Hear the Lafayette entertainment to-night.

The German specialist will return to the city and remain December 1st, 2d and 3d.

Marriage license was today granted to Oliver Bowers and Ida L. Ganger, both of The Dalles.

The contract has been let by Seufert & Condon for the new telephone line between Dufur and Tygh.

A slight blaze occurred at the house owned by Dr. Hollister, and adjoining his residence, yesterday afternoon, the walk in the back yard catching fire from sparks from the laundry near by. The fire was extinguished by a small garden hose.

The Lafayette entertainment this evening at the Vogt, judging from the amount of work the teachers have been doing in preparing it, and their past reputation in this regard, will be extra good. Admission 15 cents; children 10 cents.

One dozen of those extra finish Platino Fotos, made by Gifford, will make you twelve fine presents for Christmas. Nothing would be appreciated more, and now is the time to sit for them. Don't put it off too long and then expect to have them finished in time.

Yesterday afternoon when Lulu, daughter of L. L. Hill, was playing in the school yard of the old Academy building she stepped into a hole in the ground, which could not be noticed for the growth of grass, and falling broke her left wrist. The fall was slight, but seemed to be just in the right way to cause the accident.

Tomorrow will be missionary day at the Methodist Sunday school, and aside from the regular exercises, a paper will be read written by Miss Foster, the missionary who visited the city during the convention, and a recitation given by Anita Bennett. The parents of the pupils and friends of the school are invited to be present.

Little Grover Bonn is starting in life in the right manner, and yesterday presented the young ladies of the CURRICULAR force with a basket of sweetwater grapes, which were gathered from the vines at his home on the hill. If Grover continue in the course he now pursues by the time he is a young man he will be a favorite with the girls, and not only grapes, but ice cream and oyster fries will come in for their share of attention.

Much has been said and much interest taken in the new hull of the Regulator. From Agent Allaway we learn the program for tomorrow, which is as follows:

The Sarah Dixon will make an extra trip to the Cascades, taking the Hattie Belle from there to Bonneville. The Dalles City will tow the Regulator hull from Kelly's Landing to Cascades and return to Portland with the Hattie Belle in tow. Last, but not least, "Sarah" will bring the new hull of the Regulator and the old hull of the Dalles City to The Dalles. That is the "hull" thing in a nutshell.

The pastor of the M. E. church especially requests that all probationers of the church, as well as members in full connection, with those who are in sympathy with the church, be present at the morning service tomorrow. The subject which he expects to bring before them is not of a financial character, but one which is of interest to all in connection with the church.

Mr. Simpson, the telephone operator at Canyon City, informs us that the first report that went abroad last week regarding the Indian trouble in Grant county, was erroneous to a great extent and that parties returning from the "seat of war" say that only one Indian was killed and another slightly wounded. Geo. Cutting was the only white man killed, and that no particular Indian scare was experienced by the citizens around Ilee. The affair has, however, stirred up bad blood between the settlers and the Indians, and more trouble may ensue.—Heppner Times.

This morning word reached here of the death of Charles Shanks yesterday at Starbuck, Wash. His death was caused indirectly from typhoid fever. The body will be brought to this city, reaching here in the morning. It cannot be positively said at what time the funeral will be held until the train arrives and arrangements are made known. Mr. Shanks was about 45 years old and formerly resided in The Dalles, being employed at the shops as boiler maker under John Albright. His friends cannot say positively, but are of the opinion that he is a member of the Workmen and Foresters of America.

Among the names of the boys in Manila to whom Christmas boxes have been forwarded by the Emergency Corps of Portland for relatives and friends, appears that of Admiral Dewey. This box was sent by an old lady in Oregon who failed to leave her name. It contained large, red Oregon apples raised by the good old lady who picked each one and carefully packed them and brought them to town. She had no boy of her own there, and thinking Admiral Dewey might be an orphan boy, or that his friends might forget him, thereby causing him to spend a gloomy Christmas, she determined to send him the apples. If they will stand the trip, which is more than doubtful, it is safe to predict that the hero of Manila will have as good a time as any of the soldier boys when the boxes arrive, and we believe among all the presents Admiral Dewey receives he will not fail to appreciate the gift of the dear old lady.

