In the first place our new line of goods for the season is so sound and substantial as to quality and value, as to leave no room for dissatisfaction on the part of the buyer. The honest merit of our goods is an effective appeal to the good judgement of the customer who realizes that nothing is cheap which does not possess sterling worth proportionate to the price asked. We aim to select and sell only such goods as will fill the expectation of the buyer from first to last; at the time of purchase it is mainly a question of style, afterward it becomes a test of service and durability. You will find us stocked with the goods that meet these demands and as time proves the genuineness of our grade and quality, strictly modern in style, and very low in price. If this is the style of doing business that strikes you as promising the best results for buyers, come right along, for we shall meet your expectations and give the best satisfaction. We have tried to state our position fairly and without boasting. The facts we have presented for your consideration we can substantiate at any time with quality and price. A letter from Prof. A. W. Lundell announces that he will return on or about the 20th inst., and that he will be pleased to meet his friends and pupils in voice culture.

That the liberality of the firm of Pease & Mays cannot be doubted is plainly demonstrated by the fact that they today gave to each of their employees who assisted in saving their property on the night of the fire a ten dollar bill which is very good wages for such short hours.

The saloon of Mr. John Howe was moved Saturday from its former location on the corner of Front and Court streets to the building formerly occupied by Mr. Cross' grocery store on the corner of Second and Union streets. Mr. Howe hopes to see all his former patrons at the new stand.

Mrs. Rose Campbell, Mrs. Wilson and Misses Myrtle and Grace Smith, of the Millinery firm of Campbell & Wilson, returned from Portland Saturday evening where they have been for three weeks trimming in one of the wholesale houses. Mrs. Campbell leaves for Pendleton tonight to take charge of that branch of the firm.

Today Joseph Sherar brought in samples of peaches and egg plums grown in his orchard at the bridge, and if anyone doubts that the country along the Deschutes is not a good fruit producing section, they should see the samples of fruit grown there. The peaches are unusually large, juicy and of splendid flavor, while the plums are equal to any that are grown in the country.

Saturday night E. B. Wood was brought up from Bridal Veil with a badly crushed foot. He was working in the sawmill at the place and got one of his feet caught between the massive carriage and a standard when the machinery was in motion and had several of the bones badly broken. Dr Hollister reduced the fractures and put the foot in a plaster paris cast, and at last reports the injured man was getting along nicely.

A curiosity was on exhibition at the Dalles Commission Co's. store this morning, consisting of a couple of boxes of fine juicy strawberries, the second crop grown this summer on the vines of Mr. Miquet on Mill creek. This is something remarkable; a large crop of strawberries was harvested early in the summer and now a second crop is ripened. California is always held up as a remarkably productive state, but it cannot boast of two crops of luscious strawberries in a single season as can Eastern Oregon.

About six hundred head of thoroughbred rams were shipped last night by the Baldwin Sheep and Land Company from this place to their ranges near Pendleton. Fourteen hundred head are in pasture at Eight-Mile en route from the upper country to The Dalles from which point they will be shipped east to Pendleton for winter range. James E. Hackett, sheep buyer for the company, is superintending the shipments.

David Patterson Jr. of Eight-mile was arrested Saturday night by Constable Hill, charged with the larceny of two saddles. It appears that Patterson wanted to leave the country and had his outfit all but a saddle, and not having money with which to buy one, he resolved to use the next best means of getting one by stealing it. He first took one from Harrison Dufur, but was caught and deprived of this. He then stole one from Mr. Drake, of Eight-mile, which he had in his possession when arrested. The time has not yet been set for his hearing.

At the fruit fair this year in Spokane most of the societies will have special days. For instance, the second day of the fair, that is the 5th of October, will be K. of P. day, and the grand chancellor of the state of Washington will be present. The Red Men have chosen October 7 as their day. The Shriners, Eagles, Elts, Odd Fellows and the press will also have each a day devoted to their order. It is probable the commercial travelers will also be in the list. Many of these societies will also have a float in the harvest festival parade. The K. of P.'s were the first of these orders to decide on a float, and they expect to have the handsomest one in the parade.

More hop pickers are passing through Goldendale, enroute to Yakima county, than for many years past. This is owing to a larger acreage than since 1893. There is a dearth of contracting for hops, however, and prices are not entirely satisfactory to growers. At Yakima it is stated that some contracts have been made at 10 to 11c, while some early sales are as low as 8c. West of the mountains some of the growers are indulging in talk of not picking because values are not satisfactory, but it is safe to say that a prime article in hops will pay at least a moderate profit and as a whole the state crop is above the average as to quality. The yield, too, is generally larger than last year. Yakima county will make a banner yield, the Republic placing the output at 16,000 bales, over half as much as was produced in the entire state last year.

