THE HAWAIIAN INCIDENT.

The reported friction in the Hawaiian commission at Honolulu is important because it developed a precedent, says the Inter Ocean. The resolution of congress declared that, the republic of Hawaii having in due form signified its consent to cede absolutely and without reserve to the United States of America all rights of sovereignty whatsoever, "the cession be accepted and confirmed and that the said Hawaiian islands and their dependencies be, and they are hereby, annexed as a part of the territory of the United States, and are subject to the sovereign dominion thereof." The adoption of this resolution made the Hawaiian islands an integral part of the United States. From the moment that the American flag was formally raised over the government building at Hawaii by Admiral Miller there was no Hawaiian republic. The islands were as much a part of the United States as if they had been one of the thirteen original states.

It may seem a trifling matter that the commissioners declined to call first on ex President Dole. It may seem like straining a point in etiquette or like manifesting small respect for the late officials of the little republic that was so anxious to become a part of this great American Union. But on such trivial matters have turned important controversies.

Senator Cullom, chairman of the commission, held that under the circumstances ex President Dole was only one of the Hawaiian commissioners. Mr. Dole, on the contrary, held that until the commission had completed its work he was to be recognized as the chief executive of the Hawaiian republic. If he acted in accordance with the Congressional resolution Senator Cullom could not recognize this. The commission has no power to modify any of the conditions of annexation. The action of congress settled that whole question. There is little probability that there will be any irritation of great feeling on this matter among the Hawaiians. There is little danger that ex-President Dole and his associates will make any mistakes in the way of promoting irritation. They have secured what they asked for. The United States government is now in possession. The American flag has been raised over the islands by the consent of the Hawaiian government and at the solicitation of the party in power. All the conditions of the transfer have been agreed to. The commission is to arrange the details of the local administration, but is not empowered to discuss or act upon any question settled by congress.

Mr. Dole and all those who so creditably conducted the affairs of the little republic may be a trifle sensitive on the question of courtesy due them, but they are as earnest in their desire to promote good relations between the people of the new territory and the United States as are the American members of the commission. They will realize that Senator Cullom's decision to recognize no government but that of the United States is a correct one.

One of the most beneficial results of the recent war is the discovery by the public that it ought to be ashamed of itself for giving countenance to the yellow newspapers.

The time may come when it will be necessary for the United States to employ a sirdar for the purpose of crushing out the howling dervishes of the yellow press.

The difference is that the London newspapers will not attempt to cloud the glory of the Soudan campaign by holding the British government responsible for the climate of the Soudan.

A CRITICAL TIME

During the Battle at Santiago.

SICK OR WELL, A RUSH NIGHT AND DAY.

The Packers at the Battle of Santiago de Cuba Were all Heroes—Their Heroic Efforts in Getting Ammunition and Rations to the Front Saved the Day.

P. E. Butler, of pack-train No. 3, writing from Santiago, De Cuba, on July 23d, says: "We all had diarrhoea in more or less violent form, and when we landed we had no time to see a doctor, for it was a case of rush and rush night and day to keep the troops supplied with ammunition and rations, but thanks to Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, we were able to keep at work and keep our health; in fact, I sincerely believe that at one critical time this medicine was the indirect saviour of our army, for if the packers had been unable to work there would have been no way of getting supplies to the front. There were no roads that a wagon train could use. My comrad and myself had the good fortune to lay in a supply of this medicine for our pack-train before we left Tampa, and I know in four cases it absolutely saved life."

The above letter was written to the manufacturers of this medicine, the Chamberlain Medicine Co., Des Moines, Iowa. For sale by Blakeley and Houghton.
