Special sale of men's clothing at Pease & Mays'.

The streets are decidedly muddy; but 'tis better to have them muddy now and reap the benefit of the rains which caused them later on.

Where money will buy most and best: Pease & Mays' special sale.

Remember that tomorrow the ladies of the Lutheran church will have on sale at Nickelsen's store, all kinds of pastry and goodies for your Thanksgiving dinner. Call on them.

What Pease & Mays advertise to sell, they sell as they advertise.

The dance to be given Thanksgiving night at the Vogt will be strictly first-class in every respect. Music will be furnished by the orchestra and supper will be served up in style.

See the clothing bargains at Pease & Mays' before buying.

Services in the Lutheran church on Thanksgiving morning at 11 o'clock. Special music in keeping with the day will be rendered by a male quartet. A soprano solo will also be given.

Splendid bargains in men's clothing at Pease & Mays'.

The clouds lifted this afternoon and the sun came out to see what we were doing. We expected he would want us to put in a local notice for sun baths, but after glancing at our column of shorts, he took pity on us.

The special clothing sale at Pease & Mays' ought to interest you.

Work on the valves of the locks was so far completed yesterday as to have enabled the boats to pass through; but on account of having made arrangements to transfer passengers, fearing that they could not go through, the transfer was made.

Consult your own interest and see the clothing bargains at Pease & Mays'.

Sunday night there were three baptisms at the Christian church, and two persons will be baptized this evening, having made confession. Rev. Boltz has recently organized a church at Wind river, with thirty-one additions and twenty-one conversions.

Pease & Mays are selling $12.50 overcoats for $8.65.

The force at Maier & Benton's store has been somewhat demolished for the past few days, Henry Bills being confined to his room with rheumatism, and Harry Gordion being laid up with mumps, which seem to have quite a sway in the city at present.

If we please you, tell others; if not, tell us. Pease & Mays.

This afternoon the first feeling of penitence or regret was shown that has been displayed during this term of court. As Wm. Daly was being sentenced to two years in the penitentiary for burglary he was deeply moved, and as he walked out of the court room his eyes were filled with tears. Such feeling is commendable.

Pease & Mays are showing bargains. Don't say we didn't tell you.

A patriotic entertainment and social will be given by the Endeavor Society of the Christian church next Friday night. As these energetic young people usually render interesting programs, it is quite certain that those who attend will not be disappointed. Admission 15 cents.

Men's $12 suits are sold by Pease & Mays for $7.85.

A nice little rain has visited this section, and caused the grass on the hills to become perceptibly greener, and the smile on the faces of the somewhat anxious stockmen correspondingly brighter. A couple more such showers and the pasture on the range will afford very fair picking before winter sets in. —Heppner Times.

Pease & Mays will continue their special sale of men's clothing.

In accordance with the recommendation of civil and ecclesiastical authority, services will be held at St. Paul's Episcopal church on Thursday next at 10:30 a. m. The musical program to be rendered on the occasion will be published in tomorrow's paper. The offering will be given to Good Samaritan Hospital, of Portland, an institute which ministers to hundreds of afflicted and homeless. Notice is given this early of this service and offering that those who prefer to worship with said church may be prepared, being duly notified.

Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Sargent this morning received an invitation to be present at the christening of the battleship Wisconsin, which will take place on Saturday next. The official party left Milwaukee last Saturday and will stop at Tacoma and Portland. Miss Elizabeth Stephenson, daughter of ex-Congressman Stephenson of Wisconsin, who will christen the Wisconsin, is a niece of Mrs. Sargent, and she is accompanied by her father and five other members of the family, so that it would be great pleasure to Mr. and Mrs. Sargent to join them on the trip to San Francisco and enjoy the festivities. However they find it impossible to do so.

Speaking of cruelty to animals, why not mention the shameful manner in which the most useful and noble of all beasts are treated by their inhuman owners. They are lacerated on the slightest provocation, while the blood of lookers-on fairly boils with indignation.

Then, too little thought seems to be given to the amount which they are supposed to be able to haul, and they fairly sink under the weight imposed upon them. Added to all this, the poor animal is supposed to stand for an indefinite time tied to some neighboring post in all kinds of weather and without a mouthful of food or a drink of water. Let us have a humane society and put a stop to these outrages.

FORESTER CAPTURED IN NEVADA

Philip Brogan's Murderer Will be Brought to Justice.

