The case of Wand, who was charged with obtaining money under false pretenses, was dismissed today, on motion of the attorneys for prosecution. The evidence in was not sufficient to justify a trial. S. E. Van Vactor appeared for the defendant and A. A. Jayne for the state.

The case of James Denton, who was charged with larceny of money from Louie a certain Chinaman residing on the hill, was dismissed before Judge Mays this morning the evidence being insufficient to sanction his being sent to the reform school. Attorney N. H. Gates appeared for the defendant while John Michell acted as attorney for the state.

A meeting will be held in Crystantheum hall this evening at 8:30 by the young men of the D. C. and A. C. desiring to take part in a minstrel performance which they contemplate giving in the near future. Anyone desiring to take part should appear at the hall this evening and suggestions that will add to the success of the minstrels will be thankfully received.

A serious runaway occurred at O. D. Taylor's place, near this city, about 1:30 this afternoon. Miss Anna Taylor was driving a buggy, when the horse took fright and ran away, throwing her out on her side. Her right shoulder joint was dislocated by the fall and she was badly bruised about the body and head. Dr. Logan was called and attended to her injuries. He left her resting easy, and although she was severely injured she will be able to be around in a few weeks.

While Mr. Nixon of DeMoss Springs was coming into Wasco Wednesday, his little son Nathan, aged about 8 years, jumped to the ground from the head wagon and attempted to get into the trail wagon. However, he only succeeded in getting caught by its front wheel, which ran over his left leg, breaking it above the knee. The little fellow is gritty and endured the suffering bravely until brought into town, when Dr. Sutcliffe attended to his injuries. At last accounts the boy was resting easy.

Contrary to past custom sheep in Oregon are selling as high as in Wyoming. And why shouldn't they? Although farther west, and consequently from the great eastern markets, Oregon sheep are better than the sheep of Wyoming, to which state we export each year many hundreds of thoroughbred rams to improve their flocks. Further, Oregon sheep are rapidly becoming as good as the best in the Union, and, at the present rate of improvements in breeding, will soon be the best in the world.

Yesterday Harry Smith, a young man of about 24 years of age, was arrested near 8-Mile, by Constable Hill, charged with assault with a dangerous weapon. The prosecuting witness is a man named Longgreen, who alleges that Smith threw rocks at him, and being proficient in the art, caused him great bodily and mental pain. He further alleges that after the assault he was unable to sleep for several nights, and prays that his assailant be punished to the full extent of the law. His case has been set for hearing on Tuesday at 10 a. m.

The fruit fair parade this year at Spokane it is evident is going to be something well worth seeing. The harvest festival celebration will occur promptly at 2 o'clock Tuesday, the 4th day of next October. The excursion rates to the fair will be good from all points in the Inland Empire on the 3d of October or any day thereafter till the last day of the fair, and will permit of a five days' lay over in Spokane if it is desired. Instead of the usual 5 cent a mile, the rates for the fair will be 2 cents a mile. This includes the Spokane & Northern road, as well as all others which enter Spokane.

Tuesday afternoon Dufur people were suddenly alarmed by the cry of fire, which proved to be in J. A. Steven's stubble fields north of town. A spark from the threshing engine had ignited a near by straw stack, from which the flames communicated with the stubble, and a large area was burned over. Had it not been for the numerous hands which answered to the cry for help, Mr. Stevens would have suffered the loss of many stacks of grain. As it was the fire was extinguished with wet sacks before it had reached any of the stacks, for which Johnny of course feels thankful.

We understand that Mr. Christman, who is on his way to Silver Lake with a traction engine and three heavily loaded wagons, has reached the McGrail place, about sixteen miles from town. He pulled into the yard at that place for water, and while attempting to back out had a break down, and at present is laid up for repairs. Bad break-downs have occurred at every mark in the road which has put them back a great deal, and it is plain that Mr. Christman's machine cannot stand the rough roads Eastern Oregon. He hopes however to make a success of the venture of hauling freight from Hay Creek to Silver Lake.

And enjoyable party was given at the residence of Simon Bolton last evening, and was attended by all those who were camped at Stevenson during the hot spell, and a merrier crowd of young people would be hard to find. The party was given as a farewell to Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Barnett and family, who will leave in a short time to make their future home in Portland. Various games were indulged in and refreshments served. On the whole, the evening was extremely pleasant, and on leaving, the guests expressed regrets that such genial friends as the BARNETTS should leave and hoped they would again return to make The Dalles their home.

TRAVELING LIBRARY.

Something New Along The Line of Popular Education.

All the privileges of a regular city library are secured to the members with this wonderful plan, together with a regular course of study (if desirable) comprising the world's greatest historical, scientific and social questions or problems.

Members have access to a library of 1000 volumes of the worlds choicest and most interesting books with all the privileges, musical, education, etc., which this wonderful institution gives at an exceedingly low price. The average cost to members being about twelve cents per month. This is made possible by the co-operative plan and magnitude of the business done. 500 people in adjoining communities help pay for the books that will come here. Besides all the above, each member is presented with a full five years subscription to The Library Bulletin, a most excellent magazine published by The Parmelle Company in connection with the studies.

Mr. O. K. Fitzsimmons and Mr. H. E. Riner are in the city in the interests of the above and are having fine success. Nearly enough members were secured for one station in one day. The work is intensely interesting to all and we should have at least two sections here to accommodate all those who desire membership. Don't fail to look into it.
