Ice Cream wholesale and retail at the Columbia Candy Factory. Orders to furnish lodge socials and ice cream festivals solicited. Don't forget that our ice cream sodas are the best in the city.

The O. R. & N. Company will run a special coach between this point and Bonneville Sunday, August 14th, for the accommodation of excursionists, going on the 6:55 a. m. train and returning from Bonneville at 3:30 p. m.

The D. P. & A. N. Co. is now engaged in repairing their pile-driver scow, which for some months past has been stationed at the foot of Court street. As soon as it is in order it will be taken down the river to be used in repairing landings along the river.

Colonel Mitchell has made a change at the Deschutes bridge station. Mr. E. A. Griffin, who leases it from the company, has placed B. F. Richardson in charge. All the buildings will be overhauled and some new ones erected. A full stock of supplies for man or beast will be kept on hand and ample accommodations added as soon as lumber can be obtained.

W. H. Babcock, of Walla Walla, has 120 men harvesting his crop this year. Each day they eat one large steer, thirteen sacks of potatoes, two sacks of beets, two sacks of cabbage, and large quantities of bread, milk, coffee and tea. The men work thirteen and fourteen hours a day. The expenses to Mr. Babcock is $1 a minute, $60 an hour, and $840 a working day of fourteen hours.

There is a possibility of the members of Trinity church in Portland losing their rector, Rev. D. C. Garrett, who is very popular there, he having been brought forward as a probable successor of the late Bishop Perry, of Iowa. It is a matter of custom in the Episcopal church that men do not seek to be made bishops, but often lend the influence of their parishes for the benefit of others.

Professor H. T. French has tendered his resignation to the board of regents of the state agricultural college as professor of agriculture, to accept a similar position at the university of Idaho, at a salary of $1800 a year. The professor has been connected with the Oregon college for nine years, and his resignation has been accepted with regret. He will leave for his new field of labor about September 1st.

The Oregonian says that Thursday morning when the residents of Portland awoke it really looked as if they might have a snow storm. However it didn't snow that day nor the next, but still many men were seen with overcoats during the morning, and everyone was endeavoring to account for the radical change in the weather. It is not very warm here at present, but then if Portland wouldn't be so selfish she might pass it around.

The Sarah Dixon will make a short trip down the river this morning in order to convene a band of sheep from Lyle to Collins Landing.

The Dalles will certainly seem deserted today, from the number of people who have signified their intention of spending the day at down-the-river points.

Farmers and producers of the entire northwest should now save samples of their fruits, vegetables, grains and grasses, for exhibition at the Oregon Industrial exhibition in Portland, Sept. 22 to Oct. 22. Everybody should take pride in having his locality represented. Drop a postal card, for shipping tags to Secretary Industrial Exposition, Portland, Oregon.

The Chicago News tells this one: Johnny, the 7-year-old son of a railway engineer, was a faithful Sunday school attendant. "Where was Christ born, Johnny," asked his teacher one day. "In Hannibal," was the reply. "No, no," exclaimed the teacher. "He was born in Bethlehem." "Well," said Johnny, "I knew it was some town along the Burlington route."

Mrs. M. Zirka, of this city, has just received a letter from her two boys, Fred and Henry, who are members of Company L, now at Manila. These boys were among the youngest of those who left here as volunteers, but every sentence in their letter is full of patriotism, and while they spoke in tender terms of home and mother and sent messages to younger brothers and their sister, they were brave indeed when mentioning anything in regard to their trip and what they expected to go through. Though "experience is a dear teacher," the lessons of the war will be invaluable to many of the boys who left The Dalles, and when they return to us will tell in their future lives.

The killing of the Spanish camp-tender by Ollie Puyear, near Heppner last Sunday was a very sad affair, from the fact that the slayer was a young fellow of about 22 years and is evidently a young man well brought up and in no manner displays the character of a criminal. When he went to Heppner and delivered himself up, saying that the Spaniard had exasperated him and finally threatened to kill him and that the deed was committed in self-defense, the people of Heppner were much exercised over the affair and at once were enlisted on the side of the boy, so honest and straightforward was he. To avoid any possible miscarriage of justice he was bound over in the sum of $500. The citizens immediately made up the sum and sent him away on the train to the home of his sister. To a boy in a country, unknown to a single person, in his hour of serious trouble, to have the united community respond to his rescue, is a touching illustration of the devotion of Americans to each other, in their hour of need.

Sunday, August 14th, will undoubtedly be the banner day of the season for Bonneville excursionists. There will be several new features in the entertainment on that date. Round trip fare from The Dalles only 50 cents.

INLAND FLYER LAUNCHED.

The Fast D. P. & A. N. Steamer is at Last in the Water.

The steamer Inland Flyer, owned by the D. P. & A. N. Co., and which is to make daily trips between this city and Portland, was launched last evening at 6 o'clock at the latter place, and it is said she took to water like a duck. The launching was to have taken place at noon, but being lowered down to within a few feet of the water before she made the plunge, it took a much longer time than was expected. Agent Allaway who went down to witness the craft glide into the water, was compelled to leave before the work was completed in order to catch a train for home.

