

...OUR LADIES' JACKETS...

New Goods Just Opened.

Made by those who give the matter their undivided thought, differ from the ordinary kind in many ways—fit and finish is better, and they have a distinctive style that makes them desirable when you wish to appear well dressed. The assortment includes Beavers, Kerseys and Fancy Cloths, and these jackets are the correct length (22 and 23 inch.) Prices are from

$3.50 to $17.50

We expect to open up a second invoice today, (Monday,) consisting of Jackets and Capes, on which the prices will range from $1.75 to $15.00.

We are satisfied with Small Profits.

Saturday Dr. Hollister was called to Monkland, Sherman county, for a consultation with Dr. Smith, of Moro, on a number of typhoid fever cases. Dr.

Hollister informs us that a typhoid epidemic is raging there at present and several deaths have occurred from the same.

The teachers' institute for Crook county will be held next week commencing on Wednesday and lasting through the week. Prof. Wetzell, an experienced teacher, will be present and conduct the institute. A great many teachers will be present.

The six-year-old son of W. B. Campbell, who lives near La Grande, was kicked in the face by a horse Saturday morning. The nose was crushed out of shape and the sight of one eye endangered. The doctors think that they will be able to stitch the wounds so that the little fellow will not be disfigured.

Mr. Elias B. Yaple died last Monday at 5 a. m., at the residence of J. D. Evans, in Prineville, of heart disease. Mr. Yaple was born at New Columbus, Luzerne Co., Penn., was forty years of age and has been a resident of this county for the past four years during which time he has been a sober and industrious man with the respect of all who knew him.

One of the greatest wheat belts in the world is the Walla Walla county, and it is going to be truly pictured in the big building at the coming Oregon Industrial Exposition at Portland, Sept. 22 to Oct. 22. There will be a panoramic view of all the country penetrated by the O. R. & N. lines, and they will be true to nature, and there will be samples of soils and the staples they produce. It will be a handsome and valuable exhibit.

Hon. J. C. Thompson, ex-representative of Morrow county in the Oregon legislature, now a farmer of Klickitat county, residing in Pleasant valley, east of Goldendale, was surprised last week by a visit from two brothers from Pittsburgh, Pa., whom he had not seen for twenty-four years. They were swinging around the Pacific coast circle with an excursion and had but five days to visit their brother. Judge Thompson expressed himself as well pleased with the Pacific coast.

Mrs. Jacob Craft, an old resident of Oufur, died at her home in that city yesterday, aged about 60. She leaves a husband, three sons, William, Joseph and Edward, and one daughter, Mrs. Thos. Hawkins, to mourn her loss. She was a highly respected woman and had many friends among her large circle of acquaintances. When the information concerning her death reached us the time for the funeral had not been set but it will in all probability be held this afternoon.

The pin boys in the different bowling alleys have been kept extremely busy during the last week. Good scores have been made at both the Club and Umattilla House alleys. The daily scores at the former place were as follows: Monday, Bradshaw, 55; Tuesday, C. Ballard, 56; Wednesday, Frank Seufert, 60; Thursday, Ogden, 56; Friday, Sinnott, 57; Saturday, Fred Van Norden, 56; Sunday, V. Sampson, 61. At the Umattilla House alleys the following high scores were made: Monday, H. Maetz, 74; Tuesday, H. Maetz, 68; Wednesday, Esping, 64; Thursday, Birgfeld, 63; Friday, Maetz, 80; Saturday, Mike Spicinger, 63; Sunday, Maetz, 60.

The Dalles Public schools opened this morning with a total enrollment of 636 pupils. On the first day of last year the total enrollment was 611, while in 1896 it was 575. The total enrollment in the high school is 73. Although the total over last year is only 25, still the increase shows plainly the steady growth of the city and everything goes to show that in a few weeks the number will increase wonderfully as there are always a great many enrolled later in the school year.

Today the petition to set aside the lease of the Hood River Lumbering company is being considered in the county court. It appears that the company has a lease on the stream to use the same for the purpose of floating logs down to their mill. A new corporation has been organized which is endeavoring to secure a lease on the river for the same purpose in order that they may put in a large mill at the town of Hood River. W. H. Wilson appears for the petitioners while Huntington and Wilson appear for the Lumbering Co.

Contracts for material have been let and all necessary arrangements made for resuming work on the construction of fortifications at Fort Stevens. A battery of mortars and several larger guns had just been mounted there when the Spanish war broke out. Now the fortifications are to be extended by the addition of a second section, for the accommodation of several more large guns. Just what is the extent of the addition to be made to the present fortifications it is impossible to ascertain, for those who know will not tell; but it will be a work of some magnitude, and it is understood that a further addition will be made in the future, and the fortifications at the mouth of the Columbia will ultimately be very formidable.

THE OMAHA EXPOSITION

PRESS DELEGATE'S DESCRIPTION OF THE SCENES.

A Delightful Circuit From Spokane to Denver Via St. Paul and Omaha.

DENVER, Colo., Sept. 6, '93.

EDITOR CHRONICLE:

In the course of human events, and others not worth mentioning, we have at last arrived at the beautiful city of Denver, which is now fairly pressed with newspaper people, about 400, including a portion of the Oregon delegation, having arrived on the special car yesterday morning. Of the many sights to be seen in this city I will not now speak, nor of the workings of the convention, but must say something in regard to our trip here.

After attending the meeting at Spokane, through the kindness of the Great Northern we were permitted to make a round-about trip, and thus embarked for St. Paul, the journey taking three days and two nights. However, so interesting was the trip that we did not realize its length. Stopping at St. Paul a day, we viewed the city, calling upon A. G. Tucker, agent of the Northwest, who received us cordially, and learning that we were anxious to take in the exposition at Omaha on our way, granted us transportation to that place. This route down was one of the pleasantest we have had, and we arrived on the morning of the second, where we met the Eastern delegation, composed of about 350 editors and their wives, from every state in the East, North and South, among them several from Boston.

The latter delegation evidently thought the Oregon people a portion of Buffalo Bill's show (which we are to see tonight), but the gaze of wonder finally changed to one of admiration (ahem!) as they remarked: "You young ladies must have as good educational facilities as we of the United States."

As to the exposition, where we spent two days, it is immense, the grounds consisting of about eighty acres, and covered with the most beautiful structures, which are patterned after those of the Columbian exposition. To describe them would be impossible; but we must mention the Lagoon, which, when fairly ablaze with electric lights, is beautiful in the extreme.

The Oregon exhibits are creating quite a sensation, the one in charge of Mr. Doech, of Portland, where is found a fine display of Oregon woods, is attracting throngs of people constantly. Our flax exhibit is among the finest displayed on the grounds, and is surprising everyone. But I wish to mention especially our fruit exhibit in the horticultural building, over which Mr. Courtney, of Portland presides. While he is doing his best and has a good display, especially