A HOT TIME.

Four Arrests Made Yesterday—All Kinds of Trouble Caused by Intoxicated Italians.

Sunday was an exceptionally busy day for City Marshal Lauer. Four arrests were made and the victims are now in the city jail, awaiting their hearing.

The first of the four disturbers of the peace began by entering the post office and throwing ink bottles and every other article he could find around the office, and at the same time flourishing a gun with a vengeance. The floor and wall of the office were badly defaced with ink, and the postal clerk, Will Crossen, who escaped by the rear entrance, was persuaded to resume his duties only when fully convinced that the bad man was lodged in jail. From the post office he went to the Baldwin Restaurant where he succeeded in driving the inmates of that place out with a "clever" gun play. From there he wended his way to the Columbia Hotel where he proved his inability as a sure marksman by missing the character at whom he shot, and after satisfying himself that he had done enough at this place, he walked around the block to Wood Brothers' meat market where he received the warmest kind of a reception with a club in the hands of John Wood. Shortly after this Marshal Lauer took charge of the "bad man" and placed him in jail, where he now awaits his hearing.

Another man was arrested for vagrancy and for being drunk and disorderly and placed in jail, while two men got into a spirited fight in front of the Germania on Second Street, and after furnishing a fund of amusement to the bystanders, was put in jail until they should come to their sober senses, when they will be punished according to the enormity of their crime.

SERIOUS RUNAWAY ACCIDENT.

H. B. Connolly Thrown From a Wagon and Seriously Injured.

A serious runaway accident occurred this morning in the East End, and it was only by sheer good luck that the owner of the team escaped with his life. H. B. Connolly, of Eight-mile, was coming down the Brewery grade with a wagon heavily loaded with grain. He drove to one side of the road to let another team pass, when his horses became unmanageable and threw the driver out on the road with the greater part of the wheat out on top of him.

Some people near by at once assisted in getting Mr. Connolly out from among the grain sacks, and it was found his injuries were very serious. He was taken to Dr. Hollister's office, and upon examination it was found that his shoulder joint was dislocated and his arm broken about three inches below the shoulder. His injuries were attended to and comfortable quarters prepared for him in the Cosmopolitan. The team ran from the Brewery grade down Second to Langhlin, then up to Third and down Third to where that street intersects Fourth, and down that thoroughfare to Judge Bennett's property near the bridge where they ran into a telephone pole and tore lose from the wagon.

It was very fortunate that greater damage was not done, as there were a large number of teams on the side street by the Catholic church when the runaway passed, waiting for Mrs. Fritz's funeral to start.

The grain was scattered from the East End all along the line of the runaway, but outside of the injuries received by Mr. Connolly the damage was comparatively light.

OUR FIRE DEPARTMENT.

A Common Sense Communication Stating Why the Deserving Fire Laddies Have a Kick Coming.

THE DALLES, Ore., Sept. 5, 1898.

EDITOR CHRONICLE:
Knowing that the business men and taxpayers are interested in the welfare and progress of our city, I believe it is their hope that at some time we will have obtained a proficiency in our volunteer fire department. A good fire department means a reduction of fire insurance and an increase in the protection afforded property owners. Most necessary of all is the value of a good hook and ladder truck and rigging in the equipment of a fire department, and I understand that such can be procured at a very reasonable figure at the present time. Now I would suggest that a committee consisting of three from each of the several fire companies in the city, be appointed, to confer with, or petition (as they deem advisable) the advisability of the purchase of necessary equipment for the department, as I understand that several of the companies have not been successful in obtaining the necessities for good work. The volunteer fire department of our city consists of the young men with nothing at stake and business men, and if the city fathers cannot support it in this, it is a piteous predicament, such as can only exist in a sleepy community.

Attractive Boys.

There is nothing which creates such a cheerful impression on the beholder than attractive boys. Young girls always interest, but there's a special charm about the boys, for most people. This cannot be so, however, unless they are neatly and attractively dressed. Pease & Mays will make this easy for you. At the front in their store you will find one counter piled high with boys' clothing, the kind you want, and you can have any five dollar suit in the lot for two dollars and fifty cents—in fact any suit in the lot for just one-half the marked price.