An exhibition of cool nerve was given last Thursday evening on 3-Mile which discounts many of which our cities can boast. Parties, who were more than sociably inclined, drove into the orchard of David Creighton and proceeded to load themselves down with apples, not considering it necessary to wait for an invitation to make themselves at home. A neighbor and one of Mr. Creighton's men who came upon the scene ventured to inquire as to their authority for such proceedings, whereupon one of the men drew a revolver and politely asked him to step aside and let them pass. Not caring to argue the question, under the circumstances, they were allowed to drive out, and no hint as to who they might be has since been obtained. However, Mr. Creighton being an honest, good-hearted man, and desirous of recognizing grit wherever he finds it, wishes to inform them that they left a basket behind, which they may have upon inquiring at his farm on 3-Mile.

A "Lo" Fight.

The noble red man is making himself known in these parts of late, and last night distinguished himself by getting into a drunken fight. A number of Warm Springs Indians were in the city yesterday, and many of them left last evening. This morning about 2 o'clock the nightwatchman was informed that an Indian had been found in the feed yard in the East End of town who was very badly injured and needing assistance. He immediately went up and found Joe Kulup, of Warm Springs, in an unconscious condition with a dreadful gash in his head, which looked as if it might have been made with a pick. He was unable to talk to Dr. Hollister, who attended him, but from all that can be found out, the si-washes had been quarreling, with the above result.

This morning an Indian was arrested and has spent the day in jail. However, Marshal Lauer feels pretty sure he is not the guilty man, and it is thought some of those who left last night are responsible for the deed. The injured man will probably not survive, his skull being badly fractured.

It's Human Nature.

This readiness to accept the wonderful and miraculous in preference to commonplace truth. A plausible and glib-tongued doctor can go from town to town curing, or trying to cure, people, and have a great influx of shekels, while every community in which the so-called doctor goes is supplied with quiet, learned practitioners, who have forgotten more than the fakir ever learned, and they can give you the best treatment within the reach of human knowledge. While your home doctors carry you from year to year, get up at all times of the night and are your servants during the day, and you pay them when you are well or able, the fakir gets the cash, and is gone forever. If your eyes are troubling you in any way, call on Prof. P. G. Daut, the only graduated optician or doctor of refraction in The Dalles, two doors west of Keller's bakery. I am here to stay, and guarantee all eye work. Prof. P. G. DAUT.

MANILA AS SHE IS.

Soldier Boys Don't Like It—How They Were Treated.

A number of letters were received in the city this morning from our boys at Manila, and their contents were eagerly devoured by their relatives and friends. One received by H. D. Parkins from A. E. Trask is very interesting and gives a good idea of the life of the boys there.

He says they are anxious to get home, but nothing definite as to when they can return can be determined, some say before Christmas; others not for two years. He is not enthusiastic over Manila. Says it is too warm and the water very poor. When the troops reached there it was the dirtiest place imaginable, but the Americans compelled the residents to clean up the city. The people, he says, are no good, and, worse, are full of diseases of all description, leprosy included. Beside, they are about two hundred years behind the times, the only things modern being electric lights and telephones, and those are the first invented.

There is not so much sickness among the troops there as the boys had in Cuba, only one man being lost out of Company L—Will Field. Fred Kennedy and Jim Elton were in the hospital when he wrote on Oct. 3d, but were not dan-generously ill. Many of the boys are "dumpy," but able to drill.

Referring to their trip over on the Australia, he says: "We were treated like dogs. I have often fed hogs better than we were fed. The supplies put on board for us we never saw unless we paid for them. Yes, we did see them, but they were on the table in the cabin. The donation of tobacco made by the Darham company we also paid for, and after my money was gone I went without a smoke. Beside, we went to bed many a night hungry."

Letters published in the Oregonian recently verify these statements, and make the blood of every citizen boil as he thinks of the manner in which our boys have been treated. Many of them, indeed most of them, were from homes of luxury, and their bravery and patriotism in leaving all for their country is thus rewarded. The question arises, why should it follow that because a man is a private in an army, no matter what his previous record may be, he is to be placed on a level with the lower animals and be lorded over by men with whom, in the every day walks of life, perhaps, he would not deign to associate?
