Dr. C. N. Thomas arrived in this city today and will deliver his famous lecture on "Cuba and Cubans" in the Christian church tonight. Go and hear him.

Word was received from Mr. Gorman today announcing the fact that he has secured a clerkship in the legislature and will therefore remain during the session.

From advices from Salem THE CHRONICLE is in a position to predict that there will be no caucus on senator and that Hon. H. W. Corbett will not be elected. The sentiment of the legislature seems to be for a compromise candidate.

Last night at the Wizard Oil concert a number of valuable presents were given away, Mrs. Berger being the winner of a set of knives, forks, tablespoons and teaspoons. Several souvenir spoons were also given to those purchasing medicine. Large crowds still attend.

The through train which arrives at 4:50 a. m., was this morning about five hours late, caused by the wreck of freight train No. 24, near Rufus. The engine, No. 68, broke, causing two cars to jump the track. However, no serious damage was done, nor accident caused to anyone.

There is a slight change in the hours when the library will be opened for exchange of books. The hours on Mondays and Wednesdays will be as usual, from 7 to 9 p. m. On Saturdays instead of in the evening, the time has been changed till afternoon, from 3 till 5 o'clock.

Among the many attractions of our coming fair none will be more interesting to everyone than the fact that Mrs. Walter Reed, Portland's favorite vocalist has been secured to fill a prominent place on the evenings' programs. This alone will assure a full attendance every evening at the pavilion.

The young ladies of the Congregational church have reminded us that Halloween is not far distant, and have already planned to give a party on that night, Monday, Oct. 17th. Arrangements have not been made as yet as to the place of holding the entertainment, but notice will be given in due time so that we may assist them in their sports and keep watch for the goblins.

As cooler weather comes on, the club rooms are more a place of rendezvous than during the heated term. Last evening being ladies evening a large number were present, and the balls were kept rolling in the bowling alleys, while many preferred the quiet of the reading room, or an hour at the billiard tables. This is a most pleasant place of meeting, and we often wonder how we ever got along without it.

Those who are interested in fast horses and enjoy good races will be sorry to learn that Frank Frazier has returned to Pendleton from the East, and without Chehalis. The little black pacer remained with Ed Mills, the Boston horseman, who bought him for other parties. It is understood that already Mills has been offered $300 for his bargain, in which he purchased the stallion for $7,000.

Walter M. Pierce, of Pendleton, made the sale of a lot of wheat Saturday which thus far exceeds the record for price. The lot consisted of 8000 bushels which Mr. Pierce shipped from one of his Umatilla county farms to San Francisco. The price which was received after deduction of freight charges and other expense was equivalent to fifty-six cents per bushel in the field. It was blue stem and strictly first grade in quality.

Tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock an organization of the Native Sons of Oregon will be effected at the K. of P. hall. Hon. John C. Leasure, grand president, Eugene W. White, grand secretary, and others prominent in the order will be present. All native sons of Oregon over 21 years of age are eligible to membership, and as many of our leading citizens claim this proud distinction and very many more who expect to be leaders in the community have numberless vouchers as to their eligibility, no doubt a large membership will be secured.

The first session of the fifth annual convention of the Wasco county Christian Endeavor Union will be held in the Christian church Friday evening, Sept. 30th at 7:30. The exercises for that evening will be the address of welcome by George Ernest Stewart responded to by James Powell. The best of music is being prepared, and by special request Rev. W. V. Boltz will repeat his sermon entitled, "Jesus in Touch With Humanity." Everybody is invited and the church should be filled to hear Rev. Boltz' very interesting sermon. The convention will continue through Saturday and Sunday.

A dispatch from Port Townsend says: "All arrivals from Dawson during the past month have reported health conditions in Dawson as something most deplorable, and a death rate ranging from five to seventeen per day. It is estimated that about 9000 people joined the rush to Stewart river. Nearly every foot of available ground has been prospected, but no gold was found." Private letters received here confirm these reports, and warn friends not to come. A letter received from Neal Boyer says that though big wages are paid, it takes every cent to live and keep up the expenses of prospecting.

John Buckingham, aged 17 years, was killed in a peculiar manner near Douglas, Gilliam county, one day last week. He was hauling wheat, and was thrown from the seat of the wagon in some way. He fell with his neck just under the wheel, which ran upon it, his hold upon the lines causing the team to stop, choking him to death in the dust of the road. The driver of the wagon behind stopped not suspecting anything wrong, and waited five or ten minutes, when Guy Nott came along and saw what had happened. They rolled the wagon from the young man's neck and found him dead. Young Buckingham's mother and two uncles live near Huntington. The body was buried at Olney.

