The report that the Dalles City would be up today is a mistake, as some improvement has to be made on the boilers, which will take some time yet before the boat can go into service.

A freight train crew and a gang of tramps engaged in a free-for-all fight at Huntington last Thursday, in which the railroad men, by the judicious use of monkey wrenches, succeeded in scattering the Wandering Willies.

Yesterday Thomas Twobig, who for some time has been dangerously ill from an attack of appendicitis, was taken to St. Vincent's hospital in Portland for treatment. He is certainly a sick man, but with skillful treatment may pull through all right.

Yesterday Carey Ballard, the popular proprietor of the Columbia Candy Factory, changed the name of his establishment to "The Palace of Sweets," and put up a new sign. The name is certainly appropriate for the delightful cafe where everything in the way of cooling drinks can be secured.

On Friday of last week Miss Adna Helm closed a very successful term of school on upper Mill creek. There were three little boys among her pupils, Frank, Guy and Hugh Fagan, whom she mentions very complimentary, they having been the only ones entitled to be placed on the roll of honor, and were also on the roll of honor at the close of a term Miss Helm taught in the district last year.

A fearful hailstorm over in Umatilla county recently completely ruined 2000 acres of wheat and injured fully as much more. The hail stones were two inches in diameter, and fairly beat the grain into the ground.

Sunday night W. H. O'Dell got into trouble with a party at the Bee Hive restaurant. It appears that the vagabond made some remark concerning O'Dell's wife, which caused the fight, in which Mr. O'Dell got badly used up. He was struck on the head, which inflicted a long gash, and in the scuffle he had his thumb badly bitten. Dr. Hollister was summoned and dressed the wounds.

The hot weather of the past week has been too much for the bowlers at the club, and has put a damper on the sport to a great extent. Many of the enthusiasts are out of town and those here find more pleasure in sitting on the veranda and resting rather than exciting themselves by this favorite sport. The only records kept during the week were that of Judge Bennett, Monday, 52, and 51 made on Tuesday by Carey Ballard.

The Albany Herald and the Corvallis Union are warning the farmers against the Earl Fruit Company, of California, who are now trying to make contracts with the Oregon farmers. The Herald says that representatives of the company secured the entire crop of a number of Linn county fruit-growers last season and did not pay a cent for it, but in addition bobbed up a month afterward with excessive bills for back freight charges.

A number of the citizens who reside in the vicinity of the cow pound have all kinds of complaints to make concerning what they justly term a common nuisance. Cows are put in this place which is in the residence portion of the city and left there in some instances for days without being milked, fed or watered. They consequently make life hideous for the residents of that portion of town by their belching. We do not mean to say that the pound is unnecessary but on the other hand commend the action of the council in having such a means of keeping cows from roaming on the streets, but we do say that if should be in a place where half the city would not be kept awake these warm nights by the noise made by the cattle impounded therein.

A full military band lends life to any gathering of people, and is always one of the most attractive of features. The managers of the Oregon Industrial Exposition have engaged a first class band to play afternoon and evening at the exposition, Sept. 22 to Oct. 22, and all who attend will have every opportunity to delight in the music,—sitting down to it if they want to sit and promenading over good floors, with ample space for healthful exercise.

Even the sheep seem to know what an excellent advertising medium THE MORNING CHRONICLE is as was plainly demonstrated by a little incident that occurred last evening. A nice fat mutton had in some way got hopelessly lost from its band and after making a vain attempt to get its bearings it strolled boldly into the back door of this office in order to be advertised. At the time of going to press it was waiting patiently in the back yard until its owner reads the paper and comes after it.

An exchange says: A. M. Bunnell, of Goldendale, arrived in Chehalis last week with a drove of twenty-five ponies. He started from Goldendale with 125 head, and drove them across by way of Cowlitz pass. He says the snow up there was eight feet deep. He lost twenty-five head in the pass. He has sold the greater part of the ponies, and expects to dispose of all of them in the Lewis country. It took him ten days to go from Yakima to the Big Bottom.

As usual a splendid lot of scores were made at the Umatilla House alleys during the week ending Sunday. The Umatilla House, on account of its location and the river breeze, is the coolest place in the city, and bowlers can enjoy a game there during the hot weather when it is entirely too warm at the other places. The scores are as follows: Maetz, Monday, 69; Tuesday, N. J. Sinnott, 55; Maetz, Wednesday, 65; Thursday, 54; Friday, 59; Saturday, Esping, 68; Sunday, Weigel, 63.

Sheepmen who range their flocks in the Cascade complain that there will be a scarcity of grass on the summer ranges, and in consequence sheep will have to be brought out of the mountains earlier than common, unless they are permitted to herd on that portion of the Cascade reserve that has been withdrawn, lying north of the Barlow road. Sheepmen insist that their flocks are no detriment to the mountain ranges, and will probably endeavor to prevail upon the department to allow them to pasture on the headwaters of Hood River.

Yesterday morning J. P. Lucas took his position as register and Otis Patterson as receiver of The Dalles land office. For over four years Register J. F. Moore and Receiver W. H. Biggs, the two gentlemen who yesterday stepped out of office, fulfilled their duties in their respective positions as ably as they have ever been fulfilled by any land office officials. Although regrets are expressed at their stepping out of office, still we trust that their successors are men who will fill the position satisfactorily to everyone, and will leave with as clear a score to their credit as their successors.

The family of Matt Stanton, a well-known rancher near Yakima, are greatly worried as to his whereabouts. Some six weeks ago he started for Oregon in company with J. W. Downer, to buy land, and while Mr. Downer has returned, Mr. Stanton has not, and no word has been received from him since his departure. He parted from Mr. Downer shortly after reaching Oregon, and has not been seen or heard of him since. He is supposed to have had a considerable sum of money with him, which adds some color to the belief of possible foul play indulged in by his relatives in Yakima.

Last evening an old gentleman, Wm. H. Grosser, attracted quite a lot of attention on the square at the intersection of Second and Washington streets with a large telescope with which by the payment of 10 cents one could view the moon, Saturn and the other planets. His telescope is a very good one and brings out the planets in a remarkably distinct manner. He has also a magnifying glass which makes a drop of stagnant water appear the size of a man's head and plainly shows the numerous insects with which the water is filled. A look through his glasses is certainly worth the price he charges.

Mr. Joseph Kohler, of this city, was united in matrimony to Miss Annie Mell at the residence of Mr. Charles Mell in the Centerville neighborhood on Saturday, July 30, 1898. The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. Horn, and was attended by a number of relatives and friends of the young couple.

Robbed the Grave.

A startling incident of which Mr. John Oliver of Philadelphia, was the subject is narrated by him as follows: I was in a most dreadful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite—gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately, a friend advised trying 'Electric Bitters,' and to my great joy and surprise, the first bottle made a decided improvement I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they saved my life and robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them.

Persons troubled with diarrhoea will be interested in the experience of W. M. Bush, clerk of the hotel Dorrance, Providence, R. I. He says: "For several years I have been almost a constant sufferer from diarrhoea, the frequent attacks completely prostrating me and rendering me unfit for my duty at this hotel. About two years ago a traveling salesman kindly gave me a small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Much to my surprise and delight its effects were immediate. Whenever I felt symptoms of the disease I would fortify myself against the attack with a few doses of this valuable remedy. The result has been very satisfactory and almost complete relief from the affliction." For sale by Blakeley & Houghton.
