This morning word was received in Salem announcing the death of the wife of Governor-elect Geer, and the legislature adjourned until 3 o'clock out of respect for the deceased.

It has been decided to close the district fair with a grand ball, which will be held Saturday evening, October 22d. Some of our Dalles young men have taken the matter in hand, which insures its success.

A telegram received by Mr. Kurtz from Representative Roberts, says that the sturgeon bill as passed will not effect the waters of the Columbia above tide water, which we understand does not extend farther than Bonneville, even at high tide.

J. E. Cottingham, a well-known character in our city, is wearing his arm in a sling, having fractured his shoulder by falling on a pile of rocks behind his cabin Tuesday evening. This accident is very hard on Mr. Cottingham on account of his age and ill health.

The race track is a favorite place for roadsters now, and every morning some fine races take place; but it is difficult to learn the winner, each one claiming that proud distinction. Mr. Mack informs us that all of the circuit horses which are now at La Grande will be here during the fair, and some fine races may be expected.

Mrs. Dr. Frank, eye specialist, carries the largest stock of artificial human eyes this side of New York City. Any one wearing an artificial eye will be able to get an improvement on any former fit and will have no trouble in using it. The doctor's office is room 38, directly over U. S. Land office in the Chapman block. Entrance from Washington street.

Among the stereopticon views which were shown at the exposition in Portland on Native Sons' night was a very fine view of Victor Trevitt's monument, on Memaloose island. This picture was taken by Dr. Doane, and the members of the order of Native Sons in our city had it sent down for the occasion, as the new cabin was named for this well-known pioneer.

At Fraternity hall Saturday night will be given a phonograph concert, which is said to be a novel as well as a pleasing entertainment, as every selection can be heard distinctly all over the house. The proceeds are for the benefit of the G. A. R. and W. R. C. of this city, and for this reason no doubt there will be a large attendance. Admission 25 cents; children 15 cents.

The bill, which was passed by the legislature, to pay $1.50 per day to the "boys" who volunteered for service in the war with Spain and were rejected on account of physical disability, for the time from date of enlistment to date of rejection, is a graceful act of compensation to the young men who were disappointed through no fault of theirs in not reaching the goal of their patriotic ambition.

Prof. J. M. Garrison of Forest Grove, who has for the past twenty years filled the chair of penmanship in Pacific University, returns to The Dalles by invitation and announces a business course in writing to be given at the high school beginning next Monday afternoon and evening. Mr. Garrison and his work are well known to our readers. We recall some of our brightest writers who have been members of his classes.

The Misses MacDonald, who are introducing the Swedish system of facial massage in our city, come very highly recommended by society ladies of Portland to their friends here. This is the latest and most scientific of all complexion treatment and our ladies would do well to call upon them at room 48 in the Chapman block. They will give free treatment every afternoon for a week that they may introduce this excellent system here.

At the monthly business meeting of the Epworth League, which was held last evening, the following officers were elected for the ensuing six months: Edwin Hill, president; Miss Constance Wheelton, first vice-president; Mrs. E. J. Collins, second vice-president; Mrs.

E. Hill, third vice-president; Miss M. Collins, fourth vice-president; Mr. C. H. Brown, secretary; Miss M. Wheelton, treasurer; Miss L. Cooley, chorister; Miss E. Randall, organist.

Yesterday being the fifth anniversary of the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Collins, the ladies of the Good Intent Society spent the afternoon at their home on Tenth street. The business of the society was hurriedly dispatched and the remainder of the afternoon spent in social converse. As the meeting drew to a close the president, Mrs. S. Bolton, in a very graceful manner presented Mrs. Collins with a handsome picture representing the Madonna, at the same time conveying to her the hearty congratulations and best wishes of the society.

Last night's east-bound train was four hours late, arriving at 4 o'clock this morning. The delay was caused by the wreck in Portland. This morning's west-bound passenger, which is due at 3:50, had not arrived as we go to press, but will probably reach here about 5 o'clock. Five of the cars on the west-bound freight, which was in advance of the passenger, jumped the track about a mile above Seufert's cannery, causing a very bad wreck, but no one was injured. At noon the wrecking train was sent to the scene, and the passenger was held at Biggs until the track was cleared.

About 140 delegates attending the grand lodge, K. of P., in Portland, and sixty-five took the grand lodge degree. Grand Orator Yates being absent, Judge Bradshaw, of this city, read the grand oration. He was also honored by being elected to the third highest office in the gift of the the lodge.
