THE WEST IN THE WAR.

In the September Scribner's, Richard Harding Davis writes of the "Rough Riders' Fight at Guasimas."

"It was easy to tell which men were used to hunting big game in the west and which were not by the way they made these rushes," says Mr. Davis. "The eastern men broke at the word, and ran for the cover they were directed to take like men trying to get out of the rain, and fell panting on their faces, while the western hunters and trappers slipped and wriggled through the grass like Indians; dodging from tree-trunk to tree-trunk, and from one bush to another. They always fell into line at the same time with the others, but they had not exposed themselves once while doing so."

As gradually the full story of the war is unfolded, it becomes increasingly evident that the troops of the west have carried off the chief honors. They have borne the brunt of the fighting on land and on sea. Dewey's invincible sailors were gathered largely from Pacific coast seaports, and the same is true of the crew of the battleship Oregon, which took so distinguished a part in the destruction of Cervera's squadron.

In the fierce fighting around Santiago, western men distinguished themselves by deeds of superb endurance and daring. It was the regulars and the Rough Riders who stormed the heights around the city, and with a few exceptions these regular soldiers were gathered from western manhood—recruited at the army posts of the western plains and mountains.

At Manila, too, western men—regulars and volunteers—have borne themselves with superb coolness and daring. On the other hand, the eastern troops have hardly been in the severe fighting anywhere, and the only case of regimental cowardice in the war was that of the New York regiment of volunteers at Santiago which ran to cover and refused to obey orders to advance with the rest of the army.

The west has been maligned so grievously in recent years that the conspicuous heroism of its soldiers is deeply gratifying to every western man. Their glorious bearing, their courage under fire, and their fortitude under hardships and disease, afford an effective reply to the abuse and vilification which many eastern papers and speakers have directed against this section of the Union.—Spokesman Review.

One of the minor blessings of peace will be the letup of the war literature. When once the magazine editors nowadays get hold of what they think is a popular demand they have no mercy on us. Anything is acceptable, provided it has some connection with war. We have articles and books on the Philippines, Hawaii, Cuba and Porto Rico without number, popular histories of Spain in all degrees of badness and mediocrity, and even histories of Spanish literature are not unacceptable. No phase of the war escapes being told over and over again in an infinite variety of forms.

Only the other day William of Germany was saying at Bismarck's bier that Bismarck was the "creator" of the German Empire. Now here he is again telling the "worshipful Burgomaster of Mayence" that it was "the work of my grandfather."

When Mr. Saensta says, "Now let us negotiate for a year or so about the possession of Manila," we have only to point to the large new American flag floating over that city and say, "Why, there is nothing to negotiate about. You might as well begin to dispute over Florida because you once owned it."

For Admiral, Dewey: For the proper guidance of the development of the new navy, a full Admiral. For the high office of Admiral, the fittest man. Is there any doubt in any mind as to who is that fittest man?

Notice to Delinquent Taxpayers.

The delinquent taxes of Wasco county, as shown on the rolls now in the hands of the sheriff are $60,000, an amount almost equal to the indebtedness of the county. Every citizen will doubtless admit that this state of affairs should not exist, and that all taxes should be collected. On account of hard times in the past the county court has shown leniency to taxpayers, but that leniency has reached the limit, and the court cannot wait longer on delinquents to make settlements. For this reason a warrant has been attached to each delinquent roll commanding the sheriff to collect all taxes by seizure and sale of property. With a bountiful crop now in sight, there can no longer be any reasonable excuse for the non-payment of taxes. The sheriff is bound by oath to comply with the terms of the warrants attached to the tax rolls for the collection thereof, and has no option in the matter. Delinquent taxpayers can save the cost of seizure and sale of property by settling their taxes at once.

ROBERT KEELY,
 Sheriff and Tax Collector for Wasco County.

Persons troubled with diarrhoea will be interested in the experience of W. M. Bush, clerk of the hotel Dorrance, Providence, R. I. He says: "For several years I have been almost a constant sufferer from diarrhoea, the frequent attacks completely prostrating me and rendering me unfit for my duty at this hotel. About two years ago a traveling salesman kindly gave me a small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Much to my surprise and delight its effects were immediate. Whenever I felt symptoms of the disease I would fortify myself against the attack with a few doses of this valuable remedy. The result has been very satisfactory and almost complete relief from the affliction." For sale by Blakeley & Houghton.

A Narrow Escape.

Thankful words written by Mrs. Ada E. Hart, of Groton, S. D. "Was taken with a bad cold which settled on my lungs; cough set in and finally terminated in Consumption. Four doctors gave me up, saying I could live but a short time. I gave myself up to my Savior, determined if I could not stay with my friends on earth, I would meet my absent ones above. My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. I gave it a trial, took in all eight bottles. It has cured me, and thank God I am saved and now a well and healthy woman." Trial bottles free at Blakeley & Houghton's drug store. Regular size 50c and $1.00. Guaranteed or price refunded.