It is a difficult matter in this day and age, to avoid the vigilance of the officers of the law and to escape the penalty of a crime committed. He who attempts it may succeed for a time, but "murder will out" and his whereabouts be at length discovered. Last evening Sheriff Kelly received a telegram from officers in Nevada saying that they were on Forester's track and expected to capture him that night, requesting at the same time that the warrant for his arrest be sent. He immediately wired them to secure him, and the warrant would be forth coming.

After spending a restless night the sheriff hastened to his office early this morning only to find that no word had been received during the night. But a little later came the following dispatch: WINNEMUCA, Nev., Nov. 22, 1898. Sheriff Robt. Kelly, The Dalles, Or.: We have Forester arrested. He acknowledges crime. Wire warrant and you can come for him right away. He waives requisition. W. McDEER, Sheriff.

The warrant was telegraphed at once, and Sheriff Kelly, accompanied by Mr. Ed Glisan, will leave on the early morning train on their way to secure Forester and bring him to justice.

A Timely Suggestion.

TO THE EDITOR: Your appeal to the citizens of The Dalles in behalf of the burned out people of Canyon City should surely awaken a quick and hearty response. Quick, because winter is upon us. Hearty, because, so to speak, they are our next neighbors. Let us fancy for a moment our stores of pillows, blankets and winter clothes suddenly taken from us, and then quickly do as we would be done by. We hope those who know most about Canyon City and the best means of getting our contributions into the best hands for distribution, will come forward with their counsel at least. There is surely no time for delay. M Court News.

In the case of the State vs. Henry Snipes charged with perjury the grand jury brought in a true bill. The grand jury brought in not a true bill in the case of the State vs. Joe Aubin and Raymond Chaves, charged with complicity in the killing of Phil. Brogan. The case of Mrs. M. J. Mosier vs. the O. R. & N. Co., a suit to recover damages, is before the court today. This afternoon the jury went to Mosier to view the premises and will return on the evening train. A. S. Bennett appears for the plaintiff, while Wirt Minor, of the firm of Cotton, Teal and Minor, of Portland represents the defendant.

Funeral of Mrs. Wm. Condon. The funeral services of Mrs. Wm. Condon were held at the family residence, on Fifth and Union streets, this afternoon at 2 o'clock, when a very large number of friends were present to show the high regard in which their deceased friend was held and pay their last tribute of respect to her whose sweet disposition had won their affections.

Rev. Wood very appropriately chose as his text these words, "Her sun has gone down while it was yet day." During his remarks he said while to us it seemed unnatural that such should be the case, and though we cannot see the justice of the sun going down on such a young life, yet we can rest on the mercy of our Heavenly Father. We can be comforted with the thought that what seems sunset to us is really sunrise for her and brightness before her. Sunset always casts some rays behind, inviting those who sorrow here to follow in her footsteps, thus eventually reaching the fullest sunrise of the shore beyond. He spoke beautifully of the life and character of her whom today we mourn.

The choir sang "There's a Wideness in God's Mercy," "Nearer my God to Thee," "Shall We Gather at the River" and "God be With You Till We Meet Again." The two former hymns were special favorites, and often sung by her whose voice now blends with those of the celestial choir.

The funeral was attended by the alumni of Wasco Independent Academy in a body, and the pall bearers were L. Porter, E. C. Pease, T. A. Seufert, J. C. Hostetler, T. Butler and N. Sinnott.

It's Human Nature. This readiness to accept the wonderful and miraculous in preference to commonplace truth. A plausible and glib-tongued doctor can go from town to town curing, or trying to cure, people, and have a great influx of shakels, while every community in which the so-called doctor goes is supplied with quiet, learned practitioners, who have forgotten more than the fakir ever learned, and they can give you the best treatment within the reach of human knowledge. While your home doctors carry you from year to year, get up at all times of the night and are your servants during the day, and you pay them when you are well or able, the fakir gets the cash, and is gone forever. If your eyes are troubling you in any way, call on Prof. P. G. Daut, the only graduated optician or doctor of refraction in The Dalles, two doors west of Keller's bakery. I am here to stay, and guarantee all eye work. Prof. P. G. Daut.

The speech of Father Abraham in the last number of Poor Richard's Almanac, published by Benjamin Franklin in 1757, "Contains the Wisdom of many ages and nations assembled and formed into one connected discourse." When first published it attracted world wide attention and was copied in all the newspapers in America and England and translated into many foreign languages. Would you not like to read it?
