

Fall Greeting.

WE ASK FOR YOUR TRADE THIS SEASON, feeling that our dealings cannot fail to be mutually profitable and satisfactory. In the first place our new line of goods for the season is so sound and substantial as to quality and value, as to leave no room for dissatisfaction on the part of the buyer. The honest merit of our goods is an effective appeal to the good judgment of the customer who realizes that nothing is cheap which does not possess sterling worth proportionate to the price asked. We aim to select and sell only such goods as will fill the expectation of the buyer from first to last; at the time of purchase it is mainly a question of style, afterward it becomes a test of service and durability. You will find us stocked with the goods that meet these demands, and as time proves the genuineness of our quality, you will feel like coming for more. We are sellers of goods of high grade and quality, strictly modern in style, and very low in price. If this is the style of doing business that strikes you as promising the best results for buyers, come right along, for we shall meet your expectations and give the best satisfaction. We have tried to state our position fairly and without boasting. The facts we have presented for your consideration we can substantiate at any time with quality and price. We have an earnest desire to do just as well by you as we possibly can on every purchase and to thereby merit and obtain your future esteemed patronage.

A telegram received from Miss Rose Michell last evening, says Portland was overwhelmingly selected as the next place of meeting for the National Press Association. Everybody is enthusiastic and Oregon is fairly in it.

A splendid picture of some of the American warships was presented to the new high school today by J. M. Huntington. Conspicuous among the rest is Admiral Sampson's flagship the New York, the Iowa and the pride of the Pacific coast, the Oregon. It is a handsome gift and will be hung in the large room in the high school.

Today Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Hart, who live on the bluff, brought in a sample of peaches grown in their yard. They are of the Late Crawford variety, and an unusually large fruit, measuring eleven inches in circumference, and is fine flavored.

The fall fishing season opened at twelve o'clock last night, but as yet it is uncertain as to the quantity of fish that are in the river. Before the season opened fishermen were of the opinion that there were an unusually large number of fish in the river, but so far the fishermen have not had sufficient time to ascertain whether or not this assertion is true.

Owing to a number of changes, which have to be made in the machinery of the Inland Flyer by order of the boiler inspectors, the new boat will be delayed several days, so that there is a possibility that the little craft will not be up before the middle of next week. It was thought at first that it could be put into service Tuesday, but this is at present considered doubtful.

Yesterday nine cars of Eastern Oregon wool were shipped from the Wasco Warehouse to Boston. Today eleven cars more are being loaded at the same Warehouse for the same point. At this rate there is little danger that the amount of wool on hands at the Wasco Warehouse will stand in the way of the immense wheat crop which is crowding in from all over the interior.

The Umatilla House has an addition in its bar-room for the entertainment of guests which is hard to excel. It is a large Symphonion music box, and along with being larger, has the finest sound of any we have ever heard. It is run on the principle of all other music boxes, that is by pacing a nickle in the slot, and the selection given in return is well worth the investment.

Yesterday a hobo who was feeling very much under the weather was placed in the county jail. On examining him this morning Dr. Hollister found that he was suffering from a severe attack of typhoid fever. The jail not being a suitable place for anyone suffering from this malady he was sent to the poor farm this afternoon. He gives his name as Earl S. Donaldson and is a stranger in this section.

There are probably a great many Dalles hunters who never think of the fact that they are violating the game laws when they kill ducks on the Washington side of the river and bring the same home with them. They are, however, putting themselves in a position to be heavily fined by bringing game from one state into another, and should take the hint and do their hunting in Oregon although the inducement of going over to Rockland may be great.

Today the family of Mrs. B. Sinnott ordered a monument of Louie Comini, to be placed over the grave of the late N. B. Sinnott. The monument, Mr.

Comini informs us, will surpass in beauty, size and value, anything that has ever been put in the Catholic cemetery. It will be carved from what is known as Peterhead Scotch granite, which is one of the most costly and beautiful varieties, and one that takes the most perfect polish.

At present there are eight prisoners in the county jail awaiting the action of the grand jury. Their quarters are clean and comfortable, and a more happy-go-lucky crowd would be hard to find. One of them is a flute player and he furnishes all with an abundance of music, while another can talk Chinese like a native born celestial and his imitation of a Chinese theater is amusing in the extreme. The other six form the audience and their laughter is enough to convince any one that they appreciate the efforts of their entertainers.

It appears that our townspeople are under the impression that the ordinance against letting cows run at large on the streets of the city is no longer in force, as numerous complaints are made by citizens in regard to this nuisance. The ordinance will be strictly enforced, and if cows are not kept within proper bounds their owners need not feel indignant at any one if they are lodged in the pound and they have to pay the usual damages to get them out. There are also many unlicensed dogs in The Dalles which will also meet their fate if the matter of securing licenses is not attended to.

The enterprise shown by our business men in rebuilding in the burned district is certainly very commendable and speaks in flattering terms of them. Gunning's blacksmith shop is about completed and is a commodious and substantial building. Pease and Mays warehouse is beginning to assume the form of a building, while Mr. Vanbibber is erecting a structure to be used as a barbershop, restaurant and tailoring shop next to the Fitzgerald building. The Fitzgerald runs are also being cleared by Mays and Crowe and will soon be converted into a handsome structure. At this rate the burned district will soon be covered with buildings superior by far to those destroyed a few weeks ago.

FOREST RANGERS DO GOOD.

Captain Ormsby Finds That They Have Kept Down Fires.

Superintendent S. B. Ormsby, of the Oregon forest reserves, arrived in Salem yesterday, from a ten-day tour of inspection of certain of the range districts in his jurisdiction, says the Statesman. At Prospect he met Forest Supervisor Nat Langell, and with him visited the camps of the rangers, under Mr. Langell, posted from Prospect to Crater lake. En route he saw evidences of heavy fires that occurred before the range force was put on, but found there had been no fire anywhere in that district since the new system of surveillance had been inaugurated. The atmosphere about Crater lake, usually charged with smoke haze, was absolutely clear and pure, and residents of that country inform Superintendent Ormsby that this was the first season in years that such a state of affairs had existed there. The Superintendent feels that the system is full of efficacy, and it is fast proving the wisdom of the department in establishing it, a sentiment entirely concurred in by Commissioner Hermann, who intimated that another year would find the rangers on duty earlier in the season, at least by July 1, and in greater numbers.

Fires were reported to Superintendent Ormsby as raging below the Oregon line in California, in which vast amounts of valuable lumber were consumed. The Umpqua and Rogue river valleys are entirely free from smoke, and no fires are reported in Southern or Southeastern Oregon anywhere.

A HORRIBLE DEATH.

Mrs. Clark Burned to Death at Her Home Near Wind River.

Word reached the city last night that Mrs. Clark, mother of Mrs. Taylor Reynolds, of this city, was burned to death at her farm eight miles from Wind River landing, yesterday.

She had taken up a homestead at that place and had lived on it the limited time that is necessary to prove up on the same.

The house caught fire, and it is thought that in her efforts to save certain articles her clothing became ignited. The neighbors saw the flames and immediately crowded to the scene of the conflagration but were too late to render any assistance, and found Mrs. Clark's charred remains lying about twenty yards from the house.

A coffin was sent down on the Dalles City this morning, and the interment will probably take place tomorrow.

Died.

Mrs. Laura Boehmer died at 12 o'clock last night at the residence of her brother, Mr. Frank Ruffner, on Eighth street, aged 29 years. Her death was caused by consumption, and had been expected for some time. The funeral services will be held from Mr. Ruffner's residence at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon.
