The Dalles Commission Company changed hands today. Although the establishment has changed proprietors its patrons can be assured that it will be conducted in the satisfactory manner that it has been heretofore.

Professor Lundell, the teacher of singing and vocal culture is in the city and will in the near future start a class. He informs us that a large number have signified their willingness to join and that he will have a large class cannot be doubted.

We are pleased to state that Thomas Twohig, who has been very ill with appendicitis and upon whom a difficult operation was performed in St. Vincent's hospital is again able to be around on the streets, and although quite weak, is recovering fast.

Governor Lord is said to be putting in all his spare time since returning from California, working on his message to the legislature. It goes without saying, remarks the Salem Statesman that the document will be comprehensive of the state's pressing needs, and replete with apt suggestions.

Postmaster Crossen today received a letter from a party by the name of Mrs. Etta Ronden, of Gunlake, Michigan, in which she enquires of the whereabouts of L. B. Joslin formerly of this place. If this notice is read by Mr. Joslin or any of his friends who know where he is, they will confer a favor by writing to Mrs. Ronden and informing her of his whereabouts.

A number of friends of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Hill surprised the young couple at their home on Fifth and Union street last evening. The time was spent very pleasantly in playing some of the "old-fashioned" games and in conversation, after which a bountiful lunch was served. The guests departed at late hour all declaring they had spent a most enjoyable evening.

That sensational Astoria story to the effect that two cases of leprosy had been discovered in the city by the sea turns out to have been only a figment of the brain of the great American space writer. The Chinese who was one of the alleged victims of the dread disease, and whose head was kept inclosed in a sack, was merely suffering from the effects of a thrashing received at the hands of a fellow countryman.

Two scowloads of mutton sheep were brought up to the city yesterday by the little steamer belonging to the Jones Lumbering Co., at Viento. Today another scow load will be brought up which will make in all about six car loads which will be shipped tonight. The sheep are the property of William Ketchum and will be sent to the Union Meat Company at Troutdale and the Pacific Meat Company in Tacoma.

Last night about ten o'clock rain began falling and continued until this morning at 8 o'clock. A few showers fell today, and in all, a precipitation of over one half inch. As nearly every farmer in the country has his grain threshed the rainfall will do but little damage and a great benefit will be done the dusty roads over which they have to haul their produce. Some farmers who have their grain sacks piled in the field along side of their straw stacks may have had some difficulty in protecting it from getting wet, but it is likely the vast majority of the farmers have their grain under shelter.

A bad wreck occurred on the O. R. & N. at Bonneyville yesterday evening. A west bound freight was standing on the track at that place when a double header crashed into its rear demolishing seven cars and blocking the track for several hours. As far as could be learned no one was injured, full particulars could not be learned, however, as the officials refuse to speak on the subject. The wreck was probably caused by carelessness on the part of someone, but to whom the blame is attributed cannot as yet be said. The east bound passenger train which was due here at 11:40 last night did not arrive until this morning and the early morning train was also delayed.

The Wizard Oil Company put on a splendid show last night at the Baldwin Opera House. In fact it is hard to understand how such a high class performance can be put on for the small sum of 15 cents admission. A large number of beautiful presents were given away to those holding reserved seat tickets, while the best features of the performance were Mr. Arnaldo in the balancing feat of heavy and light articles, Mr. Neverker the contortionist, Mr. Howard the impersonator, Morton and Melville in their black faced turns, Jerry Sullivan the funny little man in his acrobatic feats and singing and Mr. Gallagher in his all around comedy work, while a number of others assisted in their sketches and farce comedies. No one should miss seeing their performance which opens at 8:15 o'clock. Admission 15 cents. Reserved seats, with privileges to draw on articles which are raffled, ten cents extra.

For over an hour and a half Bishop C. C. McCabe entertained a fair sized audience in Centenary Methodist church last night with his great lecture on "The Bright Side of Life in Libby Prison," says the Oregonian. The lecture was a recital of the bright side of the speaker's experience in Libby prison with an occasional glimpse on the dark side. Bishop McCabe was the chaplain of the 122d Ohio regiment, and he paid a high tribute to its bravery, saying that it entered the war 975 strong and came out with 200. The speaker detailed the circumstances that led to his capture and incarceration in Libby prison, following with a vivid description of his experiences afterward until he was exchanged and taken to Washington. He told of the songs the prisoners sang, the manner in which they spent their time, and detailed how the great prison, with its more than 600 prisoners, obtained books and became a university of learning. Nearly the entire audience came forward and shook hands with the bishop and thanked him for his fine lecture. There were a number of the members of the G. A. R. present, and they were especially pleased.

A DELIGHTFUL LECTURE.

Geo. H. Johnston of This City Has Heard Bishop McCabe—What He Says of His Lecture.

Today we received the following testimonial from Mr. Johnston, who is an employee of the New York Cash store. He says: Two years ago at Beloit, Kansas, I had the privilege of listening to Chaplain Bishop McCabe, in his intensely interesting lecture, "The Bright Side of Life in Libby Prison." From beginning to end he held his audience spell bound, his many funny incidents eliciting roars of laughter, while his pathetic pictures of prison life filled all eyes with tears. It is a great treat to listen to so gifted a man, and I am glad I again have the opportunity. Geo. H. JOHNSON, New York Cash Store.

BACK FROM CUBA

JOHN MCNEIL ARRIVES TODAY FROM NEW HOME HOSPITAL

He is one of the First of Our Brave Boys to Return From the Cuban Battle-fields. A Warm Reception Accorded Him by His Many Friends.

This morning one of the brave lads who passed through the campaign in Cuba during the recent war arrived in the city, and as he is an old Dalles boy and one who has contributed several descriptive letters to this paper, as well as one who has taken an active part in various battles during that war, his friends and the CHRONICLE take a singular delight in welcoming him home. The young man who is receiving such a hearty welcome is none other than John A. McNeil of troop C, 1st United States Cavalry. Shortly after his troop went aboard the transports to come to Long Island he was taken sick with typhoid fever and was sent to the hospital in New Haven, Connecticut. As soon as he was well enough to travel he got a thirty days furlough to visit his relatives and friends in this city and will remain here until about October 15th.

He has an interesting story to tell of his adventures since the opening of the war. At that time he was a member of the regular army at Fort Sheridan, Illinois, and was in the first division of the army to go to Cuba, and was the second man of the regulars to set foot on Cuban soil. He went through the war with Lieutenant Davis, being a member of Wheeler's Brigade. He was in the heat of the battle of Las Guamas on June 24th in the charge of San Juan Hill and the battle at that place which lasted two and one half days, also took part in the siege of Santiago, which lasted over seven days.

He has been very fortunate and has seen comrades fall all around him, but passed through with but one scar, which he received on the right side of the face from a bursting shell. The nearest call he had to being shot was having a bullet pass through his canteen.

He is an interesting talker and one could listen to him relate for hours the incidents of the campaign. Unlike the volunteers, the regulars, of which he is one, have no complaint to make concerning the treatment they received, and although the climate of Cuba is very disagreeable, still he would cheerfully return to the scene of war, were it necessary. He has two years and three months more to serve, and expects that his troop will return in a short time from Camp Wikoff to their regular post at Fort Sheridan, Illinois.
