THERE WAS NO CLASH BETWEEN THEM

Kitchner Found the French at Fashoda.

BRITISH POST ESTABLISHED

Marchand Refused to Retire Until He Was Ordered to Do So From Paris—The Pekinge Conspiracy.

LONDON, Sept. 26.—The Daily Telegraph's Cairo correspondent, telegraphing Monday, says:

General Kitchner found the French at Fashoda. He notified Major Marchand that he had express instructions that the territory was British, and that the French must retire, and offered them passage to Cairo. Major Marchand absolutely declined to retire unless ordered to do so by his government. No fighting occurred.

Major Marchand was given clearly to understand that the British insisted upon their claims, and the rest has been left to be settled by diplomacy between the representative governments. General Kitchner sent a long official dispatch to London, hoisted the union jack and the Egyptian ensign, and left as a garrison the Eleventh and Thirteenth Sudanese battalions, and the Cammeron Highlanders, to protect the British flag. Colonel Jackson commanded the garrison.

The Cairo correspondent of the Times says:

It is certain that there are no Abyssinian troops on the Upper Nile.

Kitchner Returns to Omdurman.

CAIRO, Sept. 25.—General Kitchner, commanding the Anglo-Egyptian expedition, has returned to Omdurman, having established posts at Fashoda, on the Sobat river.

The troops did no fighting except with a dervish steamer on the way south, which was captured.

PARTY OF SEVEN MISSING

Believed to Have Been Lost in Alaska Marshes.

SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 24.—The terrible floating marshes between the Nelson and Peace rivers are believed to have claimed as victims a party of seven while prospectors who left Fort St. John early in the year, and who have not been heard of since.

The prospecting party had reached Fort St. John on their way to the Yukon. They had taken the Edmonton route, and had been a long time on the way. They were in a hurry, and decided to take a short cut across the marshes. They intended to go down the Nelson river to the Liard and up that stream until they could portage to the Pelly.

They were warned of the danger, but persisted in starting out with a big outfit of supplies and many horses. They did not return to St. John, and have not arrived at Fort Nelson, according to prospectors who have just reached Dawson.

It would be useless to search for their bodies on the marshes, for the oozing black mud, constantly changing even the spots of seemingly dry land within a few hours. Indians have lost their lives in the treacherous mud before, and the natives won't cross it.

TWO MEN WERE RUN OVER

One Instantly Killed, the Other Badly Hurt.

NORTH YAKIMA, Wash., Sept. 25.—Dan Reagan, a man who had been ill in the hospital here several weeks, while walking on the track near the stockyards, south of the city, was run over and killed by a freight train, which was switching on the "Y." Reagan was deaf and did not hear the shouts of warning of a train crew nearly 100 feet ahead of him. The train crew heard cries, and got off the track and ran back to Reagan, but it was too late. The train ran over the body of the latter, cutting it in two in the middle. Reagan had been living here but a short time, coming to Yakima from Oregon. The coroner's inquest placed no blame on the railroad company.

Louis Tuott, a German section hand, was run over by a hand car carrying ten men this morning. He was badly crushed and bruised, but his life is not in danger. He fell off the car while it was in motion.

REQUESTS FOR DISCHARGES

War Department Overrun With Applications—Those Received Through Military Channels Will be Acted Upon.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—Assistant Adjutant-General Ward, who is directly in charge of the enlisted service at the war department, has dispatched the following telegram to the commanding officers of the military camps and departments:

"The war department is overrun with applications for discharges of enlisted men from members of congress, governors of states, mayors of cities, friends, relatives and others. The acting secretary of war desires that you issue general orders today to your command calling attention to paragraphs 762 and 765, army regulations, and to the fact that the war department will not entertain applications for discharges, excepting they reach it through military channels."

Colonel Ward has also found it necessary to send the following instructions by telegraph to hasten action under this order:

"The department is advised that commanding officers are holding back applications of enlisted men for discharges. The acting secretary of war directs that you instruct all company, troop, battery and regimental commanders of your command by telegraph, that such applications must be forwarded immediately, approved or disapproved, as provided in army regulations 765, through regular military channels for action by the war department. Acknowledge receipt and report action."

It is reported that the war department was inspired to hasten the action of the department commanders in these cases by reason of the numerous inquiries received at the department of late from prominent persons, including senators and representatives, for information as to its intentions regarding applications of soldiers for discharge, which have not yet been received.

A CRITICAL TIME

During the Battle at Santiago.

SICK OR WELL, A RUSH NIGHT AND DAY.

The Packers at the Battle of Santiago de Cuba Were all Heroes—Their Heroic Efforts in Getting Ammunition and Rations to the Front Saved the Day.

P. E. Butler, of pack-train No. 3, writing from Santiago, De Cuba, on July 23d, says: "We all had diarrhoea in more or less violent form, and when we landed we had no time to see a doctor, for it was a case of rush and rush night and day to keep the troops supplied with ammunition and rations, but thanks to Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, we were able to keep at work and keep our health; in fact, I sincerely believe that at one critical time this medicine was the indirect saviour of our army, for if the packers had been unable to work there would have been no way of getting supplies to the front. There were no roads that a wagon train could use. My comrad and myself had the good fortune to lay in a supply of this medicine for our pack-train before we left Tampa, and I know in four cases it absolutely saved life."

The above letter was written to the manufacturers of this medicine, the Chamberlain Medicine Co., Des Moines, Iowa. For sale by Blakeley and Houghton.
