found. Should our readers have any knowledge of such party, any information which they may be able to convey to us will be highly appreciated.

Yesterday was the hottest day of the season in The Dalles. During the afternoon the thermometer stood at 95° until about 5 o'clock it rose one degree higher. In the manner that everyone noticed the heat yesterday it is plain that 96 degrees is plenty hot and if the thermometer runs much higher the city will be deserted, as all kinds of threats of leaving for the seacoast or mountains could be heard yesterday.

The admirers of fine arts should not fail to see the two oil paintings which are on exhibition at Blakeley & Houghton's drug store, one of which is a view of Mt. Hood, while the other is the familiar scene of Trout Lake with Mt. Adams in the background. They are the work of W. W. Armstrong, of Oakland, California. Mr. Armstrong, who is well known by many of our townspeople since his last trip to the city, is second to none as a painter, as his work shows too plainly. The painting of Mt. Hood will be raffled this week, while the picture of Trout Lake will be sold.

One of the last steps in the settlement of the affairs of the estate of Henry L. Yeeler, the father of Seattle, was taken in Seattle Monday, when an order was presented, signed by Judge Moore, and filed confirming the last of a series of sales, at which the real property belonging to the estate has been disposed of to pay the debts of the estate and claims of the dead pioneer's heirs. The sales were forced sales, the creditors having united in demanding that the estate be closed up at once, on the ground that the expenses of the administration were each year greater than the income, and would ultimately eat up the entire estate.

On Monday and Tuesday evenings of next week the people of Hood River and Cascade Locks will have a musical treat, as the instrumental quartet of the Alpha Mandolin and Guitar Club of this city will play in these towns on the evenings stated. The quartet consists of the well-known musicians, Prof. Ryan, J. R. Reese, Irwin Parkins and Clinton Alden. The playing of the young men in this city has delighted all who have heard them, and that they will please the public in other places as well as here, cannot be doubted. They will be at Hood River Monday evening, the 1st, and at the Locks on Tuesday, the 2d inst.

Marie Is Unfaithful to Her Soldier Boy.

In publishing the following touching poem we would advise the young ladies of The Dalles to be more cautious in their choice of hiding places for the numerous epistles which they may in the future receive. However we are loath to believe that any of our brave boys have had occasion to pen such lines to a Dalles girl, for they are ever constant (although among the boys was a poet of no mean ability.) If any young lady visiting our city recognizes the poem, she can obtain the original manuscript by calling at this office:

I am lying in my tent, sweet Marie,
And my soul with rage is pent, up in G.
For I know almighty well you have caught another fell,
And your thoughts no longer dwell love with me.

When we kissed a last good-bye, tearfully,
You but worked a girlish guy off on me.
Oh, you sweet, bewitching jade, what a clever game you played,
For your tears were ready made, Sweet Marie.

Sweet Marie, list to me: list to me, Sweet Marie,
While I whisper to the winds you're N. G.
You were loyal, you were true, I was all the world to you,
When my cash for you I blew, Sweet Marie.

When I donned the soldier blue, Sweet Marie,
Like a plume woodcock you stuck to me;
And the smile you used to wear was as full of gleaming glare
As a sunbeam on a tear, Sweet Marie.

How you're cunning head you'd lay, lovingly,
On my bosom while you'd say things to me;
There you'd rest in loving pose, right beneath my nose,
Swiping buttons from my clothes, Sweet Marie.

To the Philippines I go, Sweet Marie,
Where the tropic sun will glow over me;
And I'll wander thro' the dells with the brown Manila belles,
Who are dressed in beads and shells, scantily.

There your face I'll soon forget, Sweet Marie;
I'll be frisky, you can bet, as a flea;
I'll be giddy, I'll be gay, I'll sing the hours away,
Ta-ra-ra boom de-ay, Hully gee.