The Inland Flyer was measured by the custom officials Friday, and proved larger than she appeared to be from the outside, measuring 151 tons gross and 122 net. The hull is built on very fine lines, and is expected to show great speed. She is just the sort of steamer that the company has been in need of, and their patrons will welcome her advent on the river route, which will take place in about two weeks. The contractors have given it out that they expect at present to float the Regulator by Wednesday. However, it is thought by many interested that it will be necessary to put a new hull on her before she is completed.

The New Congregational Minister.

The Albany Democrat says: Rev. D. N. Poling yesterday tendered his resignation as pastor of the Congregational church, to take effect October 1st. He has filled the position here for four years with ability, and is a popular man generally whom our citizens will regret to see leaving his present charge.

The West Side, published at Independence, also has the following: "Rev. D. V. Poling, who was a popular pastor of the Congregational church here and later at Albany, has been called to The Dalles, where he will go October 1st. Rev. Poling will find a very nice class of people in his charge at The Dalles, and we doubt not the Congregational church there will prosper greatly under his charge. The musical talent of both Mr. and Mrs. Poling will be appreciated there."

Results of Teachers' Examinations.

The county board of examiners has recommended that the following teachers' certificates and diplomas be issued: First Grade—Katie E. Davenport, Mosier; Lois A. Helm, The Dalles; Mary L. Douthitt, Portland.

Second Grade—Nona C. Rowe, The Dalles; Rebecca V. Wilson, Dufur; Mamie A. Driver, The Dalles; Anna Frazier, Dufur.

Third Grade—Lucy Jeffcott, Portland; Jessie Williams, Mosier; Roxinia Campbell, Wamic; Violet Kent, The Dalles.

Miss Elsie M. Ball, of The Dalles, and Mr. H. L. Howe, of Hood River, were recommended for state diplomas, and Misses Christina and Louise Kintoul for state life diplomas.

Three little fellows carrying their bats and a ball were stopped by an elderly gentleman one Sabbath morning. "Boys," he asked, "do you know where bad boys go who play ball on Sunday?" "Yes, sir," replied one, "they go over to a vacant lot back of the cemetery."

OUR CHURCHES.

In a Flourishing Condition, With Edifices any City Might Well be Proud Of.

For a city of its size, The Dalles is particularly favored in the number of churches she possesses, for no better recommendation can be given a place than that it is not lacking in this regard. No matter what a man's belief may be as regards religious doctrine, or in fact, whether he has any, about the first question he asks is, "What about your churches and schools?" From the answer to the first clause of the question, the other is usually inferred. Our citizens deserve a great deal of credit for the manner in which they support the many denominations here represented; especially those who are not connected with any of them, and, shall we say, seldom enter their doors? Often when called upon repeatedly for donations they are heard to remark: "We have too many churches. Why do not some of them consolidate and make the expense lighter?" But at the same time they are reaching into their pockets for the wherewithal to aid in their maintenance and to increase the good they are each one doing, realizing that if not directly, indirectly they are benefited by them. For not one of them would they see fail for lack of support; nor would they live in a city where there is no pride in its churches, much less where there are none.

Not only are we proud of the flourishing condition of our churches in every direction calculated to make a religious society fulfill the end for which it was designed; but the manner in which the edifices add to the appearance of our city is not to be overlooked.

Nearly every society has a comparatively new building. The Catholics have just completed a structure which would be a credit to any city in the United States. The Lutherans also have not long since dedicated a neat church, while that of the Christian denomination might be termed new, since it has been built but a few years. The Methodist, Congregational and First Baptist churches were built soon after the fire of '91, which destroyed their places of worship, and are each models of architecture. The Episcopal church, while not quite so recently erected, has had a number of improvements during the past year, which make it as good as new, and it is indeed a cozy place of meeting where one feels at home. Although the Calvary Baptist society has not as yet erected any special structure, the building where they hold service has been so remodeled and arranged that the inside is all that could be desired as a comfortable sanctuary.

The Seventh Day Adventists have a small society here, and meetings are often held on their Sabbath in the First Baptist church.

So we have reason to be grateful that we live in a city of churches, and where the gospel may be heard from the best of speakers every Sunday at least.

POINTS OF SUPERIORITY

The Vive Has all the Advantages of Every Other Camera and in Many Ways Superior to Any.

No other camera so simple and sure, or so quickly operated.

No other camera of the price takes such large pictures, or carries so many exposures at one loading as the $5.00 Vive.

No other camera will allow of either using or not using holders at the will of the operator.

No other so inexpensively or readily enables one to use either glass plates or cut films, and in such numbers.

No other will hold glass plates and cut films so that both can be used at the same time.

No other camera includes, free, a full complement of universal metal combination holders.

No other camera has such simple, light and universal holders, or those which also hold any size of glass plates or cut films under the full size advertised for the respective sizes and styles of Vive cameras.

No other camera is so small and compact for the size of pictures taken.

No other is so easy to understand and operate.

The magazine of the Vive camera holds so many S. R. V. backed glass plates or cut films that daylight leading is unnecessary; quickly enabling the operator to carry in the camera and make from one to over one hundred exposures at one loading.

Avoid buying a camera where the required additional glass plate holders alone, almost double the advertised price, and then not be able to carry them in the camera.

We guarantee every Vive camera to do and be all that we claim in our catalogue, and to take pictures fully equal to illustrations shown therein. We also emphatically guarantee every sample picture we advertise, to be taken with the Vive, as stated.