Some of the friends of a certain well-known and popular sheepman, who yesterday started for his home some miles from The Dalles, have become somewhat concerned as to his safe arrival at the end of his journey. Yesterday he was seen by many to walk up Second street with a suspicious-looking bottle under each arm, and as "guilty conscience needs no accuser," his friend's concern arises from the fact that he stopped every few moments and explained to one and another the contents of the "load" he was carrying, saying it was developing fluid to be used by his wife on her kodak pictures. For our part we see no reason for concern, and are inclined to think it was selfish motives which prompted it. Had they been included in the development of the contents of the bottles their spirits would not have been so depressed over the fate of their friend.

CUBA AND THE CUBANS.

Dr. Thomas' Lecture At the Christian Church Tonight.

Mr. George E. Knepper, president of the Normal College at Lewiston, Idaho, has the following to say in favor of Dr. Thomas, who will deliver his famous lecture on "Cuba and the Cubans" at the Christian church this evening.

"Dr. C. N. Thomas lectured under the auspices of the Normal Literary Society at Lewiston, Idaho, on September 19, 1898. The lecture was satisfactory in every respect. He leaves Lewiston carrying with him the highest appreciation of the large audience that heard him." Geo. E. KNEPPER, Pres. Normal College, Lewiston, Idaho.

THE TRIALS OF THE TRAVELER.

Particularly Those of the Woman With a Family, a Bird Cage and a Bandbox.

The delayed train this morning was side-tracked and the passengers took breakfast at the Umatilla House, stopping for about twenty minutes. In the meantime the Spokane train arrived, and as it drew up at the hotel several became somewhat confused, and thinking it was their train boarded it as it pulled out. Conductor Glendenning, however, informed an observer that such would be left at Hood River, that they might take their own train as it passed a few minutes later.

If there is a time in a person's life when wits seem to desert them and the power to control one's self and stop and calculate fails, it is when traveling. No matter how experienced a traveler or how cool and collected we may be, the sight of a train when one is interested in their movements seems to "rattle" us, and we immediately begin to ask questions. After gathering together our belongings (in the case of a man, a tooth brush and a comb in one pocket, a tie and a collar peeping out from the other; if it be a female traveler, numberless valises, a band box, umbrella, bird cage, and what not, besides a half dozen children) we start for the train and reach the depot a half hour before it is due, and in case it is late, three hours. Following the movements of the female (some of them) she pulls out a red silk handkerchief full of cookies and feeds the children, after which their faces are washed, then begins walking up and down the walk in front of the station, accosting every man she meets with the questions: "Is the train late?" "How late?" "Does this train go to Pumpkinville?" etc.

At length the big engine pulls in and with the aid of several gentlemen, she and her's are deposited on the train, which is invariably crowded, and there is a scramble for seats, in which the poor woman, with a baby in her arms, stands no show whatever. However, thanks to some kind-hearted man (and many such are found on railroad trains, in spite of the cranks we often hear mentioned) the family are at length settled, and the conductor arrives, when another list of questions is propounded: "Is this the train to Pumpkinville?" "How soon do we arrive there?" "Will you help me up home in case John ain't there to meet me?" etc. And so the drama proceeds until the above named station is reached, when, good-natured, unburned John, who is only too anxious for the arrival of the train, for which he has been waiting since sun-up, makes his appearance, and with a broad smile on his countenance, gathers the little brood under his protecting wing and the troubles of the poor distracted traveler are at an end, for a good long while, at least, for one such trips in a life time is sufficient.

INTENSE SUFFERING

From Dyspepsia and Stomach Trouble.

Instantly Relieved and Permanently Cured by Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

A New Discovery, But Not a Patent Medicine.

Dr. Redwell relates an interesting account of what he considers a remarkable cure of acute stomach trouble and chronic dyspepsia by the use of the new discovery, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

He says: The patient was a man who had suffered to my knowledge for years with dyspepsia. Everything he ate seemed to sour and create acid and gases in the stomach; he had pains like rheumatism in the back, shoulder blades and limbs, fullness and distress after eating, poor appetite and loss of flesh; the heart became affected, causing palpitation and sleeplessness at night.

I gave him powerful nerve tonics and blood remedies, but to no purpose. As an experiment I finally bought a fifty-cent package of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets at a drug store and gave them to him. Almost immediately relief was given and after he had used four boxes he was to all appearances fully cured.

There was no more acidity or sour watery risings, no bloating after meals, the appetite was vigorous and he had gained between ten and twelve pounds in weight, of solid, healthy flesh.

Although Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are advertised and sold in drug stores, yet I consider them a most valuable addition to any physician's line of remedies, as they are perfectly harmless and can be given to children or invalids or in any condition of the stomach with perfect safety, being harmless and containing nothing but vegetable and fruit essences, pure pepsin and Golden Seal.

Without any question they are the safest, most effective cure for indigestion, biliousness, constipation and all derangements of the stomach however slight or severe.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are made by the Stuart Co., of Marshall, Mich., and sold by druggists everywhere at fifty cents a package.

Little book on stomach diseases mailed free. Address Stuart Co., Marshall, Michigan.
